Huge U. S. School Aid Program Is Proposed

Annual Cost $2.5 Billion In Tax Funds

NEW YORK (AP) —A vast program of federal aid to schools, amounting to nearly $2.5 billion annually, was proposed to President-elect John F. Kennedy Friday by his special task force on education.

It said the outlay would "lift the schools to a new level of excellence."

KENNEDY COMMENTS

"State and local governments alone cannot provide the funds needed," the report said. "Federal support is required."

Commenting on the report, Kennedy told newsmen: "I don't know whether we have the resources immediately to take on the whole program. We'll have to decide the degree of need and set up a list of priorities."

The president-elect added he thought the report "illuminated various areas that need consideration by Congress."

The money would be allocated in the form of loans and grants to the states, with local school authorities permitted to spend it on teacher salaries, school construction or other purposes to improve education.

The report, drawn up by a group headed by Dr. Frederick Hovde, president of Purdue University, recommended three different plans for outright grants to the nation's schools.

One would provide schools in all states a blanket $30 a year per pupil, based on average daily attendance. This would cost an estimated $1.2 billion.

Another plan would provide an additional $20 per year per child in states where incomes are below

Navy Begins Cuba Airlift For Citizens

More Than 100 Americans Will Fly To Florida

MIAMI (UPI) — The Navy began operating a "mercy airlift" Friday to bring in American citizens from eastern Cuba where they had been stranded by the severance of diplomatic relations.

About 90 persons, some of them naturalized U. S. citizens of Cuban birth, were brought into Miami International Airport aboard three planes. They had assembled at Guantanamo navel base for the shipments.

FLIGHTS CONTINUES

The American Red Cross announced there would be more unscheduled flights from Guantanamo this weekend, bringing more evacuaees to Miami as they arrived at the base. Local Red Cross workers were asked to go on 24-hour duty at the airport to meet them and offer help as they arrived.

Aboard the last plane Friday was Bernard Femminella, vice consul at Santiago, Cuba. He was met by his wife, who had flown from Cuba to Hollywood, Fla., earlier.

Femminella said the consul, G. Harvey Summ, was staying behind in Santiago until he could turn over all his affairs to a Swiss representative there.

Leading the first group of 30, mostly women and children was Mrs. Caridad Oliva Wilkinson, a 79-year-old widow, who angrily denounced Cuban Premier Fidel Castro in three languages.

Riding in a wheelchair with a Pekingese named Bijou on her blanketed lap, Mrs. Wilkinson, went in Spanish, French and English, declared:

"They took all the houses on my farms. They burned the sugar cane and said I did it."

Aboard the twin-engine Navy Convair, piloted by Navy Lt. Joe Rogers of Las Vegas, the widow told Navy medical corpsman George Mathews of Douglas, Ga., sent along to help her, that "Fidel told us to get out or he would do this" — then she drew her index finger across her throat in a cutting motion.

Kennedy Gets Briefing From Rusk On Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State - designate Dean Rusk gave President-elect John F. Kennedy a 90-minute briefing Friday night on the world situation, including the crises in Cuba and Laos.

"Mr. Rusk brought me up to date on matters of foreign policy affecting the transition (in administration)," Kennedy told newsmen after the conference at his Georgetown home.

Asked whether the matters included this country's diplomatic break with Cuba and the fighting in Laos, the president-eléct nodded and said: "The whole spectrum of foreign affairs."

He said they also "reached some decisions" on appointments to high posts in the State Department, which Rusk will take over Jan. 20.

The Kennedy-Rusk talks came shortly after outgoing Secretary of State Christian A. Herter reported that the United States now wants the International Control Commission to return to Laos in an effort to end the Far East fighting that has threatened world peace.

Herter disclosed the U.S. policy change in giving the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a 2-hour and 20-minute report on the situations in Laos, Cuba, Africa and other world hotspots. Senators called his report "not too encouraging."

Five Men Die In Plane Crash

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. (UPI)—Five men, one a Los Angeles businessman who once cheated death on an African big game hunt, were killed Friday when their-engine private plane crashed 50 feet from a busy freeway

Richard Curtis Colyear, 49, Hollywood, board chairman of Colyear Motor Sales Co., was identified as among those injured fatally when the Beechcraft Bonanza struck a power line and crashed shortly after takeoff from Los Angeles International Airport.

Two years ago, Colyear, his wife and a son, Richard Jr., were in Nairobi, East Africa, to hunt wild elephants when he was charged by an enranged rhino. A native gunbearer fired his gun, but struck and seriously wounded Colyear.

19 Die In Hotel Fire, Many Hurt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nineteen persons, mostly aged pensioners, died Friday when a pre-dawn fire in a tenant's mattress turned a cheap downtown hotel into a torch.

Nearly 40 persons were injured, two critically.

The tenant, Raymond Gorman, 62, escaped almost unharmed. He was booked by police on a charge of manslaughter.

Lt. George Kelly of the arson squad said Gorman admitted he had been drinking heavily.

STARTS IN ROOM

Fire started in his room on the ground floor of the Thomas Hotel at 971 Mission St.

Gorman denied smoking in bed. John Saylor, who lived in a room next to Gorman, said he had almost put out a fire in Gorman's smoldering mattress minutes before the room burst into flames and the four-story hotel blazed up like a giant torch.

It was San Francisco's worst fire in 16 years.

Flames shooting up an elevator shaft trapped tenants on the upper floors. Some jumped or slid down bedsheets. Others were rescued by policemen smashing down locked doors; by firemen wearing gas masks, or from ladders outside the smoke-filled building.

Six jumped into safety nets. One net burst into flames as a tenant hit it.

Those of the 135 tenants who got out alive from the 160-room hotel shivered in 36-degree temperature in nightclothes. San Francisco's coldest temperature ever was 29 degrees in 1888.

Most of the dead were trapped in their rooms. Others died fleeing the flames. Among them was

Stories

A party of men got together in Monroe on a recent night and each had to tell a true story of past experiences. When Jes' Ramblin' was reached he had to take his turn. He told of early newspaper experiences when, with some of his dad's money, he bought a small weekly newspaper in Superior, Wis. This city is opposite the flourishing city of Duluth.

Being a Yankee, native of New England, we found we had to undergo some rough winter life in a new country for a New Englander. One thing we declared we'd never do, - that was to wear a cap that covered the ears completely.

We fought off all offers of caps and braved the northern most area of the map. It went all right for a few times, then quite bold we set forth with the temperature far far below zero. It was to be only a little walk but we went only a short distance when ears began to tingle. But a little later they ceased to give pain.

We entered a house where a room was well - heated and then the fun started. Our left ear was giving us fits. Ice was required and one who knew saw that the ailing ear was well treated to this item.

Well we lived through it but the ear swelled as big as three ears and all the outer covering of skin had to be replaced.

LEGISLATIVE PROBE

LSU Petitions Ask 'Freedom Of Fear'

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Petitions signed by 117 faculty members at Louisiana State University Friday demanded freedom from "an atmosphere of fear" in the threatened legislative probe of LSU."

The investigation for subversive elemenst was authorized a few weeks ago after lawmakers were angered by the letter of Prof. Waldo McNeir.

The profeessor of English, who last week submitted his resignation, had branded the legislature's fight against school integration a national scandal.

LSU has approximately 650 faculty members. The petitions were presented to Lt. Gov. C. C. Aycock's office and House Speaker Tom Jewell's office.

About two weeks ago, 700 LSU students gave them petitions voicing similar protests against what they termed a threat to academic freedom.

The petition of the 117, which includes the signatures of professors and assistant professors, including McNeir's, asserted they wished "to exercise our fundamental right to express our opinions concerning matters affecting the welfare of the university. We do this, convinced that this action is in the best interest of our institution."

The petitioners said they recognized the right and duty of the legislature to conduct investigations "of our university."

"When, however, its actions curtail freedom of expression or create an atmosphere of fear, it does a great disservice to the university and to the state which it serves."

Navy Worker Invokes 5th On Probers

Civilian Refuses To Tell Source Of Large Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top civilian employe of the Navy at Brooklyn, N.Y., refused Friday to tell Senate probers the source of almost $100,000 they said he spent between 1955 to 1959.

George P. Cross invoked Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination when asked to produce bank records.

PROBE DEALS

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., claimed the records would explain alleged business deals by Cross with real estate, automobile, stock and other firms.

But Cross insisted he had done nothing wrong in connection with his job as deputy maintenance and repair officer and superintending port engineer for the Military Sea Transportation Service at Brooklyn.

"I don't think anything was brought out which will show I have done anything wrong in my official capacity," Cross said after the Senate Investigating subcommittee recessed for lunch. "I don't expect anything will be."

Cross said he had no intention of resigning the job which carries a top salary of $13,633 yearly.

The subcommittee is investigating alleged payoffs by ship repair contractors to MSTS employes at Brooklyn. McClellan has said payoffs for improper inspections could endanger the safety of crews and passengers aboard the ships MSTS operates.

Cross, identified by subcommittee counsel Donald F. O'Donnell as the top civilian employe at the MSTS base, told the subcommittee he was prepared to say under FARMERVILLE — Woody D. Day, 71, retired gasoline worker of route two, Marion, was killed Friday at 4:10 p.m. 2.7 miles west of Sterlington in Union Parish at the intersection of Louisiana Highway 143 and Louisiana Highway 2.

The vehicle in which he and his wife were riding slammed into a pulpwood truck.

Day was driving a 1950 model pickup truck, traveling east on Highway 143. He ran head-on into a pulpwood truck driven by Sidney T. Johnson, route one, Bernice, according to state police who investigated the wreck.

State police said witnesses stated that Day pulled into the right front fender of the pulpwood truck which was traveling west on Highway two toward Farmerville.

She was carried by a passing motorist to Jones Clinic at Sterlington.

Day died at the scene of the accident from multiple injuries of the head and left chest, Dr. Jones E Booth, acting crooner, stated.

Day's body was brought to Kilpatrick Funeral Home here by ambulance.

Funeral services were incomplete last night.

Surviving are his widow and four daughters.

Clouds, Rain Expected Today

Temperatures will be mild with a daytime high expected at 58. The overnight low will be about 40 degrees.

Friday the mercury hit a 57-degree high mark and dipped to a low of 38.

Winds today will be easterly at six to 14 miles per hour.

Deal On Tax Share Denied By Retailers

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A Louisiana Retailers Association official denied any deal with Gov. Jimmie H. Davis after the House Friday passed 74-0 the governor's bill giving retailers a larger slice of sales tax collections.

Dudley A. Buyas, mayor of Gonzales and executive secretary of the association, issued a prepared statement after the House vote.

SENT TO SENATE

The bill was sent to the Senate, where it was assigned to the administration's Judiciary B Committee for a hearing next week.

The bill would raise from two per cent to three per cent the share of sales taxes retailers are allowed for collection expenses. The change would last for eight months, the same period as the one cent sales tax increase sought by Davis.

The retailers group in the past has actively opposed every tax raise move. This time it didn't. It also repeatedly has attempted to gain the three per cent allowance, claiming that is the nation average.

During floor debate, Rep. John Lewis, Beauregard Parish, had asked whether the extra allowance for merchants was being granted "so that the merchants won't fight this tax?"

Buyas told reporters: "There was no deal made with the governor, and I, as a staff member of the association, have no authority to make any deals of my own."

Buyas said the association had asked Davis if he would go along with the one per cent increase after the governor announced plans for his sales tax raise.

"We have notified all our members, we asked them to contact their senators and representatives and give their individual views on the sales tax," he said. "We've opposed every tax raise bill during the previous administration."

Liberals May Lose On Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen predicted Friday that liberals eventually will lose out in their efforts to empower a majority of the Senate to halt a filibuster.

He offered no guess, however, as to whether they will be able to impose the less stringent method by which three-fifths of those present and voting could limit debate.

The Illinois senator offered his views as the Senate spent part of its day in unspectacular debate on the rules issue. The senators have agreed to a showdown on the three - fifths proposal next week, and Dirksen said he believed this would come to Wednesday.

SOLONS ADJOURN

No Senate Vote Recorded On Tax

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, still short of votes to pass the one-cent sales tax for private schools, sent the Legislature home Friday until Tuesday night.

The Senate, following the pattern of the House, proved to be a stumbling block for Davis administration as the governor's leaders were unable to muster enough votes to pass the tax.

Actually, the tax bill was not brought up for a vote in the Senate, but was returned to the calendar — subject to call — since there weren't enough votes to pass it.

The House, which rejected the tax the first time it was voted on, approved the measure by only one vote to spare Wednesday, 69-31. A two-thirds majority is required for tax bills.

AREA FAVORABLE

Also like the House, the entire 5th district delegation favored the tax — including Sen. Jamar Adcock, Monroe, Sen. B. R. Patton, Farmerville, Sen. J. C. Gilbert, Sicily Island, Sen. Howard Jones, St. Joseph, and Sen. W. T. Carpenter, Bastrop.

Gilbert, undecided until yesterday, explained that he was going to vote for the tax.

With the New Orleans delegation against the tax, the administration, according to sources in the Senate, needed only one or perhaps two votes to push the bill over.

Effective January 1, the one-

Ike Will Make Japan Trip As Private Citizen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower expect to make a leisurely trip to Japan in September or October for a private visit, it was learned Friday.

The President thus would be making as a private citizen a trip which he was forced to cancel as Chief Executive last June because of leftists riots in Tokyo.

The idea originated with some of Eisenhower's former associates at Columbia University, which he headed until he sought the presidency in 1952. In Tokyo he technnically would be the guest of the Columbia University Alumni Association of Japan.

He thus would be making the trip as a former president of Columbia, not as a former president of the United States. This would add a note of quiet prestige to a visit to a land where scholars and educators are revered.

The Eisenhowers were expected to make a leisurely crossing of the Pacific aboard a luxury liner. This is because Mrs. Eisenhower dislikes extended air travel.

BY SENATE COMMITTEE

Bills Are Rejected For State Economy

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A Senate committee, dominated by members of Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' administration, Friday rejected and bottled up four measures aimed at government economy.

Unfavorable reports were voted for two bills and a resolution and a "without action" report was voted on the other bill. Such action usually kills legislation, but the sponsor may ask the Senate to overthrow the committee's report.

The Judiciary B Committee never made its formal report to the Senate floor. Sen. Adrian Duplantier, New Orleans, who sponsored the measures, was unable to get the bills out of committee so he could appeal the decision.

The Public Affairs Research Council has estimated Louisiana could earn up to $2 million a year by investing funds not immediately in use—not counting funds of political subdividions.

Other bills tied up in committee would set in motion a five per cent cutback on state spending across the board, excluding personnel salaries, and would call for an attrition program of not replacing personnel who quit or retire until a level 90 per cent of last May' figure is reached.

Duplantier has said his economy program would be better than Davis' $28 million sales tax raise.

"I understand the state has invested, in a bank near Baton Rouge, several million dollars," Duplantier said. The money is in a checking account, he said, and draws no interest, but could be made to draw interest if invested.

But state treasurer A. P. Tugwell testified that little more than $150,000 could be made by putting state funds to work the rest of this fiscal year.

Three Kennedy Appointees Due GOP Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said Friday the GOP will "thoroughly examine" the appointment of 35-year-old Robert Kennedy to be attorney general in his brother's cabinet.

The Illinois Republican said his party also will closely question two other appointees of President-elect John F. Kennedy — Chester Bowles for undersecretary of state, and Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams to be assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

Dirksen is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee which will consider the nomination of the president - elect's brother, Robert, for the top job in the Justice Department.

Dirksen said he had a "completely open mind" on the younger Kennedy until hearings have been held, but added that "we have a duty to establish the record."

The president-elect admitted at the time of the appointment that selection of his brother might be controversial. But he said he applied the same test as he had to other cabinet nominations, namely that he was the best man available for the job.

The nominations of Bowles and Williams will be considered by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Dirksen said Bowles likely will be questioned extensively, and that his views on China "will be fully ventilated."

The Republicans want to know whether Bowles favors recognition of Red China or a United Nations seat for it.

On Williams, Dirksen said several Republicans wanted to explore his qualifications for the State Department post.

The vehicle in which he and his wife were riding slammed into a pulpwood truck.

Day was driving a 1950 model pickup truck, traveling east on Highway 143. He ran head-on into a pulpwood truck driven by Sidney T. Johnson, route one, Bernice, according to state police who investigated the wreck.

State police said witnesses stated that Day pulled into the right front fender of the pulpwood truck which was traveling west on Highway two toward Farmerville.

She was carried by a passing motorist to Jones Clinic at Sterlington.

Day died at the scene of the accident from multiple injuries of the head and left chest, Dr. Jones E Booth, acting crooner, stated.

Day's body was brought to Kilpatrick Funeral Home here by ambulance.

Funeral services were incomplete last night.

Surviving are his widow and four daughters.

Clouds, Rain Expected Today

Temperatures will be mild with a daytime high expected at 58. The overnight low will be about 40 degrees.

Friday the mercury hit a 57-degree high mark and dipped to a low of 38.

Winds today will be easterly at six to 14 miles per hour.

Deal On Tax Share Denied By Retailers

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A Louisiana Retailers Association official denied any deal with Gov. Jimmie H. Davis after the House Friday passed 74-0 the governor's bill giving retailers a larger slice of sales tax collections.

Dudley A. Buyas, mayor of Gonzales and executive secretary of the association, issued a prepared statement after the House vote.

SENT TO SENATE

The bill was sent to the Senate, where it was assigned to the administration's Judiciary B Committee for a hearing next week.

The bill would raise from two per cent to three per cent the share of sales taxes retailers are allowed for collection expenses. The change would last for eight months, the same period as the one cent sales tax increase sought by Davis.

The retailers group in the past has actively opposed every tax raise move. This time it didn't. It also repeatedly has attempted to gain the three per cent allowance, claiming that is the nation average.

During floor debate, Rep. John Lewis, Beauregard Parish, had asked whether the extra allowance for merchants was being granted "so that the merchants won't fight this tax?"

Buyas told reporters: "There was no deal made with the governor, and I, as a staff member of the association, have no authority to make any deals of my own."

Buyas said the association had asked Davis if he would go along with the one per cent increase after the governor announced plans for his sales tax raise.

"We have notified all our members, we asked them to contact their senators and representatives and give their individual views on the sales tax," he said. "We've opposed every tax raise bill during the previous administration."

Liberals May Lose On Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen predicted Friday that liberals eventually will lose out in their efforts to empower a majority of the Senate to halt a filibuster.

He offered no guess, however, as to whether they will be able to impose the less stringent method by which three-fifths of those present and voting could limit debate.

The Illinois senator offered his views as the Senate spent part of its day in unspectacular debate on the rules issue. The senators have agreed to a showdown on the three - fifths proposal next week, and Dirksen said he believed this would come to Wednesday.

No Senate Vote Recorded On Tax

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, still short of votes to pass the one-cent sales tax for private schools, sent the Legislature home Friday until Tuesday night.

The Senate, following the pattern of the House, proved to be a stumbling block for Davis administration as the governor's leaders were unable to muster enough votes to pass the tax.

Actually, the tax bill was not brought up for a vote in the Senate, but was returned to the calendar — subject to call — since there weren't enough votes to pass it.

The House, which rejected the tax the first time it was voted on, approved the measure by only one vote to spare Wednesday, 69-31. A two-thirds majority is required for tax bills.

AREA FAVORABLE

Also like the House, the entire 5th district delegation favored the tax — including Sen. Jamar Adcock, Monroe, Sen. B. R. Patton, Farmerville, Sen. J. C. Gilbert, Sicily Island, Sen. Howard Jones, St. Joseph, and Sen. W. T. Carpenter, Bastrop.

Gilbert, undecided until yesterday, explained that he was going to vote for the tax.

With the New Orleans delegation against the tax, the administration, according to sources in the Senate, needed only one or perhaps two votes to push the bill over.

Ike Will Make Japan Trip As Private Citizen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower expect to make a leisurely trip to Japan in September or October for a private visit, it was learned Friday.

The President thus would be making as a private citizen a trip which he was forced to cancel as Chief Executive last June because of leftists riots in Tokyo.

The idea originated with some of Eisenhower's former associates at Columbia University, which he headed until he sought the presidency in 1952. In Tokyo he technnically would be the guest of the Columbia University Alumni Association of Japan.

He thus would be making the trip as a former president of Columbia, not as a former president of the United States. This would add a note of quiet prestige to a visit to a land where scholars and educators are revered.

The Eisenhowers were expected to make a leisurely crossing of the Pacific aboard a luxury liner. This is because Mrs. Eisenhower dislikes extended air travel.

BY SENATE COMMITTEE

Bills Are Rejected For State Economy

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A Senate committee, dominated by members of Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' administration, Friday rejected and bottled up four measures aimed at government economy.

Unfavorable reports were voted for two bills and a resolution and a "without action" report was voted on the other bill. Such action usually kills legislation, but the sponsor may ask the Senate to overthrow the committee's report.

The Judiciary B Committee never made its formal report to the Senate floor. Sen. Adrian Duplantier, New Orleans, who sponsored the measures, was unable to get the bills out of committee so he could appeal the decision.

The Public Affairs Research Council has estimated Louisiana could earn up to $2 million a year by investing funds not immediately in use—not counting funds of political subdividions.

Other bills tied up in committee would set in motion a five per cent cutback on state spending across the board, excluding personnel salaries, and would call for an attrition program of not replacing personnel who quit or retire until a level 90 per cent of last May' figure is reached.

Duplantier has said his economy program would be better than Davis' $28 million sales tax raise.

"I understand the state has invested, in a bank near Baton Rouge, several million dollars," Duplantier said. The money is in a checking account, he said, and draws no interest, but could be made to draw interest if invested.

But state treasurer A. P. Tugwell testified that little more than $150,000 could be made by putting state funds to work the rest of this fiscal year.

Three Kennedy Appointees Due GOP Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said Friday the GOP will "thoroughly examine" the appointment of 35-year-old Robert Kennedy to be attorney general in his brother's cabinet.

The Illinois Republican said his party also will closely question two other appointees of President-elect John F. Kennedy — Chester Bowles for undersecretary of state, and Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams to be assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

Dirksen is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee which will consider the nomination of the president - elect's brother, Robert, for the top job in the Justice Department.

Dirksen said he had a "completely open mind" on the younger Kennedy until hearings have been held, but added that "we have a duty to establish the record."

The president-elect admitted at the time of the appointment that selection of his brother might be controversial. But he said he applied the same test as he had to other cabinet nominations, namely that he was the best man available for the job.

The nominations of Bowles and Williams will be considered by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Dirksen said Bowles likely will be questioned extensively, and that his views on China "will be fully ventilated."

The Republicans want to know whether Bowles favors recognition of Red China or a United Nations seat for it.

On Williams, Dirksen said several Republicans wanted to explore his qualifications for the State Department post.

Moments later a fireman broke into the Boyer's fourth-floor room and led Mrs. Boyer to safety.

Every available ambulance was used to carry the injured to the city's three emergency hospitals. The dead were laid out on the sidewalk.

Traffic in Mission Street, one of San Francisco's main downtown thoroughfares, was blocked for hours after the first alarm was turned in at 5:09 a.m.

San Francisco's entire fire department was placed on alert. Forty pieces of equipment and 200 men, nearly a fourth of the department, fought the blaze, the city's worst since 22 died in the New Amsterdam Hotel fire in 1944.

Fire Chief William Murray estimated damage at $75,000.

Gorman, who was jailed less than six hours after the fire, has a long police record of drunkenness and petty theft.

Charles Casad, 39, managing owner of the Thomas Hotel, said he tried to get rid of Gorman as a tenant 10 days ago by raising his rent from $7 a week to $14. The hotel's usual top rate is $10, with bath.

Saylor, Gorman's neighbor, was twice awakened by the smell of smoke. The first time he said he thought he put out a fire in Gorman's mattress. The second time he called night clerk Clarence Broderick, 33.

A short time later the room and the hotel suddenly blazed up. Gorman's room is in the rear of the hotel, where most of the fatalities occurred.

Police lauded two patrolmen—Peter Cappadonna, 35, and Don Taylor, 28—for carrying out at least 10 persons, directing a score of others to safety, awakening others and kicking open locked doors.

Two of those rescued by firemen were in wheelchairs. One of them, Fred Schreiner, 71 said "I lost everything, even the pedals off this wheelchair. But I was lucky."

Area Man Shot While Hunting, Said 'Serious'

TALLULAH (Special) — Robert Phil Grimes Sr., shot in a hunting accident near Newellton Dec. 30, is still listed in serious condition in Mercy hospital in Vicksburg, Miss., according to his wife.

Grimes, at first listed in critical condition before surgery, was accidentally shot in the back with a 30-06 lead tip rifle bullet which pierced his back knocking him "eight or 10 feet" from where he stood when struck, according to members of his party.

He was deer hunting near the Bel-Di-Gil hunting camp, 10 miles west of Newellton when a hunter from another party, from Morgansport, saw a movement and shot it.

First taken to a Newellton hospital, Grimes was removed to the Vicksburg hospital for surgery.

But McClellan said Cross, who lives in Garden City, N.Y., was on rather questionable grounds legally by refusing to surrender the documents to prove this contention.

Cross said the bank records were his personal property and might tend to incriminate him.

McClellan said the subcommittee staff had uncovered evidence that cross spent $99,933.22 in unexplained income between 1955 and 1959.

Paul E. Kammerick, assistant subcommittee counsel and a former FBI agent, said the income was traced through cashier's checks Cross had purchased in those years.

The $99,933,22 he listed, Kammerick said, represented money which could not be explained by withdrawals from one of five bank accounts he said Cross maintained during that period.

Kammerick said the transactions ranged from $357.95 on May 3, 1955, to $12,500 to a stock broker on March 23, 1957.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said Cross spent $26,800 in unexplained income during 1959, $22,325 in 1958 and $34,461 in 1957. No transactions were listed for 1956 because, Kammerick said, Cross probably was preoccupied with building his Garden City house.

Pair Are Booked For Burglary In West Monroe

The West Monroe police department announced Friday two men have been booked for burglary of a bar.

They were identified as Reuben Deason, 33, of 1128 Wood St., West Monroe, and James Elmore, 22, in care of Miller Hotel, Monroe.

The action had been expected since Thursday when the men were detained for investigation.

Police said the burglary occurred at Moore's Bar on Commerce Street and that about $140 in silver, several cartons of cigarettes and an undetermined amount of whiskey was taken.

Police said the incident happened at approximately 2 a.m. Thursday and that some of the items, but not all, have been recovered.

Annual Cost $2.5 Billion In Tax Funds

It was estimated that about a fourth of the states, mostly in the South, would qualify in this category. This would cost an estimated $140 million.

A third approach would allow another $20 per pupil annually for schools in cities with a population of 300,000 or more, where school systems are facing special strains. This would cost an estimated $120 million.

Other funds would go in loans and grants to colleges.

"The national interest demands a first-rate system of schools and that every child have full opportunities to benefit from the system," the report said. "Present standards and facilities must be improved.

Millions of children, particularly in certain rural areas and in the great cities are deprived of an opportunity to develop talents that are needed both for society and for their own lives."

Dr. Hovde said the recommendations were the minimum for accomplishing the needed "significant uplift" in American education.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, who will be the new secretary of health, education and welfare, told newsmen Kennedy is grateful for the report, and hopes it will receive full attention of Congress and the public.

Meanwhile, just before Kennedy interrupted a three-day New York stay to return briefly to Washington, D.C., a top Negro leader met with him and reported he was satisfied with Kennedy's plans on civil rights legislation.

"I am satisfied that he understands the importance and place of civil rights and that his administration will support all the pledges of the (Democratic) platform," he said.

This, he said, includes a pledge to change the Senate rules to make it easier to shut off filibusters against civil rights legislation.

Kennedy left his Hotel Carlyle suite in midafternoon and flew to Washington for the night, but was scheduled to be back here Saturday afternoon and remain until Monday.

The education-aid proposals would provide grants and loans of at least $500 million to colleges, and also over a four-year period, increase the college housing loan program by $1.4 billion.

Of this, $150 million would be authorized for the current fiscal year ending next June 30.

The recommendations also called for steps to relieve "the critical shortage of teachers at all levels."

"Highest priority should be given to enlarging the national fellowship program in order to attract able people into elementary and secondary, as well as college teaching," the report said.

"New sources of supply should be tapped."

For the fiscal year starting July 1, loans and grants for various education aid programs, including grants for local public schools, would amount to $2.31 billion.

Mother-In-Law Of Rep. John Succumbs Friday

MARKSVILLE (Special) — Mrs C. A. Riddle Sr., mother-in-law of Rep. Mike John Jr. of Monroe and mother of State Democratic Chairman C. A. Riddle Jr. of Marksville, died in a hospital here Friday following a short illness. She was 70.

Funeral services are scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday at the Marksville Methodist Church with Rev. Carl Lipp officiating.

Mrs. Riddle was an active member of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service and the Eastern Star.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mike John Jr., Monroe, and Mrs. Glenn F. Hardin, Baton Rouge; and Riddle, Marksville, who in addition to the Democratic post is a former district attorney, and 12 grandchildren and one great - grandchild.

Included among the grandchildren are Mrs. Glen C. Hardin and Mrs. Mickey Yerger, both of Monroe.

6-Year-Old Boy Struck By Car

Six-year-old William John Cox received a gash on the head Friday when he was struck by a car on the White's Ferry Road outside the West Monroe city limits.

Driver of the auto was identified as Mrs. Helen Preusser of 134 Linda Dr., West Monroe by officers.

The accident occurred about 3:30 p.m. when the youth ran into the road, according to officers. He is the son of radio operator James Cox of State Police Headquarters, Troop "F."

The youth was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

No Senate Vote Recorded On Tax

cent sales tax would continue for eight months until August 31. The measure would provide $28 million, dedicated to the financing of grants-in-aid for private schools.

Both the Senate and House went into session at 10:30 a.m. yesterday, but knocked off early and went home. They will reconvene Tuesday night.

And the Senate at that time is expected to bring the tax onto the floor for final passage.

Tempers flared in the Senate session as Sen. Johnny Rogers, Grand Cane, and Sen. Jackson B. Davis, Shreveport, took the floor to blast the tax.

"There's not a bigger segregationist in this Senate than Johnny Rogers," Rogers declared. "I'd knocked the teeth down the throat of anybody who called me an integrationist."

Davis asked, "How could you call a man an integrationist when his name is Jackson Beauregard Jackson."

Meantime, Sen. A. O. Rappelet, Lafourche Parish, attacked the Baton Rouge Morning Advocate for "presenting slanted news items in an effort to sway the thinking of the people."

Rappelet said the Advocate quoted "reliable sources" rather than naming the source on which the news articles were based.

Critizing the administration for high spending, he said the governor was nearsighted in one eye and farsighted in the other.

The Lake Charles lawmakers also said Davis should admit he wants the tax because state finances are in bad shape, not for segregation.

Sockrider said the governor apparently couldn't see "the get-rich quick bank at Baker, the land scandal in north Louisiana, the fantastic building deal in the Baton Rouge insurance office. . . and numerous other money grab deals on the part of his supporters."

Before the Senate and House adjourned until 7 p.m. Tuesday, they voted to pay New Orleans school teachers and other employes who have lost a month's pay.

Parish Grand Jury Meeting Set Monday

The Ouachita Parish Grand Jury meets Monday, and is expected to consider the case of a Monroe man charged with manslaughter in his wife's death.

D. Curtis Smith, foreman, will be in charge of the 12-man group which will complete work on cases which were pending when they last met in October.

Harry Reinninger, 32, 507 D'Arbonne Ave., is being held in the parish jail on a manslaughter charge involving the death of Mrs. Mickey Reinninger, 33.

She died enroute to a Shreveport hospital on Christmas Day. Renninger later admitted to officers that he had a fight with her at a Layton Street bar on the day before.

He first said that she was injured when she fell out of their car.

Spires Services Slated Sunday

A Monroe man, D. C. Spires, 54, of 601 Layton Ave., died Friday morning in a local hospital after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. in the chapel of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home with the Rev. E. J. Graves officiating. Burial will be in the Springhill Cemetery on the Swartz Road under the direction of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home of West Monroe.

Mr. Spires is survived by his widow, Mrs. D. C. Spires, Monroe; five sons, John, Charles Ray, James Walter, Raymond Sidney and Curtis Eugene, all of Monroe; six daughters, Mrs. Archie McManus, Wilmot, Ark., Mrs. Earl McManus, West Monroe, Mrs. Jimmy Jordan and Mrs. Crawford Ezell, both of Monroe, and Misses Marilyn Joe Spires and Deborah Jean Spires, both of Monroe; two brothers, Louis Spires, Borgar, Tex., and J. H. White, Portland, Ark.; three sisters, Mrs. Osie Peters, Haynesville, Mrs. Beth Griffin, Portland, Ark., and Mrs. S. A. Ross, Lake Providence; his mother, Mrs. C. T. revolutionaries, Mrs. Wilkinson appeared the most composed of the first group of refugees who were met by a Red Cross relief team. Red Cross officials said most of the bewildered group were persons caught in eastern Cuba by the turn of diplomatic events.

Many of them were nearly penniless when they arrived at Guantanamo, bringing with them only that luggage they could carry, crew members of the Navy plane said.

Mrs. Adelina Szmant of Santiago, another of the refugees, mourned the loss of her furniture and other personal possessions she, her husband, and two children, Michael, 12, and daughter Alina, 14, could not carry. Her husband is Dr. Harry Szmant founder and director of the chemistry center at Oriente University in Santiago, Cuba. A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., he was a former professor at Duquesne University.

"We left because the embassy left and we had no protection," she added. "You never know what some hothead will do when the passions are aroused.

"It's very depressing in Cuba now — country or death, country or death, they shout all the time," the attractive teacher's wife said. "The soldiers shoot and shoot their guns in the air, always they are shooting."

The Szmants said, however, they had not been threatened and that no one searched them before they entered the naval base to board the plane.

Seniors' Art Exhibit Set At Northeast

Works of three Northeast State students who are candidates for graduation in fine arts will be displayed at a Graduate Show Sunday fron. 3 to 5 p.m. in Biedenharn Hall (formerly the fine arts building) on campus. The public is invited to attend the opening day of the show.

The exhibit will continue to be displayed through January 15 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. for the convenience of persons unable to be present Sunday.

Participating seniors are Linda Landers, Charlotte Latham, both of West Monroe, and John Hogan of Monroe.

Their works will include paintings, scupture, jewelry, mosaics and other crafts.

Miss Landers, an art education major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Landers.

Art experiences which she has had include assisting in set designs for The Monroe Little Theatre musical "Pajama Game," Oklahoma," directed by W. J. Haddad, and "The King and I," major production presented by Northeast State under direction of George Brian of the drama section.

Miss Landers is past vice president of the college Art Club, and she holds the presidency of Lambda Tau chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, social sorority.

Miss Latham, also an art education major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Latham.

She has gained considerable experience as a student at Northeast, where she was assistant director and set designer for the Miss Northeast Beauty Pageant of 1956, and assistant set designer for the musical "Oklahoma" in 1959. She previously was employed by a printing company in Memphis.

Miss Latham won distinction in 1956 by being the recipient of the art award presented by the Northeast Louisiana branch of the National League of American Pen Women. She was president of the Northeast State Art Club last year, and she is affiliated with Alpha Rho chapter, Phi Mu Sorority.

Hogan's work has been displayed in a two - man show at the Monroe Little Theatre, a local art show, the Columbia Art Festival and the Northeast State Art Club Show in Forsythe Park.

Exhibited Sunday will be several pieces of his art loaned by Mrs. George Brian, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Milletello, all of Monroe; Miss Phillis Darling of Rayville; Mrs. Ruth Marshall of New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Butler of West Monroe; and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Garner.

He also has gained experience in his field by collaboratiing on set designs for local musicals, "Pajama Game," "Guys and Dolls," and "Oklahoma," and serving as layout artist for the 1958 - 59 Chacahoula, Northeast yearbok.

Hogan is a member of the Monroe Jaycees and Northeast's Eta Iota chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Symphonia, national music fraternity.

The fine arts major is the son of Mrs. E. J. Hogan and the late Mr. Hogan.

AGC, Carpenters Set Contract

The Northeast Louisiana Contractor's Association, A.G.C., and the Northeast Louisiana District Council of Carpenters have come to terms for a new one year contract, it was announced Friday.

The carpenter group, consisting of locals in Monroe, Bastrop and Ruston, will receive a ten cent an hour increase with an additional two and one - half cent per hour increase beginning on July 1 and continuing through Dec. 31.

Area Man Shot While Hunting, Said 'Serious'

TALLULAH (Special) — Robert Phil Grimes Sr., shot in a hunting accident near Newellton Dec. 30, is still listed in serious condition in Mercy hospital in Vicksburg, Miss., according to his wife.

Grimes, at first listed in critical condition before surgery, was accidentally shot in the back with a 30-06 lead tip rifle bullet which pierced his back knocking him "eight or 10 feet" from where he stood when struck, according to members of his party.

He was deer hunting near the Bel-Di-Gil hunting camp, 10 miles west of Newellton when a hunter from another party, from Morgansport, saw a movement and shot it.

First taken to a Newellton hospital, Grimes was removed to the Vicksburg hospital for surgery.

McClellan said the subcommittee staff had uncovered evidence that cross spent $99,933.22 in unexplained income between 1955 and 1959.

Paul E. Kammerick, assistant subcommittee counsel and a former FBI agent, said the income was traced through cashier's checks Cross had purchased in those years.

The $99,933,22 he listed, Kammerick said, represented money which could not be explained by withdrawals from one of five bank accounts he said Cross maintained during that period.

Kammerick said the transactions ranged from $357.95 on May 3, 1955, to $12,500 to a stock broker on March 23, 1957.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said Cross spent $26,800 in unexplained income during 1959, $22,-325 in 1958 and $34,461 in 1957. No transactions were listed for 1956 because, Kammerick said, Cross probably was preoccupied with building his Garden City house.

Pair Are Booked For Burglary In West Monroe

The West Monroe police department announced Friday two men have been booked for burglary of a bar.

They were identified as Reuben Deason, 33, of 1128 Wood St., West Monroe, and James Elmore, 22, in care of Miller Hotel, Monroe.

The action had been expected since Thursday when the men were detained for investigation.

Police said the burglary occurred at Moore's Bar on Commerce Street and that about $140 in silver, several cartons of cigarettes and an undetermined amount of whiskey was taken.

Police said the incident happened at approximately 2 a.m. Thursday and that some of the items, but not all, have been recovered.

Annual Cost $2.5 Billion In Tax Funds

70 per cent of the national average.

It was estimated that about a fourth of the states, mostly in the South, would qualify in this category. This would cost an estimated $140 million.

A third approach would allow another $20 per pupil annually for schools in cities with a population of 300,000 or more, where school systems are facing special strains. This would cost an estimated $120 million.

Other funds would go in loans and grants to colleges.

"The national interest demands a first-rate system of schools and that every child have full opportunities to benefit from the system," the report said. "Present standards and facilities must be improved.

Millions of children, particularly in certain rural areas and in the great cities are deprived of an opportunity to develop talents that are needed both for society and for their own lives."

Dr. Hovde said the recommendations were the minimum for accomplishing the needed "significant uplift" in American education.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, who will be the new secretary of health, education and welfare, told newsmen Kennedy is grateful for the report, and hopes it will receive full attention of Congress and the public.

Meanwhile, just before Kennedy interrupted a three-day New York stay to return briefly to Washington, D.C., a top Negro leader met with him and reported he was satisfied with Kennedy's plans on civil rights legislation.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, conferred for nearly an hour with Kennedy.

"I am satisfied that he understands the importance and place of civil rights and that his administration will support all the pledges of the (Democratic) platform," he said.

This, he said, includes a pledge to change the Senate rules to make it easier to shut off filibusters against civil rights legislation.

Kennedy left his Hotel Carlyle suite in midafternoon and flew to Washington for the night, but was scheduled to be back here Saturday afternoon and remain until Monday.

The education-aid proposals would provide grants and loans of at least $500 million to colleges, and also over a four-year period, increase the college housing loan program by $1.4 billion.

Of this, $150 million would be authorized for the current fiscal year ending next June 30.

The recommendations also called for steps to relieve "the critical shortage of teachers at all levels."

"Highest priority should be given to enlarging the national fellowship program in order to attract able people into elementary and secondary, as well as college teaching," the report said.

"New sources of supply should be tapped."

For the fiscal year starting July 1, loans and grants for various education aid programs, including grants for local public schools, would amount to $2.31 billion.

Mother-In-Law Of Rep. John Succumbs Friday

MARKSVILLE (Special) — Mrs C. A. Riddle Sr., mother-in-law of Rep. Mike John Jr. of Monroe and mother of State Democratic Chairman C. A. Riddle Jr. of Marksville, died in a hospital here Friday following a short illness. She was 70.

Funeral services are scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday at the Marksville Methodist Church with Rev. Carl Lipp officiating.

Mrs. Riddle was an active member of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service and the Eastern Star.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mike John Jr., Monroe, and Mrs. Glenn F. Hardin, Baton Rouge; and Riddle, Marksville, who in addition to the Democratic post is a former district attorney, and 12 grandchildren and one great - grandchild.

Included among the grandchildren are Mrs. Glen C. Hardin and Mrs. Mickey Yerger, both of Monroe.

6-Year-Old Boy Struck By Car

Six-year-old William John Cox received a gash on the head Friday when he was struck by a car on the White's Ferry Road outside the West Monroe city limits.

Driver of the auto was identified as Mrs. Helen Preusser of 134 Linda Dr., West Monroe by officers.

The accident occurred about 3:30 p.m. when the youth ran into the road, according to officers. He is the son of radio operator James Cox of State Police Headquarters, Troop "F."

The youth was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

cent sales tax would continue for eight months until August 31. The measure would provide $28 million, dedicated to the financing of grants-in-aid for private schools.

Both the Senate and House went into session at 10:30 a.m. yesterday, but knocked off early and went home. They will reconvene Tuesday night.

And the Senate at that time is expected to bring the tax onto the floor for final passage.

Tempers flared in the Senate session as Sen. Johnny Rogers, Grand Cane, and Sen. Jackson B. Davis, Shreveport, took the floor to blast the tax.

"There's not a bigger segregationist in this Senate than Johnny Rogers," Rogers declared. "I'd knocked the teeth down the throat of anybody who called me an integrationist."

Davis asked, "How could you call a man an integrationist when his name is Jackson Beauregard Jackson."

Meantime, Sen. A. O. Rappelet, Lafourche Parish, attacked the Baton Rouge Morning Advocate for "presenting slanted news items in an effort to sway the thinking of the people."

Rappelet said the Advocate quoted "reliable sources" rather than naming the source on which the news articles were based.

Critizing the administration for high spending, he said the governor was nearsighted in one eye and farsighted in the other.

The Lake Charles lawmakers also said Davis should admit he wants the tax because state finances are in bad shape, not for segregation.

Sockrider said the governor apparently couldn't see "the get-rich quick bank at Baker, the land scandal in north Louisiana, the fantastic building deal in the Baton Rouge insurance office. . . and numerous other money grab deals on the part of his supporters."

Before the Senate and House adjourned until 7 p.m. Tuesday, they voted to pay New Orleans school teachers and other employes who have lost a month's pay.

Parish Grand Jury Meeting Set Monday

The Ouachita Parish Grand Jury meets Monday, and is expected to consider the case of a Monroe man charged with manslaughter in his wife's death.

D. Curtis Smith, foreman, will be in charge of the 12-man group which will complete work on cases which were pending when they last met in October.

Harry Reinninger, 32, 507 D'Arbonne Ave., is being held in the parish jail on a manslaughter charge involving the death of Mrs. Mickey Reinninger, 33.

She died enroute to a Shreveport hospital on Christmas Day. Renninger later admitted to officers that he had a fight with her at a Layton Street bar on the day before.

He first said that she was injured when she fell out of their car.

Spires Services Slated Sunday

A Monroe man, D. C. Spires, 54, of 601 Layton Ave., died Friday morning in a local hospital after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. in the chapel of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home with the Rev. E. J. Graves officiating. Burial will be in the Springhill Cemetery on the Swartz Road under the direction of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home of West Monroe.

Mr. Spires is survived by his widow, Mrs. D. C. Spires, Monroe; five sons, John, Charles Ray, James Walter, Raymond Sidney and Curtis Eugene, all of Monroe; six daughters, Mrs. Archie McManus, Wilmot, Ark., Mrs. Earl McManus, West Monroe, Mrs. Jimmy Jordan and Mrs. Crawford Ezell, both of Monroe, and Misses Marilyn Joe Spires and Deborah Jean Spires, both of Monroe; two brothers, Louis Spires, Borgar, Tex., and J. H. White, Portland, Ark.; three sisters, Mrs. Osie Peters, Haynesville, Mrs. Beth Griffin, Portland, Ark., and Mrs. S. A. Ross, Lake Providence; his mother, Mrs. C. T. Spires, Haynesville; and nine grandchildren.

Maxton Arrives Safely

YOKOSUKA, Japan (UPI)—The 10,000-ton U.S. freighter Maxton, which ran out of fuel two days ago in heavy seas off central Japan, arrived safely here Friday under tow by the U.S. Navy salvage ship safeguard.

revolutionaries, Mrs. Wilkinson appeared the most composed of the first group of refugees who were met by a Red Cross relief team. Red Cross officials said most of the bewildered group were persons caught in eastern Cuba by the turn of diplomatic events.

Many of them were nearly penniless when they arrived at Guantanamo, bringing with them only that luggage they could carry, crew members of the Navy plane said.

Mrs. Adelina Szmant of Santiago, another of the refugees, mourned the loss of her furniture and other personal possessions she, her husband, and two children, Michael, 12, and daughter Alina, 14, could not carry. Her husband is Dr. Harry Szmant founder and director of the chemistry center at Oriente University in Santiago, Cuba. A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., he was a former professor at Duquesne University.

"We left because the embassy left and we had no protection," she added. "You never know what some hothead will do when the passions are aroused.

"It's very depressing in Cuba now — country or death, country or death, they shout all the time," the attractive teacher's wife said. "The soldiers shoot and shoot their guns in the air, always they are shooting."

The Szmants said, however, they had not been threatened and that no one searched them before they entered the naval base to board the plane.

Seniors' Art Exhibit Set At Northeast

Works of three Northeast State students who are candidates for graduation in fine arts will be displayed at a Graduate Show Sunday fron. 3 to 5 p.m. in Biedenharn Hall (formerly the fine arts building) on campus. The public is invited to attend the opening day of the show.

The exhibit will continue to be displayed through January 15 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. for the convenience of persons unable to be present Sunday.

Participating seniors are Linda Landers, Charlotte Latham, both of West Monroe, and John Hogan of Monroe.

Their works will include paintings, scupture, jewelry, mosaics and other crafts.

Miss Landers, an art education major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Landers.

Art experiences which she has had include assisting in set designs for The Monroe Little Theatre musical "Pajama Game," Oklahoma," directed by W. J. Haddad, and "The King and I," major production presented by Northeast State under direction of George Brian of the drama section.

Miss Landers is past vice president of the college Art Club, and she holds the presidency of Lambda Tau chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, social sorority.

Miss Latham, also an art education major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Latham.

She has gained considerable experience as a student at Northeast, where she was assistant director and set designer for the Miss Northeast Beauty Pageant of 1956, and assistant set designer for the musical "Oklahoma" in 1959. She previously was employed by a printing company in Memphis.

Miss Latham won distinction in 1956 by being the recipient of the art award presented by the Northeast Louisiana branch of the National League of American Pen Women. She was president of the Northeast State Art Club last year, and she is affiliated with Alpha Rho chapter, Phi Mu Sorority.

Hogan's work has been displayed in a two - man show at the Monroe Little Theatre, a local art show, the Columbia Art Festival and the Northeast State Art Club Show in Forsythe Park.

Exhibited Sunday will be several pieces of his art loaned by Mrs. George Brian, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Milletello, all of Monroe; Miss Phillis Darling of Rayville; Mrs. Ruth Marshall of New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Butler of West Monroe; and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Garner.

He also has gained experience in his field by collaboratiing on set designs for local musicals, "Pajama Game," "Guys and Dolls," and "Oklahoma," and serving as layout artist for the 1958 - 59 Chacahoula, Northeast yearbok.

Hogan is a member of the Monroe Jaycees and Northeast's Eta Iota chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Symphonia, national music fraternity.

The fine arts major is the son of Mrs. E. J. Hogan and the late Mr. Hogan.

AGC, Carpenters Set Contract

The Northeast Louisiana Contractor's Association, A.G.C., and the Northeast Louisiana District Council of Carpenters have come to terms for a new one year contract, it was announced Friday.

The carpenter group, consisting of locals in Monroe, Bastrop and Ruston, will receive a ten cent an hour increase with an additional two and one - half cent per hour increase beginning on July 1 and continuing through Dec. 31.

Negro Is Fined For Exposure In West Monroe

Judge John McCormick fined a West Monroe Negro $40 yesterday for indecent exposure in West Monroe city court.

The man was identified as Rufus Rockmore of 421 Benson St.

In other action, two out-of-state men were turned over to district court for trial on charges of forgery. They were Prentis Edward Gibson, Crossett, Ark., and Robert Duane Hoaglund of San Jose, Calif.

William R. Shipp of 705 Bres Ave., Monroe was fined $5.50 for running a stop sign while Margaret E. Wilson of 211 Lincoln St. was fined $5.50 for running a red light.

Holdup Suspect Admits Slaying

BOSTON (UPI)—A holdup suspect in Georgia was identified here Friday as the man named in a murder warrant for the New Year's day shooting of a Boston woman.

Herbert Kashmanian, about 20, of Boston, was arrested early Friday in Claxton, Ga., in connection with a holdup and told police he had shot a woman in Boston.

The Boston homicide bureau said Kashmanian was named in a warrant for the murder of Beverly Reeves, 23, during an argument in her apartment at 3 a.m. New Year's day.

Police said Miss Reeves, who had served time for narcotics violations, went to New York with her roommate on New Year's Eve, then returned alone and left the roommate stranded.

The stranded girl returned by bus with Kashmanian and the shooting ensued in the Reeves apartment. The assailant fled and the roommate told her story to police.

The roommate was identified as Rosemarie (Cookie) Nye, 21. Also present in the apartment at the time of the shooting, police said, was Mrs. Emanuella (Lolly) Alfieri, 25.

Six Appointed To Nominate Chamber Slate

Six men were appointed to the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce nominating committee to present officer nominees for the coming year, at a meeting yesterday.

Chamber Manager Eugene Smith said the committee included Jeff Burnett, chairman, and members Hugh Balfour, Murphy Blackwell, Hilton Heard, C. G. Wall and M. L. Owens.

The group will submit nominees for president, vice president and treasurer and a slate of 10 prospective board members at a meeting Jan. 18.

Out of the ten board members submitted, five will be elected to serve on the board for the next three years.

New officers and board members will be installed at the chamber's annual banquet in March.

Placards Greet Dag In Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI) —Some 250 placard-waving, singing African demonstrators met United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold on his arrival here Friday to investigate South Africa's apartheid race segregation policies.

Hammarskjold was greeted at the Union Hotel by the anti-apartheid crowd, some of whome carried signs saying "Welcome to the police state" and "Dag, take the yokes off our necks." One of the demonstrators tried to shove a pamphlet into Hammarskjold's hand but the U.N. official pushed it away as he went into the hotel.

The demonstration was orderly and some 20 police on hand merely watched. The crowd dispersed when ordered by police.

Drop In Polio Cases Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were 3,277 polio cases in the United States in 1960, the lowest for any year since 1938 when there were 1,705.

Reporting this Friday, the Public Health Service said the total of 2,265 paralytic polio cases provisionally reported for last year may rise closer to the 2,499 listed in 1957. The 1957 paralytic total is the lowest for any year since separate records of paralytic cases were started in 1952.

The 1959 figures were 8,567 polio cases, of which 5,709 were paralytic.

This means that the provisional figures for 1960 showed a decrease of about 62 per cent in total cases and a drop of about 60 per cent in paralytic cases.

Reds Score Major Laos Battle Wins

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Western military sources said Friday the Communists have captured the great plain of Jars and are building up their strength through Soviet air lifts for major new assaults.

The military sources called it a major victory for the leftist units led by paratroop Capt. Kong Le and predicted strong Communist advances soon toward the royal capital of Luang Prabang or the Mekong River town of Paksane on the border of Thailand.

A thrust toward Luang Prabang would be for political reasons — King Savang Vathana flew there Friday from Vientiane. A thrust toward Paksane, 70 miles northeast of Vientiane would be for military reasons since that would cut Laos in two.

The Laotian government claimed Thursday it had stabilized the region around Xieng Khouang near the edge of the plain of Jars. But it admitted Soviet planes still are landing there to pick up troops it said invaded from Communist North Viet Nam. Military sources Friday said the planes are bringing in more supplies.

There were no reports Friday of major fighting in Laos although skirmishes continued in some provinces. The national assembly, which had met in special session to invest Prince Boun Oum as Premier, recessed and the king returned home.

(Communist broadcasts said leftist forces have "liberated" the town of Ban Ban 18.6 miles northeast of Xieng Khouang on the road to North Viet Nam; a Hanoi broadcast said Kong Le's forces inflicted heavy losses on retreating rightist forces and that 400 have been killed and 300 captured since December).

(In Bangkok the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization met Friday and failed to take any action in the Laotian crisis, apparently skeptical of reports of a large-scale Communist invasion. Moscow radio said the United States circulated the reports to prepare the ground for American intervention).

FOR RUSSIANS

U.S. Rejuggles Off-Limit Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Friday rejuggled its off-limits areas for Russians traveling in this country. The action was in response to 1959 Soviet revisions of travel restrictions on Americans.

The United States proposed to the Soviet Union that negotiations start in the near future to do away with the travel curbs.

The U.S. off-limits ruling were first imposed in 1955 in retaliation for long-standing Soviet restrictions, which also apply to other foreigners. The Kremlin has repeatedly ignored U.S. requests over the years for an easing of their ban.

Under Friday's move, about one-fourth of U.S. territory is off limits to Russians. This is about the same total area as before the revisions, but the places are changed.

The new ruling opens to Russian visitors several big U.S. cities previously closed to them, including San Francisco; Newark, N.J.; Brooklyn and more of the Los Angeles area—including the Disneyland which Soviet Premier Khrushchev complained about not being allowed to see during his 1959 U.S. visit.

The 1959 Soviet ruling similarly opened half a dozen Soviet cities to foreign visitors and closed others.

Both the Soviet and U.S. restrictions, mark off the two countries in a crazy-quilt pattern of places where visitors from the other cannot go.

Holdup Suspect Admits Slaying

BOSTON (UPI)—A holdup suspect in Georgia was identified here Friday as the man named in a murder warrant for the New Year's day shooting of a Boston woman.

Herbert Kashmanian, about 20, of Boston, was arrested early Friday in Claxton, Ga., in connection with a holdup and told police he had shot a woman in Boston.

The Boston homicide bureau said Kashmanian was named in a warrant for the murder of Beverly Reeves, 23, during an argument in her apartment at 3 a.m. New Year's day.

Police said Miss Reeves, who had served time for narcotics violations, went to New York with her roommate on New Year's Eve, then returned alone and left the roommate stranded.

The stranded girl returned by bus with Kashmanian and the shooting ensued in the Reeves apartment. The assailant fled and the roommate told her story to police.

The roommate was identified as Rosemarie (Cookie) Nye, 21. Also present in the apartment at the time of the shooting, police said, was Mrs. Emanuella (Lolly) Alfieri, 25.

Six Appointed To Nominate Chamber Slate

Six men were appointed to the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce nominating committee to present officer nominees for the coming year, at a meeting yesterday.

Chamber Manager Eugene Smith said the committee included Jeff Burnett, chairman, and members Hugh Balfour, Murphy Blackwell, Hilton Heard, C. G. Wall and M. L. Owens.

The group will submit nominees for president, vice president and treasurer and a slate of 10 prospective board members at a meeting Jan. 18.

Out of the ten board members submitted, five will be elected to serve on the board for the next three years.

New officers and board members will be installed at the chamber's annual banquet in March.

Placards Greet Dag In Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI)—Some 250 placard-waving, singing African demonstrators met United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold on his arrival here Friday to investigate South Africa's apartheid race segregation policies.

Hammarskjold was greeted at the Union Hotel by the anti-apartheid crowd, some of whome carried signs saying "Welcome to the police state" and "Dag, take the yokes off our necks." One of the demonstrators tried to shove a pamphlet into Hammarskjold's hand but the U.N. official pushed it away as he went into the hotel.

The demonstration was orderly and some 20 police on hand merely watched. The crowd dispersed when ordered by police.

Drop In Polio Cases Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were 3,277 polio cases in the United States in 1960, the lowest for any year since 1938 when there were 1,705.

Reporting this Friday, the Public Health Service said the total of 2,265 paralytic polio cases provisionally reported for last year may rise closer to the 2,499 listed in 1957. The 1957 paralytic total is the lowest for any year since separate records of paralytic cases were started in 1952.

The 1959 figures were 8,567 polio cases, of which 5,709 were paralytic.

This means that the provisional figures for 1960 showed a decrease of about 62 per cent in total cases and a drop of about 60 per cent in paralytic cases.

Reds Score Major Laos Battle Wins

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Western military sources said Friday the Communists have captured the great plain of Jars and are building up their strength through Soviet air lifts for major new assaults.

The military sources called it a major victory for the leftist units led by paratroop Capt. Kong Le and predicted strong Communist advances soon toward the royal capital of Luang Prabang or the Mekong River town of Paksane on the border of Thailand.

A thrust toward Luang Prabang would be for political reasons — King Savang Vathana flew there Friday from Vientiane. A thrust toward Paksane, 70 miles northeast of Vientiane would be for military reasons since that would cut Laos in two.

The Laotian government claimed Thursday it had stabilized the region around Xieng Khouang near the edge of the plain of Jars. But it admitted Soviet planes still are landing there to pick up troops it said invaded from Communist North Viet Nam. Military sources Friday said the planes are bringing in more supplies.

There were no reports Friday of major fighting in Laos although skirmishes continued in some provinces. The national assembly, which had met in special session to invest Prince Boun Oum as Premier, recessed and the king returned home.

(Communist broadcasts said leftist forces have "liberated" the town of Ban Ban 18.6 miles northeast of Xieng Khouang on the road to North Viet Nam; a Hanoi broadcast said Kong Le's forces inflicted heavy losses on retreating rightist forces and that 400 have been killed and 300 captured since December).

(In Bangkok the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization met Friday and failed to take any action in the Laotian crisis, apparently skeptical of reports of a large-scale Communist invasion. Moscow radio said the United States circulated the reports to prepare the ground for American intervention).

FOR RUSSIANS

U.S. Rejuggles Off-Limit Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Friday rejuggled its off-limits areas for Russians traveling in this country. The action was in response to 1959 Soviet revisions of travel restrictions on Americans.

The United States proposed to the Soviet Union that negotiations start in the near future to do away with the travel curbs.

The U.S. off-limits ruling were first imposed in 1955 in retaliation for long-standing Soviet restrictions, which also apply to other foreigners. The Kremlin has repeatedly ignored U.S. requests over the years for an easing of their ban.

Under Friday's move, about one-fourth of U.S. territory is off limits to Russians. This is about the same total area as before the revisions, but the places are changed.

The new ruling opens to Russian visitors several big U.S. cities previously closed to them, including San Francisco; Newark, N.J.; Brooklyn and more of the Los Angeles area—including the Disneyland which Soviet Premier Khrushchev complained about not being allowed to see during his 1959 U.S. visit.

The 1959 Soviet ruling similarly opened half a dozen Soviet cities to foreign visitors and closed others.

Both the Soviet and U.S. restrictions, mark off the two countries in a crazy-quilt pattern of places where visitors from the other cannot go.

Goodfellows Help Again

As always, the Goodfellows donated liberally for the annual Christmas good cheer for the needy of the Twin Cities. Many homes were brightened when Goodfellows representatives gave them liberal quantities of food and the hearts of many youngsters were gladdened when they received toys.

All those who donated—and the number was large—can have the satisfaction of knowing that whatever they gave was spent for the benefit of those in need. Goodfellows doesn't pay a percentage of what they receive to any other organization. Neither do they have any paid workers. Nothing is charged for expenses. There is no overhead of any kind. Everyone who works for the Goodfellows works free of charge and buildings and other facilities that may be used are donated. City officials of Monroe and West Monroe cooperate by aiding in the distribution.

All funds and letters sent to the Goodfellows are first received by Monroe News-Star and World. The money is immediately placed in the bank in the name of the Goodfellows. Letters requesting a visit by the Goodfellows are turned over to Goodfellow officials not connected with the newspapers. These officials do all of the buying, determine the needy cases and arrange for the deliveries. The newspapers act only as fund raisers — the others determine where the money goes.

We wish to express our utmost gratitude to those Goodfellows who make this fine work possible ——those who donate money and gifts. We also wish to express thanks to all city officials, Goodfellow officers, those who contributed their individual efforts and all others who aided in the campaign and distribution.

We congratulate all those who made Goodfellows another big success in 1960.

Benefits Hard To Stop

Benefit programs—like taxes—seem almost impossible to cut off once they are put into effect.

Last January, President Eisenhower proposed expenditures of $79.8 billion with forecast receipts totaling $84 billion. This would appear that the federal government's revenues were going to surpass the envisioned expenses.

The President properly proposed that the surplus of $4.2 billion be applied to the long, weary job of retiring the public debt.

Then along came the Budget Bureau and reviewed the situation in view of rising costs. Expenditures, the budget people estimated, would be up to $80.4 billion. Revenues, according to the tax people would be down to $81.5 billion.

This was still $1.1 billion ahead of the expenditures but even so there are fears that fiscal 1961 may end in the red. If allowed to stand as a surplus, the United States will show an addition to the public debt over the past four fiscal years of $12.9 billion.

Defenses and the "cold war" are often the reasons given for the ever-mounting peacetime budgets. But Budget Bureau figures show this is not the case. Defense in this age of missiles and scientific research is an expensive item to be sure. But the statistics show spending is increasing on account of domestic "benefit" programs. In this category are such items as public welfare, farm price supports, aids to housing, public works projects, pensions and hospital care for veterans, the postal deficit and various kinds of public assistance programs.

These items will total over $21 billion for an increase of $2.25 billion over fiscal 1960. By comparison, defense spending is estimated at $48.2 billion, up $752 million from last year.

There is plenty to show for the extra $752 million: new missiles and rocket engines, polaris submarines, the Samo reconnaissance satellite and air-borne alert capabilities.

The figures are particularly alarming in view of the fact that over the past eight years, the cost of "benefits" has increased by 100 per cent while over the same period expenditures in other classifications—including defense — has risen less than 10 per cent.

Promises of "aid" on the part of politicians, made without consideration as to where the money would come from, are responsible for this trend.

New federal programs are adopted as the result of political pressure from organized groups with the result the taxpayers are fiscally stuck with the tab.

As the economic survey of the First National Bank of New York put it: "Once federal aid has been provided, it seems virtually impossible to cut it off. This fact of political life invites sober caution when new programs are considered for adoption by Congress. Small initial expense is the seductive charm that invites congressional approval. But each new program requires staffing a new bureau. Each dissipates the energies of a federal government that needs to focus its attention on important things like national defense and preserving the basic strength of a free society of self reliant individuals."

Perhaps the federal government would do well to take to heart the advice of the bankers who daily must walk the fine line between liabilities and assets.

Injustice To Judge

Judges of our various courts—federal, district and city—have been built up as symbols of justice and, in fact, do come as close to meting out justice as any official who can be found. When a judge, himself, is a victim of illegal detention he gets an idea of how justice may go astray in our attempts at enforcement of the law.

Such a case occurred in Chicago. A hysterical little girl made a complaint to police about "a man with a dog in a park." Two policemen rushed to the park. Sure enough, they found a man with a dog.

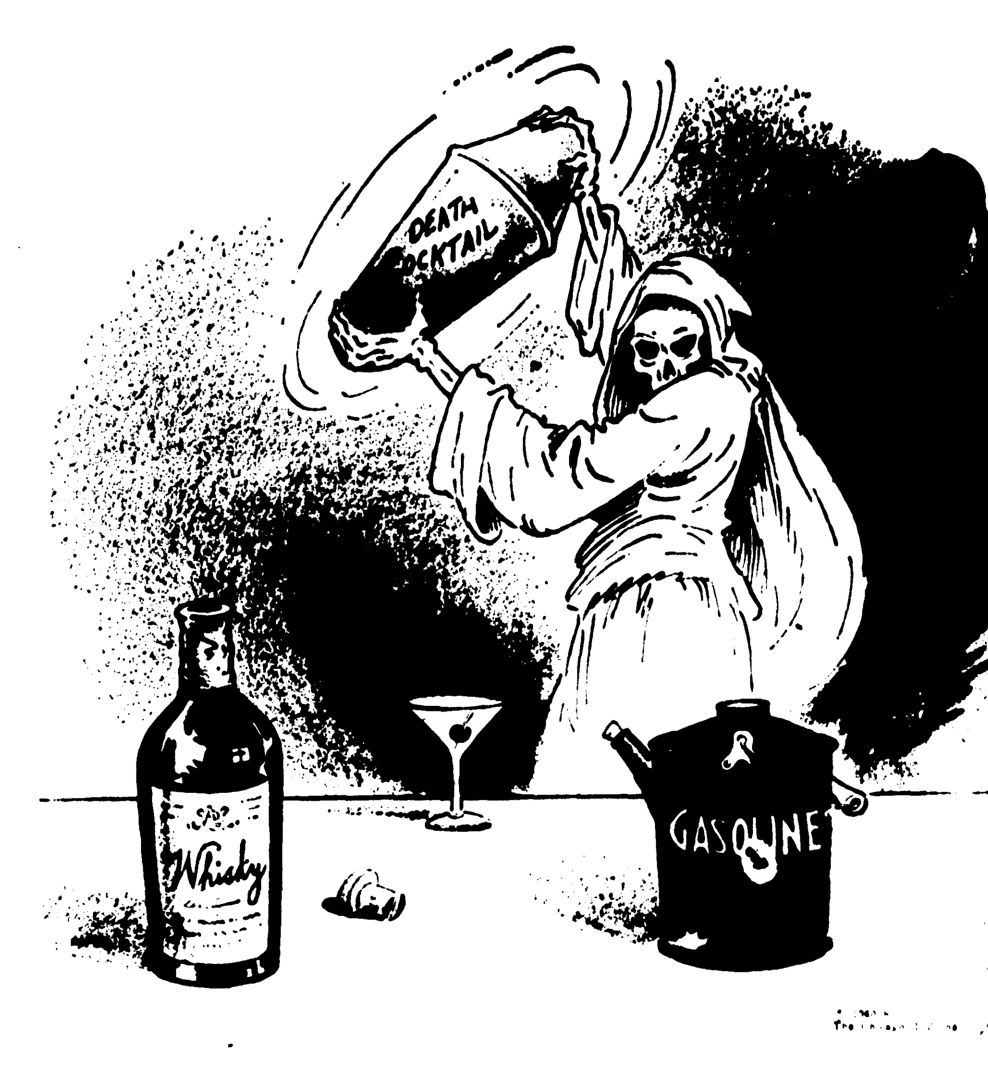
Without considering the possibility that more than one man with a dog might be strolling in the park, the officers pinned the suspect to the ground with their night sticks. Only after an hour of intense questioning were they convinced that their victim was innocent and was, in fact, Circuit Judge John T. Dempsey.

The American Civil Liberties Union, which sometimes goes on witch hunts, seems to have some grounds for its charges that illegal detention can now be seen as a national pattern rather than a series of isolated incidents restricted to one or two major cities. There is evidence that in almost every state in the union persons are often seized without warrants, denied the right to post bail and prevented from communicating with a lawyer or the outside world.

In combatting crime, peace officers are often compelled to face dangerous characters and sometimes to use rough methods to subdue these persons. Thus, there is always the tendency to feel that violent force at the outset is necessary. Nevertheless, there should be no brutal treatment and no more force than necessary in making an arrest, particularly when the person being arrested is only a suspect and may be a respectable and law-abiding citizen.

A chance to prove innocence should also be provided. Officials must be subject to the same rules of conduct that are demanded of its citizens. If the government becomes a law breaker it breeds contempt for the law.

One For The Road-To Eternity



GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Congress Realistic Center

Legislative Body Continues To Administer People's Business; Two-Thirds Of Senate Stays In Office

Again the Congress of the United States meets in session to attend to the people's business. This is the realistic center of government.

Congress is a continuous body, two thirds of the Senate remaining in office no matter how many elections are held. The House of Representatives lasts only two years and then has to be re-elected. Both House and Senate committees are continuous and meet at call whenever it is suitable.

The 87th Congress, which went into session on January 3, faces a new President, a new Cabinet, but most of its committee chairmen will be the same by the rule of seniority which is the most convenient rule thus far discovered for such a purpose. Occasionally, a dumb cluck emerges to the chairmanship of an important committee, but not too often. A man who has remained in the Congress long enough to become a committee chairman has learned a great deal by experience and has discovered the essence of representative government which is that in a republic the will of no one man can be made to prevail. Republican government is government by compromise.

President Kennedy will be inaugurated 17 days after the Congress goes into session. He will be inaugurated by the usual ceremony and excitement. But almost immediately he will send to Congress his long list of appointees, including the members of his Cabinet. These persons will have to be confirmed by the Senate. Usually, there is little fuss about Cabinet officers, the assumption being that a President is entitled to have his own.

The American Cabinet is unlike any similar body anywhere. Its members are not political officials. They are literally secretaries to the President, having no political rights of their own. The President may dismiss a Cabinet officer at will. Cabinet officers do not constitute a government, as they do in Great Britain; they are, to repeat, presidential assistants. He alone is responsible for the government. After he is elected, his responsibility is to Congress, which can, under certain conditions, impeach him. But Congress may not re-elect a president; that only the people can do once by choosing electors in each state.

The constitutional system is designed to prevent tyranny, to maintain a representative republic based upon a division of authority and responsibility.

A president, can, by his personality, character and popularity make himself so powerful that Congress becomes politically dependent upon him. This happened during some years of the Franklin D. Roosevelt presidency. Other times, there are men in Congress, particularly in the Senate, who are so superior to the president in the minds of the people, that the president shrinks before them. This was true of such senators as Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun and in recent years, Robert A. Taft. There do not seem to be men of this type about these days.

President Kennedy will have to accept the Eisenhower budget at first because the fiscal year for the American government ends on June 30. Nevertheless as his program for new legislation is introduced, budgetary changes will come about automatically. It will be possible to judge whether this will be a conservative, a liberal or a radical administration by the very first measures that are sent to Congress. It will also be visible at once whether the President has sufficient strength to carry through his program or whether his congressional liaison officers will have to compromise for votes.

Parties these days mean less than they should. Republicans vote with Democrats and vice versa. There is a conservative group in both Houses and a liberal and radical group in each House. There are North-South coalitions and East-West coalitions. There is a labor group in each House. There are mavericks who go their own way, ignoring party affiliations altogether.

Congressional committees are the most useful agencies for investigation in our country. They alone are able to uncover corruption and subversion; they possess the power of subpoena which makes available data which otherwise could never become available, particularly as legalisms so often impede the truth. Sometimes there is criticism of these committees, of the methods they employ, but they serve the public as censors of the morality of public officials and therefore are to be respected. Methods may be corrected, but destroyed or forgotten data may become rot at the core of a country.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Learn About Fee

Patient Should Inquire Concerning Price As Customer Does

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Can you tell me why the fee for a "neuropsychiatric evaluation" should be fifty dollars? That is the amount charged by a psychiatrist who recently treated my mother.

I surmised that it would correspond to the initial consultation and examination one receives when going to other types of specialists and for which I have found the charge to be ten dollars. If this is so, a charge of five times as much seems to me unreasonable.

Also, why should a psychiatrist charge twenty-five dollars a visit? True, sometimes the patient is with the doctor quite a while, but it is also true that sometimes for only a few minutes.

To be fair (if it is the length of time that started the twenty five dollar rate) the charge should be by the hour and not by the visit.

If I am complaining unreasonably, I will be glad to know it and will pay the bill cheerfully. If the charges are unreasonable, is there anything I can do? (I wrote the doctor asking for more details concerning the neuropsychiatric evaluation" but as yet have received no answer — just another statement. I will appreciate your opinion and advice. — Mrs. M.

ANSWER: Unfortunately you made your mistake when as you said in your letter, you "surmised" what the fee would be. Regular readers of this column may recall that, on several occasions, I have given them the most important tip in cementing doctor-patient relations.

To repeat for new readers, it is this: If at all possible, always ask your doctor the amount of his fee BEFORE you make your decisions to engage his services. Most doctors welcome this. Under such circumstances the bill never comes as a surprise as it has in your case.

Any patient who needs an operation, diagnosis or any other treatment has the right to shop for it — as long as he doesn't sacrifice quality for a bargain.

You want to know the price of your new hat or new suit before you walk out of the store — and you usually find out. Likewise, I tell patients never to walk out of a doctor's office (or better still, into it) without knowing approximately how much you are going to pay for your health.

Remember this, Mrs. M., and you won't have any more misunderstandings with your doctors.

As for your present problem: most medical societies have set up committees to review any complaints such as yours. Often they decide whether or not a doctor's fee is reasonable or otherwise. Call the secretary of your county medical society for information.

VIEWS ON BOXING

In a recent issue of Scope Weekly I have read some interesting remarks on boxing by an Englishman who signed himself, C.G.L.

"Some of our brethren have been concerned lately about the danger of boxing. They have been able to produce nine deaths in amateur boxing in this country (England) in 14 years — about the same number that are killed in three days' motor-biking.

"Smoking cigarettes, which boxers eschew, causes about 40 deaths a day.

"Bridge, because of its tendency to encourage prolonged smoking and its deadly immobility, is probably the most dangerous game played in England now.

"Instead of putting the blame for all your ills on your environment or on something that happened to you when you were a child or on your parents, how infinitely better to assume responsibility for your failures and successes and be self-reliant. In boxing you have to learn to stand alone—"

COMMENT: Bridge, the most dangerous game played in America too? Personally, I'd rather cut a deck of cards, than pull on the gloves.

Cabinet Scrutiny

Opposition Party's Questions To Contain Two Ingredients

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "And now, Mr. Secretary - designate, some questions . . ."

This, approximately, is how nine Senate chairmen will begin the questioning of the nine policy-making appointees of the Kennedy Cabinet, leaving out the Post Office. Republican policy, I am told, will not be to seek out old scandals or to persecute anybody for opinion's sake.

There will be two ingredients in the opposition party's questioning of Mr. Kennedy's choices. One, a statement of political philosophy will be asked. Two, an inquiry will be made into the nominee's habits and attitude toward the Washington neurosis called "empire building" or "bureauitis." The following is more or less the material which Republican Senators will be working with:

(1) Rusk of State: He has many Republican friends in New York who think highly of him. His capacity was demonstrated on the Rockefeller Foundation. The dead past is dead, but Mr. Rusk's statements on Red China and the Korean War may be used as points of departure for inquiry. A question relating to State Department lower echelon personalities, "Who lost Cuba?" is to be expected.

(2) McNamara of Defense: His wait - and - see position on Senator Symington's plan for Pentagon streamlining is going to raise some questions. As a new, inexperienced Secretary, will the 44-year-old McNamara be taken over by the Armed Services vested interests which oppose all change? Or as a new man will McNamara give an ear to Roswell Gilpatric, his Deputy-designate, who served on the Symington and Rockefeller study panels and knows military organization thoroughly? McNamara will also be asked about Mr. Kennedy's implied campaign promise in New York State (which he eventually carried) to take some Air Force contracts away from California (which he lost) and sprinkle them around the country.

(3) Dillon on Treasury: His conflicting passions for the sound dollar and foreign aid will be gently probed. He is known as a "clean desk" man not afflicted with bureauitis.

(4) Kennedy of Justice: The Senator's brother and campaign manager will be the prime Republican target. As chief counsel on the Senate rackets committee, Robert Kennedy was rude to one of his bosses, Senator Curtis of Nebraska, and came out the better man in a showdown with Jack McGovern, the minority counsel. These things aren't forgotten in politics. Besides, Bob Kennedy is known to have tried on the diadem of bureaucratic imperialism. He built up a staff which totaled 269 clerks and investigators. They were not employed simultaneously. Some were on the McClellan committee payroll. Others were borrowed from Federal agencies. But that's a lot of people and they cost a lot of money. The young counsel was both semi-successful and partisan. He failed to "get Hoffa." In his book, "The Enemy Within," he exults that the Republicans failed to "get Reuther." The committee spent $1.25 million in 1957-58-59. As an indication of GOP feelings toward Bob Kennedy, a Republican spokesman tells your reporter:

"That money ought to be listed as a campaign contribution to John Kennedy." There is a proposal under consideration that the GOP hire a special counsel to question Kennedy on these and many other touchy matters.

(5) Freeman of Agriculture: He belongs in the school of big spending Democratic governors who campaign for welfare and end up with a State treasury which cannot pay things like teachers' salaries. Freeman's philosophy of government is liberal expediency. He used the National Guard in a strike at Albert Lea to side against Management. The action later was ruled improper in the courts. The Governor didn't quite say, "I'm the Law," but he said he'd do it again, regardless of law.

(6) Goldberg of Labor: He is almost universally admired as a brilliant man who knows every job because he does the work himself.

(7) Hodges of Commerce: He will probably get a free ride.

(8) Udall of Interior: As a Representative from Arizona he is well and favorably known on Capitol Hill. He runs a lean staff (three men and a gal). He searches his soul over every problem, attends meetings when other Congressmen are apt to send assistants. Except for his position for Home Rule for Washington, Udall should get a free ride.

(9) Ribicoff of Health, Education and Welfare: Like other Democratic Governors in the Kennedy organization, (Freeman, G. Mennen Williams, Adlai Stevenson, Chester Bowles), Ribicoff goes in for centralized authority and big budgets. But this is the one department which was purposely created for charitable projects and with loose purse strings. The opposition will be negligible.

Negro Officials

Four In House Of Representatives, Two Will Be Chairmen

Americans traveling and living abroad, who claim to be constantly embarrassed about charges of racial discrimination in their native land, have but to cite our highest institution, the United States Congress, to refute those charges.

There are four Negroes in the House of Representatives, and beginning with this session two of them will be chairman of standing committees of that legislative body.

In contrast to this one out of two ratio enjoyed by the Negro Congressmen, chairmanships of the other 18 standing committees are divided among the remaining 433 House members, which means that only one white congressman out of 24 heads a committee.

Indeed, if there is any discrimination in the House as far as committee chairmanships are concerned, it would appear to be against the women members, for not one out of the present 15 Congresswomen heads one of the 20 standing committees. This boosts the ratio among the white male members to one committee chairman to every 23.4 members.

In previous Congresses two women have served as chairmen of House Committees. The late Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (Rep.-Mass.) was at one time chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee, and the late Mary Norton (Dem.-N. J.) served as chairman of the House Labor Committee.

Of course, foreigners who know anything about our system of government will be quick to point out that chairmanships are not handed around on a silver platter, but are obtained through the process of seniority. By this process any member who sticks with a committee long enough will eventually become its chairman, as a result of the death, political defeat or voluntary retirement of those outranking him in seniority.

But here again the American apologist has but to point out that Negro Congressman Adam Clayton Powell (Dem.-N. Y.), slated to become chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, was allowed to retain his seniority on that committee, with scarcely a murmur of opposition, after renouncing Democratic Presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson in 1956, and publicly supporting President Eisenhower for reelection, while this year many liberals are urging removal of Rep. William M. Colmer (Dem.-Miss.) from the House Rules Committee because he supported his state's slate of independent electors in the November Presidential election.

This despite the fact that some astute Mississippi politicoes are convinced that the winning independent slate prevented the state from going Republican for the first time in history, because of widespread disenchantment among the citizens of that Deep South state with President-elect Kennedy's ultra liberal-platform.

The four Negroes in the House of Representatives are Reps. Powell, who was reelected for a 9th term by New York's predominantly Negro Harlem district; William L. Dawson, (Dem.-Ill.) who is beginning his 10th term; Charles C. Diggs, Jr., (Dem.-Mich), starting a 4th term; and Robert N. C. Nix (Dem.-Pa.), elected for a third term.

Daily Meditation

Hatred stirreth up strifes: but love covereth all sins — Proverbs 10:12

Hate is a terrible thing and one cannot see how God and animosity can dwell in the same human heart. We can hate sin but we cannot, as Christians, hate the sinner. For, as Solomon said in the above verse, love covereth all sins. In other words, love is so broad and all-embracing and compassionate that it cannot be displaced by sin no matter how deep - seated, vile or flagrant. Christ had love and compassion for the thief on the cross but He did not condone his errors and his mistakes. We can safely follow Christ's lead.

Gracious Father, give us love for others that will transcend our hatred and aversion of sinners. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Goodfellows Help Again

As always, the Goodfellows donated liberally for the annual Christmas good cheer for the needy of the Twin Cities. Many homes were brightened when Goodfellows representatives gave them liberal quantities of food and the hearts of many youngsters were gladdened when they received toys.

All those who donated—and the number was large—can have the satisfaction of knowing that whatever they gave was spent for the benefit of those in need. Goodfellows doesn't pay a percentage of what they receive to any other organization. Neither do they have any paid workers. Nothing is charged for expenses. There is no overhead of any kind. Everyone who works for the Goodfellows works free of charge and buildings and other facilities that may be used are donated. City officials of Monroe and West Monroe cooperate by aiding in the distribution.

All funds and letters sent to the Goodfellows are first received by Monroe News-Star and World. The money is immediately placed in the bank in the name of the Goodfellows. Letters requesting a visit by the Goodfellows are turned over to Goodfellow officials not connected with the newspapers. These officials do all of the buying, determine the needy cases and arrange for the deliveries. The newspapers act only as fund raisers — the others determine where the money goes.

We wish to express our utmost gratitude to those Goodfellows who make this fine work possible ——those who donate money and gifts. We also wish to express thanks to all city officials, Goodfellow officers, those who contributed their individual efforts and all others who aided in the campaign and distribution.

We congratulate all those who made Goodfellows another big success in 1960.

Benefits Hard To Stop

Benefit programs—like taxes—seem almost impossible to cut off once they are put into effect.

Last January, President Eisenhower proposed expenditures of $79.8 billion with forecast receipts totaling $84 billion. This would appear that the federal government's revenues were going to surpass the envisioned expenses.

The President properly proposed that the surplus of $4.2 billion be applied to the long, weary job of retiring the public debt.

Then along came the Budget Bureau and reviewed the situation in view of rising costs. Expenditures, the budget people estimated, would be up to $80.4 billion. Revenues, according to the tax people would be down to $81.5 billion.

This was still $1.1 billion ahead of the expenditures but even so there are fears that fiscal 1961 may end in the red. If allowed to stand as a surplus, the United States will show an addition to the public debt over the past four fiscal years of $12.9 billion.

Defenses and the "cold war" are often the reasons given for the ever-mounting peacetime budgets. But Budget Bureau figures show this is not the case. Defense in this age of missiles and scientific research is an expensive item to be sure. But the statistics show spending is increasing on account of domestic "benefit" programs. In this category are such items as public welfare, farm price supports, aids to housing, public works projects, pensions and hospital care for veterans, the postal deficit and various kinds of public assistance programs.

These items will total over $21 billion for an increase of $2.25 billion over fiscal 1960. By comparison, defense spending is estimated at $48.2 billion, up $752 million from last year.

There is plenty to show for the extra $752 million: new missiles and rocket engines, polaris submarines, the Samo reconnaissance satellite and air-borne alert capabilities.

The figures are particularly alarming in view of the fact that over the past eight years, the cost of "benefits" has increased by 100 per cent while over the same period expenditures in other classifications—including defense — has risen less than 10 per cent.

Promises of "aid" on the part of politicians, made without consideration as to where the money would come from, are responsible for this trend.

New federal programs are adopted as the result of political pressure from organized groups with the result the taxpayers are fiscally stuck with the tab.

As the economic survey of the First National Bank of New York put it: "Once federal aid has been provided, it seems virtually impossible to cut it off. This fact of political life invites sober caution when new programs are considered for adoption by Congress. Small initial expense is the seductive charm that invites congressional approval. But each new program requires staffing a new bureau. Each dissipates the energies of a federal government that needs to focus its attention on important things like national defense and preserving the basic strength of a free society of self reliant individuals."

Perhaps the federal government would do well to take to heart the advice of the bankers who daily must walk the fine line between liabilities and assets.

Injustice To Judge

Judges of our various courts—federal, district and city—have been built up as symbols of justice and, in fact, do come as close to meting out justice as any official who can be found. When a judge, himself, is a victim of illegal detention he gets an idea of how justice may go astray in our attempts at enforcement of the law.

Such a case occurred in Chicago. A hysterical little girl made a complaint to police about "a man with a dog in a park." Two policemen rushed to the park. Sure enough, they found a man with a dog.

Without considering the possibility that more than one man with a dog might be strolling in the park, the officers pinned the suspect to the ground with their night sticks. Only after an hour of intense questioning were they convinced that their victim was innocent and was, in fact, Circuit Judge John T. Dempsey.

The American Civil Liberties Union, which sometimes goes on witch hunts, seems to have some grounds for its charges that illegal detention can now be seen as a national pattern rather than a series of isolated incidents restricted to one or two major cities. There is evidence that in almost every state in the union persons are often seized without warrants, denied the right to post bail and prevented from communicating with a lawyer or the outside world.

In combatting crime, peace officers are often compelled to face dangerous characters and sometimes to use rough methods to subdue these persons. Thus, there is always the tendency to feel that violent force at the outset is necessary. Nevertheless, there should be no brutal treatment and no more force than necessary in making an arrest, particularly when the person being arrested is only a suspect and may be a respectable and law-abiding citizen.

A chance to prove innocence should also be provided. Officials must be subject to the same rules of conduct that are demanded of its citizens. If the government becomes a law breaker it breeds contempt for the law.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Congress Realistic Center

Legislative Body Continues To Administer People's Business; Two-Thirds Of Senate Stays In Office

Again the Congress of the United States meets in session to attend to the people's business. This is the realistic center of government.

Congress is a continuous body, two thirds of the Senate remaining in office no matter how many elections are held. The House of Representatives lasts only two years and then has to be re-elected. Both House and Senate committees are continuous and meet at call whenever it is suitable.

The 87th Congress, which went into session on January 3, faces a new President, a new Cabinet, but most of its committee chairmen will be the same by the rule of seniority which is the most convenient rule thus far discovered for such a purpose. Occasionally, a dumb cluck emerges to the chairmanship of an important committee, but not too often. A man who has remained in the Congress long enough to become a committee chairman has learned a great deal by experience and has discovered the essence of representative government which is that in a republic the will of no one man can be made to prevail. Republican government is government by compromise.

President Kennedy will be inaugurated 17 days after the Congress goes into session. He will be inaugurated by the usual ceremony and excitement. But almost immediately he will send to Congress his long list of appointees, including the members of his Cabinet. These persons will have to be confirmed by the Senate. Usually, there is little fuss about Cabinet officers, the assumption being that a President is entitled to have his own.

The American Cabinet is unlike any similar body anywhere. Its members are not political officials. They are literally secretaries to the President, having no political rights of their own. The President may dismiss a Cabinet officer at will. Cabinet officers do not constitute a government, as they do in Great Britain; they are, to repeat, presidential assistants. He alone is responsible for the government. After he is elected, his responsibility is to Congress, which can, under certain conditions, impeach him. But Congress may not re-elect a president; that only the people can do once by choosing electors in each state.

The constitutional system is designed to prevent tyranny, to maintain a representative republic based upon a division of authority and responsibility.

A president, can, by his personality, character and popularity make himself so powerful that Congress becomes politically dependent upon him. This happened during some years of the Franklin D. Roosevelt presidency. Other times, there are men in Congress, particularly in the Senate, who are so superior to the president in the minds of the people, that the president shrinks before them. This was true of such senators as Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun and in recent years, Robert A. Taft. There do not seem to be men of this type about these days.

President Kennedy will have to accept the Eisenhower budget at first because the fiscal year for the American government ends on June 30. Nevertheless as his program for new legislation is introduced, budgetary changes will come about automatically. It will be possible to judge whether this will be a conservative, a liberal or a radical administration by the very first measures that are sent to Congress. It will also be visible at once whether the President has sufficient strength to carry through his program or whether his congressional liaison officers will have to compromise for votes.

Parties these days mean less than they should. Republicans vote with Democrats and vice versa. There is a conservative group in both Houses and a liberal and radical group in each House. There are North-South coalitions and East-West coalitions. There is a labor group in each House. There are mavericks who go their own way, ignoring party affiliations altogether.

Congressional committees are the most useful agencies for investigation in our country. They alone are able to uncover corruption and subversion; they possess the power of subpoena which makes available data which otherwise could never become available, particularly as legalisms so often impede the truth. Sometimes there is criticism of these committees, of the methods they employ, but they serve the public as censors of the morality of public officials and therefore are to be respected. Methods may be corrected, but destroyed or forgotten data may become rot at the core of a country.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Learn About Fee

Patient Should Inquire Concerning Price As Customer Does

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Can you tell me why the fee for a "neuropsychiatric evaluation" should be fifty dollars? That is the amount charged by a psychiatrist who recently treated my mother.

I surmised that it would correspond to the initial consultation and examination one receives when going to other types of specialists and for which I have found the charge to be ten dollars. If this is so, a charge of five times as much seems to me unreasonable.

Also, why should a psychiatrist charge twenty-five dollars a visit? True, sometimes the patient is with the doctor quite a while, but it is also true that sometimes for only a few minutes.

To be fair (if it is the length of time that started the twenty five dollar rate) the charge should be by the hour and not by the visit.

If I am complaining unreasonably, I will be glad to know it and will pay the bill cheerfully. If the charges are unreasonable, is there anything I can do? (I wrote the doctor asking for more details concerning the neuropsychiatric evaluation" but as yet have received no answer — just another statement. I will appreciate your opinion and advice. — Mrs. M.

ANSWER: Unfortunately you made your mistake when as you said in your letter, you "surmised" what the fee would be. Regular readers of this column may recall that, on several occasions, I have given them the most important tip in cementing doctor-patient relations.

To repeat for new readers, it is this: If at all possible, always ask your doctor the amount of his fee BEFORE you make your decisions to engage his services. Most doctors welcome this. Under such circumstances the bill never comes as a surprise as it has in your case.

Any patient who needs an operation, diagnosis or any other treatment has the right to shop for it — as long as he doesn't sacrifice quality for a bargain.

You want to know the price of your new hat or new suit before you walk out of the store — and you usually find out. Likewise, I tell patients never to walk out of a doctor's office (or better still, into it) without knowing approximately how much you are going to pay for your health.

Remember this, Mrs. M., and you won't have any more misunderstandings with your doctors.

As for your present problem: most medical societies have set up committees to review any complaints such as yours. Often they decide whether or not a doctor's fee is reasonable or otherwise. Call the secretary of your county medical society for information.

VIEWS ON BOXING

In a recent issue of Scope Weekly I have read some interesting remarks on boxing by an Englishman who signed himself, C.G.L.

"Some of our brethren have been concerned lately about the danger of boxing. They have been able to produce nine deaths in amateur boxing in this country (England) in 14 years — about the same number that are killed in three days' motor-biking.

"Bridge, because of its tendency to encourage prolonged smoking and its deadly immobility, is probably the most dangerous game played in England now.

"Instead of putting the blame for all your ills on your environment or on something that happened to you when you were a child or on your parents, how infinitely better to assume responsibility for your failures and successes and be self-reliant. In boxing you have to learn to stand alone—"

COMMENT: Bridge, the most dangerous game played in America too? Personally, I'd rather cut a deck of cards, than pull on the gloves.

Cabinet Scrutiny

Opposition Party's Questions To Contain Two Ingredients

This, approximately, is how nine Senate chairmen will begin the questioning of the nine policy-making appointees of the Kennedy Cabinet, leaving out the Post Office. Republican policy, I am told, will not be to seek out old scandals or to persecute anybody for opinion's sake.

There will be two ingredients in the opposition party's questioning of Mr. Kennedy's choices. One, a statement of political philosophy will be asked. Two, an inquiry will be made into the nominee's habits and attitude toward the Washington neurosis called "empire building" or "bureauitis." The following is more or less the material which Republican Senators will be working with:

(1) Rusk of State: He has many Republican friends in New York who think highly of him. His capacity was demonstrated on the Rockefeller Foundation. The dead past is dead, but Mr. Rusk's statements on Red China and the Korean War may be used as points of departure for inquiry. A question relating to State Department lower echelon personalities, "Who lost Cuba?" is to be expected.

(2) McNamara of Defense: His wait - and - see position on Senator Symington's plan for Pentagon streamlining is going to raise some questions. As a new, inexperienced Secretary, will the 44-year-old McNamara be taken over by the Armed Services vested interests which oppose all change? Or as a new man will McNamara give an ear to Roswell Gilpatric, his Deputy-designate, who served on the Symington and Rockefeller study panels and knows military organization thoroughly? McNamara will also be asked about Mr. Kennedy's implied campaign promise in New York State (which he eventually carried) to take some Air Force contracts away from California (which he lost) and sprinkle them around the country.

(3) Dillon on Treasury: His conflicting passions for the sound dollar and foreign aid will be gently probed. He is known as a "clean desk" man not afflicted with bureauitis.

(4) Kennedy of Justice: The Senator's brother and campaign manager will be the prime Republican target. As chief counsel on the Senate rackets committee, Robert Kennedy was rude to one of his bosses, Senator Curtis of Nebraska, and came out the better man in a showdown with Jack McGovern, the minority counsel. These things aren't forgotten in politics. Besides, Bob Kennedy is known to have tried on the diadem of bureaucratic imperialism. He built up a staff which totaled 269 clerks and investigators. Judge Says Juveniles Not Put In Jail

Judge W. M. Harper of Monroe municipal court yesterday pointed out that juveniles are not placed in jail in Ouachita Parish "unless he incorrigibly commits vandalism in the detention home or tries to destroy it."

"The jail is resorted to by the judges only as a desperate, last resort, when all efforts to curb incorrigibility have failed," the judge said when questioned.

Statements from the veteran municipal jurists were issued following the publication on an editorial Friday morning in which it was reported many youngsters were placed in jails for minor offenses. The editorial was written from information supplied through a national magazine. In the editorial an instance was cited in which a juvenile was placed in jail until he could be tried.

However, locally the situation is better. In fact, all juveniles, whether white or Negro, when they are taken into custody — and when the trouble does not justify returning them to the custody of their parents — are placed in the Green Oaks (Ouachita Parish) Juvenile Detention Home.

"Our detention facility is something to be proud of," Judge Harper pointed out. "It is one of the finest in the United States and far superior to many of our modern homes. The great majority of the children detained there have never seen as good in food, home atmosphere and kindness."

Judge Harper, when asked who supervised the detention home said a special committee of judges and members of the police jury keep a watchful eye on the home and its operation.

"No child is ever sentenced to servitude in the detention home," the judge said, adding that the facility is used "only for children whose situation is such that they cannot or ought not be returned to home environment."

It was also pointed out that all law enforcement officers have rigid instructions to return offending children to their parents when at all possible to do so, unless the situation demands otherwise.

As a further safeguard, Judge Harper pointed out that all judges and probation officers get daily reports from the superintendent of children in the home and "are keenly elert to prompt dispatch of the children in keeping with orderly and proper disposition of the charges against them."

Commenting on another phase of the editorial, Judge Harper stressed that the laws of Louisiana surround "such records (of juvenile offenses) with utmost protection.

"No person's juvenile record can ever be used against him or her in a any proceeding after attainment of seventeen years of age, and all these records are locked against public inspection, with no outsider allowed to view them without a court order. The courts jealously refrain even from such orders except in extreme emergencies," he said.

Pistol Reported Stolen Friday

C. C. Costin has reported to police a 38 - caliber revolver has been stolen from his auto while it was parked on a parking lot here, Monroe police reported Friday.

Costin is of Route one Bastrop.

Ike Predicts Gains By GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told the Republican National Committee Friday the GOP must not get in the habit of losing elections.

Given a standing ovation in his final appearance as President before the committee, Eisenhower predicted Republicans will win control of the House of Representatives in 1962 if they work hard enough.

He said the big job ahead is to reverse the trend of the last four Congressional elections when the party was defeated.

"Four times is plenty and we'll have no more on it," he declared.

As for the presidential race defeat of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Eisenhower said that when he was young his athletic coaches always said "if you have to take defeat, be a sportsman about it."

He said he agreed, but added: "I never had a coach tell me I had to get used to it."

In a burst of unity before the President's appearance at a luncheon session, the national committee unanimously asked Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky to stay on as its chairman. Morton said he would, indicating he might remain at the party helm at least through this session of Congress.

Air Collision Probers Told Beacon Off

NEW YORK (UPI)—Three jet pilots testified Friday that a radio beacon in New Jersey was not functioning properly the day a United Airlines DC8 jet apparently strayed from its course and collided with a TWA Super Constellation over New York City.

All three pilots were flying the same general course taken by doomed DC8 when the disaster occurred on Dec. 16, with a loss of 134 lives.

The three pilots who said they found a malfunction in the Colt's Neck Army range radio beacon in New Jersey were Capt. Walter P. Moran and Capt. W. S. McCormick, both of American Airlines, and Capt. Paul Wallace, a United Air Lines pilot.

None of the three reported their trouble with the beacon to the Federal Aviation Agency until the day after the collision. They indicated they did not realize the seriousness of the situation until after the crash.

Colt's neck is one of two radio beacons that give pilots the position of the Preston holding pattern, where the ill-fated DC8 was supposed to be at the time of the crash. Actually it had strayed 11 miles from its course.

Three witnesses testified they had no knowledge of any difficulties at the Colt's Neck signal. Capt. Richard J. Gosnell, of Pittsburgh, a Capital Airlines pilot, said he had no trouble while flying into LaGuardia at about the same time that the lost DC8 was headed for Idlewild. Robert B. Mueller, assistant vice president in charge of flight operations for TWA, said he had received no reports of difficulty with the Colt's Neck facility. Marvin Horstman, district manager for flying of TWA, said he had not heard of discrepancies in ground procedures in the New York area in the last 30 days.

Flee To Freedom

BERLIN (UPI)—The Information Bureau West, a private West Berlin intelligence agency, said Friday that 13,853 avowed Communists fled to West Berlin from East Germany in 1960.

They were in addition to the thousands of non-Communist East Germans who crossed into the West during the year.

Proprietor Of Delta Club Is Sentenced

Clarence J. Jenkins, 60, proprietor of the Delta Club, was sentenced to one year in the Ouachita Parish jail Friday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of juveniles.

Judge David I. Garrett sentenced him in Fourth District Court.

Jenkins, of Route 3, was charged with permitting juvenile to be patrons of the nightclub.

Leroy Baynard Robinson, 21, route three, Bastrop, was sentenced after he admitted stealing the United Carbon jeep. It was recovered after it was wrecked near Bernice.

W. C. Fitts, 52, 881 Sierra Way, San Bernardino, Calif., admitted theft of a $300 auto during the Fourth District Court session. He was remanded for presentence investigation.

Samuel D. Orser, 46, of Tioga, pled kuilty to theft of a $2,000 late model auto from Saul Adler's car rental service, and also was remanded. Marilyn Zaijor, 33, 2911 Pearle St., Groves, Tex., charged with Orser, was on bond and did not appear in court.

Jimmie Garrard and John Marvin Miller pled innocent to charges of simple criminal damage to property and simple escape from the Monroe city jail on Dec. 8.

Garrard, 27 and Miller, 25, both of Hattiesburg, Miss., are charged with tearing a hole in the ceiling and another hole in the room of the jail while escaping.

Officials say that it was raining heavily at the time, and that before the escape was discovered the jail had flooded, causing several hundred dollars worth of damage.

Both men will be tried on May 1.

Billy Joe Barnes, 29, of Texas, pled innocent to a charge of theft of $1800.

He is charged with stealing the money on Dec. 3, 1959, from Honest Johns' store, by pawning a fake diamond after he had a real diamond appraised.

Negro Is Booked In Forgery Case

Ellis, of 812½ Ouachita, was detained at 3:45 p.m.

State Arrest Is Made In Murder Case

MENA, Ark. (AP) — Sheriff Bruce Scoggin said Friday 50-year-old woman has been arrested in Covington, La., and charged with murder in the death of a man, believed to be her husband. His dismembered torso was found in a well near here last week.

Arkansas State Trooper Carroll Page said in Covington that Norma MacDonald refused to waive extradition to Arkansas. Prosecuting Atty. Ben Core of De Queen, Ark., said he would start extradition proceedings immediately.

Page said bones and human flesh were found in the septic tank of Mrs. MacDonald s farm home near here, in the septic tank of a house she had rented in Covington, and in a station wagon she drove from Arkansas to Louisiana.

Her husband, E. B. MacDonald, 73, a farmer, has been missing since mid - December, Scoggin said. He added that MacDonald fit the description laboratory experts devised from parts of the body found in the well.

Part of the torso was found in a well on a farm two miles north of here last Friday by Mrs. Lee Roy Hill, who had moved to the farm the day before. Scoggin said the head still has not been located.

After the torso aas found, authorities began searching wells and septic tanks in this west Arkansas area for otherparts of the body. They found the flesh and bones in the septic tank on the MacDonald farm, about five miles away.

Police finally located Mrs. MacDonald in Covington, where the other parts of the body were found in a septic tank, Page said. She was taken into custody immediately by Louisiana officers.

South Bloc Fights Back In Purge Try

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Southern Democrats, bucking a leadership drive to purge Rep. William M. Colmer, D - Miss., from his key Rules Committee post, threatened Friday to make their own purge attempt against Rep. Adam C. Powell Jr., D-N.Y.

At the same time, they offered to consider any "reasonable compromise" in the fight to break a conservative roadblock which could tie up the Kennedy legislative program in the rules group.

"We will see whether whites and Negroes are treated the same around here," said Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the conservative - controlled Rules Committee and unofficial spokesman for the southern bloc.

Colmer is one of four Mississippi Democrats who bolted the national Democratic ticket in November in favor of an independent slate of electors who finally voted for Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

Powell, a Negro minister slated to be chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, supported the Democratic ticket in 1960 but backed the re-election of President Eisenhower in 1956.

Smith's committee is the center of a party-splitting fight that has dominated the House in the new 87th Congress, blocking final organization of the House and the appointment of legislative committees.

Speaker Sam Rayburn is determined to break the group's conservative coalition which is comprised of Smith, Colmer and the committee's four Republican members. This could be done by replacing Colmer with a Democrat more friendly to liberal legislation of the kind to be advanced by President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Salesmen Freed By City Police

James C. Kelly Jr., Monroe chief of police, reported Friday that five magazine salesmen booked Thursday for felony theft were released later in the day Thursday.

Kelly had reported Thursday the five were booked on information given the Monroe police department by Lafayette authorities in a radio message.

Kelly reported Friday that the five were released Thursday after it was learned they were not included in the alleged theft.

Damage Lawsuit Filed In Court

Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Lowery of Union Parish filed a $41,543.20 lawsuit Friday with the Ouachita Parish clerk of court, for injuries Mrs. Lowery says she received in a two-car mishap on June 15, 1960.

Defendants are Monroe Wholesale Drug Co. Inc., owner of a panel truck involved in the collision in Monroe, and Homer J. Kramer, El Dorado, Ark., driver of the car in which Mrs. Lowery was a passenger.

Carl Sandburg Keeps Busy On 83rd Birthday

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Carl Sandburg spent his 83rd birthday Friday as he spends most other days: writing.

The movie studio were he is working planned a reception with a big cake for the white-thatched poet. But it was only a temporary break in his unceasing work of creating a body of writing unparalleled in American letters. Among his current projects:

1. Spending seven hours daily as consultant for George Stevens' Biblical film, "The Greatest Story Ever Told;"

2. Writing the latest of his memoirs, "Ever the Winds of Chance" (52,000 words so far);

3. Working on some of his 200 unpublished poems, including a 20-pager he has been composing for 18 years "and probably will be printed posthumously."

Sandburg said that he is planning no lengthy works like his Lincoln biography—"I think I've given the eggheads of America enough to chew on."

AMA Pledges Health Law Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Medical Association Friday promised full cooperation to the Kennedy administration in implementing the health care for the aged law, enacted at the last session of Congress.

Dr. E. Vincent Askey of Los Angeles, AMA president, made the announcement after conferring here with Abraham Ribicoff, secretary - designate of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The AMA said it had pledged its continued cooperation with the federal department on a number of health programs and expressed belief it would enjoy a warm relationship with Ribicoff.

Askey said the purpose of the conference was to acquaint Ribicoff with AMA's past and continuing liaison with the federal government in numerous health programs.

Askey said his group told Ribicoff that the AMA was ready and willing to assist in any way possible in implementing the Kerr-Mills law, which provides health care for the aged.

Castro Keeps War Jitters Going Strong

HAVANA (UPI) — War jitters swept Cuba anew Friday as Fidel Castro turned out his Communist-equipped army and militia to man the island's defenses against what he called "imminent" United States attack.

Heavily-armed patrols trudged through Havana's streets: gunners manned anti-aircraft defenses on rooftops; radios blared martial music and called for volunteer blood donors, and long-barrelled guns pointed threateningly at open sea.

The government newspaper Revolucion carried a headline: "Paratroopers vessels are readied for invasion." The newspaper's "flash" was based on a Russian Izvestia correspondent's dispatch from New York which, in turn, was based on a charge made by Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa before the United Nations Security Council.

The Security Council refused to act on the Cuban allegations.

To heighten national tension, the government launched a major crackdown on its Roman Catholic oppostition.

Armed women militia units seized the San Francisco de Sales Convent to halt publication of the Catholic bi-monthly Quincena which has been only critical of the increasing Communist trend in Cuba.

The action coincided with reports that other militia detachments had seized the Jesuit seminary Del Calvario and the seminary in Santiago de Las Vegas, both in greater Havana.

Unconfirmed reports said five priests had been arrested in the anti-church sweep on undisclosed charges.

Militia units also seized the downtown headquarters of the Knights of Columbus and the offices of the Catholic Workers Association.

The tension was not confined to the capital alone. In Oriente Province, at the eastern end of the island, urgent government appeals went out to the people to join the militia and to donate blood.

Travelers arriving in Havana from Central Cuba reported tight military security throughout the area.

Elsewhere, in Las Villas Province, the picturesque mountain city of Trinidad was described as a virtual military encampment. Eyewitnesses said a large airfield strip is being built near Trinidad.

But it was in Havana, once the placid and happy "pearl of the Caribbean" where the government worked most feverishly to bring the war jitters to new heights.

Militia and army units guarded the city's approaches between Soviet and Czech tanks, armored cars and trucks. Militia units were put on permanent guard at the city's big but empty luxury hotels where a dozen U. S. corrsepondents live.

Judge Says Juveniles Not Put In Jail

Judge W. M. Harper of Monroe municipal court yesterday pointed out that juveniles are not placed in jail in Ouachita Parish "unless he incorrigibly commits vandalism in the detention home or tries to destroy it."

"The jail is resorted to by the judges only as a desperate, last resort, when all efforts to curb incorrigibility have failed," the judge said when questioned.

Statements from the veteran municipal jurists were issued following the publication on an editorial Friday morning in which it was reported many youngsters were placed in jails for minor offenses. The editorial was written from information supplied through a national magazine. In the editorial an instance was cited in which a juvenile was placed in jail until he could be tried.

However, locally the situation is better. In fact, all juveniles, whether white or Negro, when they are taken into custody — and when the trouble does not justify returning them to the custody of their parents — are placed in the Green Oaks (Ouachita Parish) Juvenile Detention Home.

"Our detention facility is something to be proud of," Judge Harper pointed out. "It is one of the finest in the United States and far superior to many of our modern homes. The great majority of the children detained there have never seen as good in food, home atmosphere and kindness."

Judge Harper, when asked who supervised the detention home said a special committee of judges and members of the police jury keep a watchful eye on the home and its operation.

"No child is ever sentenced to servitude in the detention home," the judge said, adding that the facility is used "only for children whose situation is such that they cannot or ought not be returned to home environment."

It was also pointed out that all law enforcement officers have rigid instructions to return offending children to their parents when at all possible to do so, unless the situation demands otherwise.

As a further safeguard, Judge Harper pointed out that all judges and probation officers get daily reports from the superintendent of children in the home and "are keenly elert to prompt dispatch of the children in keeping with orderly and proper disposition of the charges against them."

Commenting on another phase of the editorial, Judge Harper stressed that the laws of Louisiana surround "such records (of juvenile offenses) with utmost protection.

"No person's juvenile record can ever be used against him or her in a any proceeding after attainment of seventeen years of age, and all these records are locked against public inspection, with no outsider allowed to view them without a court order. The courts jealously refrain even from such orders except in extreme emergencies," he said.

Arkansas State Trooper Carroll Page said in Covington that Norma MacDonald refused to waive extradition to Arkansas. Prosecuting Atty. Ben Core of De Queen, Ark., said he would start extradition proceedings immediately.

Page said bones and human flesh were found in the septic tank of Mrs. MacDonald s farm home near here, in the septic tank of a house she had rented in Covington, and in a station wagon she drove from Arkansas to Louisiana.

Her husband, E. B. MacDonald, 73, a farmer, has been missing since mid - December, Scoggin said. He added that MacDonald fit the description laboratory experts devised from parts of the body found in the well.

Part of the torso was found in a well on a farm two miles north of here last Friday by Mrs. Lee Roy Hill, who had moved to the farm the day before. Scoggin said the head still has not been located.

After the torso aas found, authorities began searching wells and septic tanks in this west Arkansas area for otherparts of the body. They found the flesh and bones in the septic tank on the MacDonald farm, about five miles away.

Police finally located Mrs. MacDonald in Covington, where the other parts of the body were found in a septic tank, Page said. She was taken into custody immediately by Louisiana officers.

South Bloc Fights Back In Purge Try

At the same time, they offered to consider any "reasonable compromise" in the fight to break a conservative roadblock which could tie up the Kennedy legislative program in the rules group.

"We will see whether whites and Negroes are treated the same around here," said Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the conservative - controlled Rules Committee and unofficial spokesman for the southern bloc.

Colmer is one of four Mississippi Democrats who bolted the national Democratic ticket in November in favor of an independent slate of electors who finally voted for Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

Powell, a Negro minister slated to be chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, supported the Democratic ticket in 1960 but backed the re-election of President Eisenhower in 1956.

Smith's committee is the center of a party-splitting fight that has dominated the House in the new 87th Congress, blocking final organization of the House and the appointment of legislative committees.

Speaker Sam Rayburn is determined to break the group's conservative coalition which is comprised of Smith, Colmer and the committee's four Republican members. This could be done by replacing Colmer with a Democrat more friendly to liberal legislation of the kind to be advanced by President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Salesmen Freed By City Police

James C. Kelly Jr., Monroe chief of police, reported Friday that five magazine salesmen booked Thursday for felony theft were released later in the day Thursday.

Kelly had reported Thursday the five were booked on information given the Monroe police department by Lafayette authorities in a radio message.

Kelly reported Friday that the five were released Thursday after it was learned they were not included in the alleged theft.

Damage Lawsuit Filed In Court

Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Lowery of Union Parish filed a $41,543.20 lawsuit Friday with the Ouachita Parish clerk of court, for injuries Mrs. Lowery says she received in a two-car mishap on June 15, 1960.

Defendants are Monroe Wholesale Drug Co. Inc., owner of a panel truck involved in the collision in Monroe, and Homer J. Kramer, El Dorado, Ark., driver of the car in which Mrs. Lowery was a passenger.

Carl Sandburg Keeps Busy On 83rd Birthday

The movie studio were he is working planned a reception with a big cake for the white-thatched poet. But it was only a temporary break in his unceasing work of creating a body of writing unparalleled in American letters. Among his current projects:

1. Spending seven hours daily as consultant for George Stevens' Biblical film, "The Greatest Story Ever Told;"

2. Writing the latest of his memoirs, "Ever the Winds of Chance" (52,000 words so far);

3. Working on some of his 200 unpublished poems, including a 20-pager he has been composing for 13 years "and probably will be printed posthumously."

Sandburg said that he is planning no lengthy works like his Lincoln biography—"I think I've given the eggheads of America enough to chew on."

AMA Pledges Health Law Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Medical Association Friday promised full cooperation to the Kennedy administration in implementing the health care for the aged law, enacted at the last session of Congress.

Dr. E. Vincent Askey of Los Angeles, AMA president, made the announcement after conferring here with Abraham Ribicoff, secretary - designate of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The AMA said it had pledged its continued cooperation with the federal department on a number of health programs and expressed belief it would enjoy a warm relationship with Ribicoff.

Askey said the purpose of the conference was to acquaint Ribicoff with AMA's past and continuing liaison with the federal government in numerous health programs.

Askey said his group told Ribicoff that the AMA was ready and willing to assist in any way possible in implementing the Kerr-Mills law, which provides health care for the aged.

Castro Keeps War Jitters Going Strong

HAVANA (UPI) — War jitters swept Cuba anew Friday as Fidel Castro turned out his Communist-equipped army and militia to man the island's defenses against what he called "imminent" United States attack.

Heavily-armed patrols trudged through Havana's streets; gunners manned anti-aircraft defenses on rooftops; radios blared martial music and called for volunteer blood donors, and long-barrelled guns pointed threateningly at open sea.

The government newspaper Revolucion carried a headline: "Paratroopers vessels are readied for invasion." The newspaper's "flash" was based on a Russian Izvestia correspondent's dispatch from New York which, in turn, was based on a charge made by Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa before the United Nations Security Council.

The Security Council refused to act on the Cuban allegations.

To heighten national tension, the government launched a major crackdown on its Roman Catholic oppostition.

Armed women militia units seized the San Francisco de Sales Convent to halt publication of the Catholic bi-monthly Quincena which has been only critical of the increasing Communist trend in Cuba.

The action coincided with reports that other militia detachments had seized the Jesuit seminary Del Calvario and the seminary in Santiago de Las Vegas, both in greater Havana.

Unconfirmed reports said five priests had been arrested in the anti-church sweep on undisclosed charges.

Militia units also seized the downtown headquarters of the Knights of Columbus and the offices of the Catholic Workers Association.

The tension was not confined to the capital alone. In Oriente Province, at the eastern end of the island, urgent government appeals went out to the people to join the militia and to donate blood.

Travelers arriving in Havana from Central Cuba reported tight military security throughout the area.

Elsewhere, in Las Villas Province, the picturesque mountain city of Trinidad was described as a virtual military encampment. Eyewitnesses said a large airfield strip is being built near Trinidad.

But it was in Havana, once the placid and happy "pearl of the Caribbean" where the government worked most feverishly to bring the war jitters to new heights.

Militia and army units guarded the city's approaches between Soviet and Czech tanks, armored cars and trucks. Militia units were put on permanent guard at the city's big but empty luxury hotels where a dozen U. S. corrsepondents live.

INFORMATIVE LABELING

Poisoning in the home has become so common, new legislation was needed to supplement the old federal caustic poison act of 1927. The original law covered only 12 highly caustic and corrosive materials. The manufacturers were required to put the word "POISON" on the label and include the first aid instructions to be used in case of accident.

So much progress has been made in chemistry we now have more than 300,000 household products that require adequate warning labels. These include innumerable polishes, bleaches, cleaners, and paint thinners and removers that contain dangerous ingredients.

It is impossible to estimate how many lives will be saved by the new law. When the name of the hazardous substance is known, an appropriate antidote can be prescribed. Hereafter, keep the label on the container; secure it with scotch tape should it loosen or tear. The information it provides may prove lifesaving if the chemical is swallowed accidentally.

The new act applies to products intended for household use that may cause injury or illness. The manufacturers must include on the label their name and place of business and the common or usual chemical name of the substance.

The word "DANGER" is used for materials that are extremely flammable, corrosive, or toxic. "POISON" is suggested for the latter. All others require the signal "WARNING" or "CAUTION." There must be an affirmative statement of the principal nazard such as "CAUSES BURNS," "VAPOR HARMFUL," or "ABSORBED THRU SKIN."

The appropriate or necessary first aid is to be mentioned as well as instructions for handling and storage of packages that need special care along this line. The government also requires the statement, "KEEP OUT OF REACH OF CHILDREN," or its practical equivalent.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on poisonings if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

EYE CORNER DEBRIS

G. G. writes: Is the formation of muscus in the corners of the eyes a sign of beginning cataract?

REPLY

No. Cataract occurs inside the eye and the mucus you mention is outside. It stems from irritation or lack of cleanliness.

HARSH BREATHING

J. S. writes: What is stridor in an infant?

REPLY

A narrowing of the air passageway thru the voice box (larynx) due to inflammation, spasm, or a developmental defect. The youngster has difficulty bringing air into the lungs, which leads to a raspy type of breathing that is audible all over the house.

MENOPAUSE AND FERTILITY

H. P. writes: Are women more fertile as they approach the menopause?

REPLY

No. The opposite is true; women become less and less fertile with the passage of time. It may be difficult to convince some women of this fact, especially those who have had an extra dividend during the mid-forties.

DISPLACED SHOULDER JOINT

J. Z. writes: My shoulder has come out of place three times recently. I'm 32 years old and would like to know if there is a cure for this kind of dislocation.

REPLY

Yes. Surgery is indicated after three dislocations. The capsule that supports the shoulder must be repaired, to hold the socket together.

Job Develops Into Profitable Vaudeville Act

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — What started out to be a routine job developed into a money-making vaudeville act for an enterprising bearded engineering student at the University of Florida.

But the sight Thursday of a husky young mn outfitted in beard, hat, rubberized pants, sweat-shirt and canvas shoes soon attracted a crowd of about 100 persons.

Any encores planned?

"Well, there's next Thursday."

But campus police might have a different idea. They gave the Fort Lauderdale student a stern lecture before releasing him.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Job Develops Into Profitable Vaudeville Act

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — What started out to be a routine job developed into a money-making vaudeville act for an enterprising bearded engineering student at the University of Florida.

But the sight Thursday of a husky young mn outfitted in beard, hat, rubberized pants, sweat-shirt and canvas shoes soon attracted a crowd of about 100 persons.

Any encores planned?

"Well, there's next Thursday."

But campus police might have a different idea. They gave the Fort Lauderdale student a stern lecture before releasing him.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

French Get Warning On Algeria Vote

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle warned Frenchmen Friday that their vote in Sunday's referendum will be their last chance to solve the Algerian problem, explaining there is a risk world events will sweep it out of their hands.

"To reply with the negative for any reason whatever is to deny that the problem should ever be solved by France," he said. "To abstain is to choose sterility for France."

The president made his third and last television appeal for massive backing for Algerian self-determination while villagers in Algeria already were casting the first votes. For security reasons, the referendum runs three days in that North African territory.

A dozen bombs set off in Paris and Algiers underscored the tense atmosphere. A last-minute attempt to blow down Radio Algiers power lines before De Gaulle spoke was a failure.

The 70-year-old French war hero, speaking with emphasis and some emotion, asked a massive "yes" vote—"a majority in proportion to what is involved"—so his plan could be carried through.

About 30 million Frenchmen, including nearly four million Algerian Moslems, must decide whether they favor the setting up of an autonomous Algerian state and later political self-determination by the Algerians themselves.

Cuban Consul In N.O. Resigns

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Cuban consul in New Orleans resigned Friday and longshoremen voted to boycott any ships that come here from Cuba or are bound there.

Mrs. Amparo Rocha, who had been consul since Francisco Batet quit Dec. 7, said she hoped to resume her duties after Cuba "gets Castro out of there."

Mrs. Rocha was the last employe at the consulate. She said she would try to get a job in New Orleans.

She added: "I've been in the foreign service 23 years. I would like to stay long enough to get my pension. That would be two more years. You never know. We may be able to open again soon. But right now they must get Castro out of there."

The action by International Longshoremen's Association Local 1418 followed similar action by dock workers in Baton Rouge, Mobile and Eastern ports. The boycott was requested by Capt. William V. Bradley, ILA president.

UNPRECEDENTED STEP

Nixon Announces His Own Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an unprecedented step, Vice President Richard M. Nixon expressed a sentimental farewell to Congress as he announced formally his own defeat for the presidency.

He also extended his best wishes to his successful opponent in the recent presidential elections, Democrat John F. Kennedy.

In filling the role, it was Nixon's duty to announce officially that Kennedy won 303 electrol votes to his own 219 and thus won the nation's highest fofice.

Nixon recalled that this was the first time in 100 years that a vice president, who under the Constitution is required to preside at the canvassing, had to announce his own defeat and the victory of his opponent.

"I don't think there could be a more striking or more eloquent" testimoy, Nixon declared, to the strength of America's constitutional system.

Nixon referred to the situation in 1861, when Vice President John Breckenridge performed the same duty for Abraham Lincoln.

No matter how hard-fought political campaigns may be or how close the election results, Nixon continued, "those who lose accept the verdict." And he said those who lose also accept those who win.

Nixon then recalled that it was almost 14 years to the day since he first entered government service as a freshman member of the House.

He called his service as House member, senator and vice president a great honor. And he said he wished to join in "heartfelt best wishes" to his colleagues of both parties "and to John F. Kennedy and to Lyndon B. Johnson."

Speaker Sam Rayburn, D.-Tex., who had sat at Nixon's side during the canvassing proceeding, grabbed the vice president's hand and simultaneously gave him a warm pat on the back. His audience rose and applauded him.

Italian Actress Asks Citizenship

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Anna Maria Alberghetti, 24, actress and singer from Italy, applied for United States citizenship Thursday.

She has been in the country on a permanent visa since 1955. An immigration official said she will be eligible to take the oath of allegiance in about three months if she passes her examinations.

Miss Alberghetti said her mother and a brother and sister, Paul and Carla, will apply for citizenship today.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

French Get Warning On Algeria Vote

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle warned Frenchmen Friday that their vote in Sunday's referendum will be their last chance to solve the Algerian problem, explaining there is a risk world events will sweep it out of their hands.

"To reply with the negative for any reason whatever is to deny that the problem should ever be solved by France," he said. "To abstain is to choose sterility for France."

The president made his third and last television appeal for massive backing for Algerian self-determination while villagers in Algeria already were casting the first votes. For security reasons, the referendum runs three days in that North African territory.

A dozen bombs set off in Paris and Algiers underscored the tense atmosphere. A last-minute attempt to blow down Radio Algiers power lines before De Gaulle spoke was a failure.

The 70-year-old French war hero, speaking with emphasis and some emotion, asked a massive "yes" vote—"a majority in proportion to what is involved"—so his plan could be carried through.

About 30 million Frenchmen, including nearly four million Algerian Moslems, must decide whether they favor the setting up of an autonomous Algerian state and later political self-determination by the Algerians themselves.

Cuban Consul In N.O. Resigns

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Cuban consul in New Orleans resigned Friday and longshoremen voted to boycott any ships that come here from Cuba or are bound there.

Mrs. Amparo Rocha, who had been consul since Francisco Batet quit Dec. 7, said she hoped to resume her duties after Cuba "gets Castro out of there."

Mrs. Rocha was the last employe at the consulate. She said she would try to get a job in New Orleans.

She added: "I've been in the foreign service 23 years. I would like to stay long enough to get my pension. That would be two more years. You never know. We may be able to open again soon. But right now they must get Castro out of there."

The action by International Longshoremen's Association Local 1418 followed similar action by dock workers in Baton Rouge, Mobile and Eastern ports. The boycott was requested by Capt. William V. Bradley, ILA president.

UNPRECEDENTED STEP

Nixon Announces His Own Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an unprecedented step, Vice President Richard M. Nixon expressed a sentimental farewell to Congress as he announced formally his own defeat for the presidency.

He also extended his best wishes to his successful opponent in the recent presidential elections, Democrat John F. Kennedy.

In filling the role, it was Nixon's duty to announce officially that Kennedy won 303 electrol votes to his own 219 and thus won the nation's highest foficе.

Nixon recalled that this was the first time in 100 years that a vice president, who under the Constitution is required to preside at the canvassing, had to announce his own defeat and the victory of his opponent.

"I don't think there could be a more striking or more eloquent" testimoy, Nixon declared, to the strength of America's constitutional system.

Nixon referred to the situation in 1861, when Vice President John Breckenridge performed the same duty for Abraham Lincoln.

No matter how hard-fought political campaigns may be or how close the election results, Nixon continued, "those who lose accept the verdict." And he said those who lose also accept those who win.

Nixon then recalled that it was almost 14 years to the day since he first entered government service as a freshman member of the House.

He called his service as House member, senator and vice president a great honor. And he said he wished to join in "heartfelt best wishes" to his colleagues of both parties "and to John F. Kennedy and to Lyndon B. Johnson."

Speaker Sam Rayburn, D.-Tex., who had sat at Nixon's side during the canvassing proceeding, grabbed the vice president's hand and simultaneously gave him a warm pat on the back. His audience rose and applauded him.

Italian Actress Asks Citizenship

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Anna Maria Alberghetti, 24, actress and singer from Italy, applied for United States citizenship Thursday.

She has been in the country on a permanent visa since 1955. An immigration official said she will be eligible to take the oath of allegiance in about three months if she passes her examinations.

Miss Alberghetti said her mother and a brother and sister, Paul and Carla, will apply for citizenship today.

THREE LOCAL TEAMS IN SEMIFINALS

Lions, Neville Take Wins In Ouachita Cage Tourney

Ouachita's net-blistering Lions, stunned by a 15-12 first quarter disadvantage at the hands of West Monroe, caught fire and poured on the steam midway in the second quarter and never let up to hand the Rebels a 76-51 setback and bounce into the semifinals of their own tournament last night.

Tommy Beaube scored 26 points to lead Ouachita, and teammates Carl Guinn and Don Long had 17 and 11 points respectively. West Monroe's fine ball handler Charles Dykes got 21 points, Charles Taylor added 16, and Oliver Schulz got 10 for the Rebels.

West Monroe had its only good quarter to open the game, handing the host Lions a three - point setback, but Ouachita found the mark when Milton Platt hit a set shot to knot the score at 16-16 with 6:30 minutes left in the half.

From that point the Rebels were never in the game. Ouachita's Carl Guinn and Bob Massingil cleared the backboards and hit with accuracy on jump shots and tip - ins, Long and Platt hit from outside, and bruising Tommy Beaube hit from everywhere as the Lions pulled away to a 30-18 halftime lead.

Ouachita made it 44-21 after three quarters and sent in a host of substitutions to finish out the last part of the game, coasting to the 67-38 win.

West Monroe had spent 73 points in an earlier game yesterday and just didn't have enough left to handle the Lions, battling to stay in the race for their own tourney championship. The Lions drew a bye to open the meet.

Neville whipped Grayson for the third time this year to nail down a semifinal spot opposite St. Matthew's. The Tigers hit Grayson with another smooth attack and held off a closing rally to claim a 48-36 victory. Butch Cerniglia hit 18 points and proved a top rebounding aid to lead the Tigers, while Mike Fettinger claimed second place in scoring with 13 points. Donnie Legg led Grayson with 13 markers.

Neville pushed out to a 6-0 lead in the first period on baskets by Keith, Cerniglia and Fettinger before Kenndey hit a push shot for Grayson to make it 6-2. Davis got a jump shot for Grayson with two minutes left in the first quarter to close the gap to 7-6, but Neville held on for a 12-8 lead at the end of the quarter.

The Tigers came on strong to open the second quarter with Nolan scoring three points via a technical foul on Grayson and Keith hitting a long push shot to make it 17-8. Cerniglia got a layup with the buzzer to give Neville a 26-16 halftime advantage.

Leading 35-20 after three quarters, Neville ran it to 41-25 midway in the final period and then sent in a new team. Grayson caught the subs with a wide open attack and cut the lead to 46-36 before Ethridge sank a layup for Neville and made it 48-36.

West Monroe rolled over Winnsboro by a 73-43 score in an earlier game. Charles Taylor led the Rebels with 23 points and Charles Dykes hit 18. Burt Boyle got 11 and Hines Davis 10 points for the losers.

Forest stopped Quitman, 54-45 to gain a semifinal berth. Larry Butler scored 29 points for the winners, while Raymond Mariche scored 12 points and Mike Vining 11. Arnold Ramsey scored 29 points for Quitman.

In girls' action West Monroe ran over Quitman by a 58-23 score, with Nancy Smith scoring 19 points for the winners and Jean Tidwell picking up 15 points for the losers. Chatham edged Neville, 39-33 to take a semifinal spot, with L. Simons scoring 21 points for Chatham and Carolyn Courson getting 14 for Neville.

Chatham and Winnsboro tie up in a girls' game to start off today's slate at 10 a.m., West Monroe plays Baskin in a girls' tilt at 11:15 a.m., and Ouachita meets Forest in a boys' semifinal clash at 1:45 o'clock. Neville and St. Matthew's meet in the other boys' semifinal game at 1:45 o'clock. The girls' consolation game will be played at 5:15 p.m. and the boys' at 6:30 o'clock. Girls' finals are set for 7:45 and the boys' championship is set for 9 o'clock.

Northeast Dumps Ark. State, 76-66

Johnson Puts In 35 Points For Indians

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

Lanny Johnson snapped out of a four-game slump with a 35-point barrage and Northeast's hot Indians dumped Arkansas State, 76-66, Friday night in the college gym.

Johnson, who hadn't scored over 11 points since Dec. 16, pushed in buckets from all angles as Northeast gained revenge on a club that beat them 21 points in Arkansas earlier this season.

The victory was the 7th of the season for Lenny Fant's Indians while Arkansas State, rated one of the nation's better small college clubs, fell to 6-3 for the campaign.

Arkansas State was more accurate from the field, canning 48 per cent of its shots, but excellent rebounding by Northeast, led by the big bear of the boards, Robert Cook, permitted the visitors to get off only 54 shots, 15 less than the local Indians tried.

Northeast canned 32 of its 69 shots for 46 per cent while pulling down 29 rebounds to Arkansas State's 29. Cook got 13 of the Tribe rebounds.

Johnson led a corps of Northeast outside shooters that included Stuart Toms (12 points) and Milton Linder (10). Big Dave Harkins also got 10 points.

The Northeast Tribe did not make a field goal from anywhere nearer the goal than the foul line until Harkins tripped in a fielder with 12:29 left in the second half.

Northeast's 10-point spread at the finish was the biggest lead the Indians enjoyed in the game. The Tribe achieved the 10-point margin earlier in the contest, when Johnson made a three-point play with 7:03 gone, but the Arkansas pulled within four points of Northeast near the end before Linder, Harkins and Johnson shoved the lead back up to 10 just before the buzzer.

Northeast led throughout most of the contest, witnessed by a near-capacity crowd. The Indians took over the top spot for good when Linder bucketed one from the field with 14:12 left in the first half, 13-12. Johnson followed with another fielder about a minute later.

Warren Moore connected for the Arkansas with 12:55 left to narrow the Tribe lead to a point but Johnson hit again with 11:42 left to make it 17-14. Billy Jones pulled State within a point again at 11:20 but Toms sank a fielder and Johnson followed with two more and the visitors were never so close again.

Tall John Gatling got 18 points to pace the State attack while Jones contributed 17.

Arkansas State's towel - waving coach, John Rauth, drew the wrath of the crowd often and cost his team a point when referee Aleric Smith blew the ball dead just before a successful State free throw to lecture the visitors' mentor on yelling from the bench. The State bench drew a technical foul a few minutes later.

Next action for Northeast comes Jan. 10 when the Indians play powerful Memphis State at Memphis. Next home game for the Indians is a Gulf States Conference encounter against McNeese here Jan. 12.

PALMER BLOWS UP

Ted Kroll Leads At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ted Kroll led the way through the first round of the $45,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament Friday, but it was a gigantic blowup by Arnold Palmer, the National Open king, that provided the shock of the day.

Palmer, 1960's "Golfer of the Year," took a staggering 12 on the final hole—seven over par for the hole—and a 44-33—77 for the otherwise fine round.

Kroll, 41, fired a 5-under-par 66 on the 7,000-yard, par 36-35—71 Rancho Municipal Course.

Kroll, whose last major victory brought a $100,000 payoff in the 1956 "World Championship" at Chicago, re-entered the spotlight this bright, sunny day with a 35-31.

That gave the veteran from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., a one stroke lead over three rivals—Bill Collins of Crystal River, Fla., 36-31; Bob Goalby, also booked out of Crystal River, 34-33, and Eric Monti of Los Angeles, 35-32. Monti led for three rounds here a year ago, then collapsed with a final round 80 and a tie for seventh place.

Bracketed at 68 were Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass., old-folks E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, San Francisco; Bob Gajda, Bloomfiled Hills Mich., George Bayer, from nearby South Pasadena, and Lionel Hebert, former National PGA champion, from Lafayette, La.

Among the better known players in the 70 group were Art Wall Jr., Billy Maxwell, Gary Player and Walter Burkemo.

But the Palmer matter was the stunner of the round.

The stocky, 31-year-old pro from Miami by way of Pennsylvania, whose $80,000-plus winnings last year set a record, came up to his last hole one under par.

The field of 150 was divided, half starting from the first tee, the other from the 10. Thus, Palmer, Casper and Bo Wininger finished on the par-5, 508-yard ninth.

Palmer's drive from the tee was good and straight down the hard fairway. But something happened.

Using a 3-wood, he sent two consecutive shots out of bounds to the right in the adjoining practice range. His next two shots flew to the left, over the temporary bleachers and onto a street that runs alongside the fairway.

The distressed Palmer finally reached the edge of the green in 10. It took two more to get the ball into the hole.

The gallery, however, gave him a warm welcome when he finally reached the putting surface, and again when he holed out.

Semifinals begin at 10 this morning with the consolation games set for 5 and 6 and finals for 7 and 8.

Hutting Junior Tourney Moves Into Final Play

HUTTIG, ARK., (Special) — Two boys' teams and two girls' groups advanced in the Huttig Junior Basketball Tourney last night. Norphlet outlasted Union, 40-22 with Dumas picking up 11 points for the winners. Rhodes scored 17 points for Union. Host Huttig downed Jefferson City, 43-18 in a girls game with Margery Hendrix scoring 27 points for the winners and Williams adding 10 for Jefferson.

Mt. Holly knocked the Huttig boys out of the meet with a 35-29 setback. Caine got 6 points for the home team and Hanna got 25 for the winners.

Top Fan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 12-year-old baseball fan from Eau Claire, Wis., Friday was named the winner of the minor league's "It's Fun to Be a Fan" contest.

Dorothy Sirianni, who rarely misses a home game of the Eau Claire Braves in the Northern League, will receive a swimming pool which can be converted into an ice skating rink during the winter months.

Recreation Basketball

New Chapel Hill Baptist handed Fellowship Baptist their first defeat, 43-33 in the Church B League last night. Griggs hit 20 points for the winners and Grady Jones led Fellowship with 13 points. Bethel Baptist knocked off First Baptist of Monroe, 35-15, with Sanford scoring 16 points for the winners and Caskey hitting 10 for the losers.

Temple Baptist managed a 41-18 win over Southside Baptist. Warlick scored 19 points for Temple and Collins scored 8 for Southside.

In the Church A League Southside Methodist blasted Parkview Baptist, 55-27. Thompson hit 21 points for the winners and Reeves chalked up 11 for Parkview. St. Joseph stopped Central Baptist, 44-27 behind the 13 point production of Hardy. Hendrix picked up 13 points for Central. College Place Baptist won by forfeit over West Monroe First Baptist.

Five games were played in the Lee Junior High Girls League. The Indians beat the Panthers, 14-10. Reed got 14 markers for the winners and Burgess scored 8 for the Panthers. Brice scored four points as the Pelicans beat the Lions, 4-2. Montrozos got 2 points for the losers.

Ullman and Shavers scored 6 points each as the Sputniks downed the Bearcats, 12-1. Mussleman scored all two of the losers points. The Tigers downed the Eagles, 8-4, with Halmark getting 4 points for the victors and Baldo and Daniels each scoring 2 points for the Eagles. The Pirates managed an 18-16 sudden death win over the Scouts with Branch leading the way with 12 points. White got six points in a losing cause for the Scouts.

Rickey To Take Over New Team

NEW YORK (UPI) — Branch Rickey, baseball's 78-year-old "mahatma," will come out of retirement to take over as president of the New York club in the expanded National League, it was learned Friday by United Press International.

The appointment of Rickey, who already has gained lasting fame for introducing the farm system and the Negro to organized baseball, will be made shortly by the New York club which doesn't begin play until 1962.

Rickey has been in retirement since the proposed Continental major league, of which he was the president, was disbanded last year. He formerly served as general manager of the St. Louis Cards, Brooklyn Dodgers, and Pittsburgh Pirates.

The current head of the New York club is Donald M. Grant, a Wall Street broker. Rickey will take over as president and Grant will be named vice president or to some other executive post with the club. Charles Hurth, former president of the Southern Association who was named the club's general manager when it held a franchise in the Continental League, will remain in that post.

In New York, Grant said, "it is no secret that when and if we have completed our other business arrangements with the National League and are ready to organize our baseball team we will want to secure the service of some well-known expert in the field of organizing teams. We have not completed negotiations with anyone as yet."

Rickey's appointment to the presidency will add prestige to the club. As general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Rickey introduced baseball's farm system. With the Brooklyn Dodgers, he introduced the Negro to baseball and at Pittsburgh he laid the foundation for the Pirates' present world-champion team.

The Continental League never played one game as baseball's third major league, but Rickey's persistence paved the way to expansion by the two major leagues —the American this year and the National in 1962. Three of the proposed CL franchises — Minneapolis-St. Paul, New York and Houston—have been voted into the expanded majors. The Twin Cities were awarded the Washington Senators franchise with a new club being set up in Washington to join Los Angeles in the American and Houston and New York are members of the National.

Rickey has spent a total of 58 years in professional baseball, starting his major league career as a catcher with Cincinnati in 1904 and playing with the St. Louis Browns and New York Yankees later on. During his long and colorful career, he managed both the Browns and Cardinals and took over the Dodgers in 1942. He moved to Pittsburgh as general manager in 1950 and was chairman of the board of directors when he left to head the CL in 1959.

Both Block Teams Gain Semifinals

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — Both local teams, Harrisonburg and Sicily Island boys and Monterey and Newellton girls gained semifinals berths yesterday in the Block Invitational Tournament.

Block and Enterprise girls meet in the semifinals at 10:00 today while Monterey and Newellton clash at 12:30. Block faces Monterey at 11:15 and Harrisonburg tackles Sicily Island at 1:45 in the boys semifinals. Finals are set for 7 and 8:15.

Sicily Island boys won two games yesterday, dropping Central of Larto, 41-34, and Ferriday, 63-50. Albert Krause led the scoring in both games with 10 and 22 points. Wiley had 12 for Central and Fernette 15 for Ferriday.

Newellton girls also won twice, downing Sicily Island, 38-24, and Ogden, 37-31. Betty Vines had 18 in the first game for Newellton and shared honors with Hankins, both with 14, in the second. Wells got 13 for the Islanders and Alford 16 for Ogden.

Newellton boys downed Ogden, 45-21, as Sonny Kifer scored 14 points. Wood hit 9 for Ogden. Monterey girls got 14 points from Trisler and edged Harrisonburg, 29-27. Randall got 16 for the losers.

Block girls tripped Vidalia, 45-32, as McMillan scored 21 points. Ivy had 14 for Vidalia. Truman Boothe led Harrisonburg boys to a 59-35 rout of Newellton. Kifer hit 12 for Newellton.

Billy Brooks' 30 points sparked Block boys to a 69-34 conquest of Vidalia, which was led by Bruce's 13 points.

THREE LOCAL TEAMS IN SEMIFINALS

Lions, Neville Take Wins In Ouachita Cage Tourney

Ouachita's net-blistering Lions, stunned by a 15-12 first quarter disadvantage at the hands of West Monroe, caught fire and poured on the steam midway in the second quarter and never let up to hand the Rebels a 76-51 setback and bounce into the semifinals of their own tournament last night.

Tommy Beaube scored 26 points to lead Ouachita, and teammates Carl Guinn and Don Long had 17 and 11 points respectively. West Monroe's fine ball handler Charles Dykes got 21 points, Charles Taylor added 16, and Oliver Schulz got 10 for the Rebels.

West Monroe had its only good quarter to open the game, handing the host Lions a three - point setback, but Ouachita found the mark when Milton Platt hit a set shot to knot the score at 16-16 with 6:30 minutes left in the half.

From that point the Rebels were never in the game. Ouachita's Carl Guinn and Bob Massingil cleared the backboards and hit with accuracy on jump shots and tip - ins, Long and Platt hit from outside, and bruising Tommy Beaube hit from everywhere as the Lions pulled away to a 30-18 halftime lead.

Ouachita made it 44-21 after three quarters and sent in a host of substitutions to finish out the last part of the game, coasting to the 67-38 win.

West Monroe had spent 73 points in an earlier game yesterday and just didn't have enough left to handle the Lions, battling to stay in the race for their own tourney championship. The Lions drew a bye to open the meet.

Neville whipped Grayson for the third time this year to nail down a semifinal spot opposite St. Matthew's. The Tigers hit Grayson with another smooth attack and held off a closing rally to claim a 48-36 victory. Butch Cerniglia hit 18 points and proved a top rebounding aid to lead the Tigers, while Mike Fettinger claimed second place in scoring with 13 points. Donnie Legg led Grayson with 13 markers.

Neville pushed out to a 6-0 lead in the first period on baskets by Keith, Cerniglia and Fettinger before Kenndey hit a push shot for Grayson to make it 6-2. Davis got a jump shot for Grayson with two minutes left in the first quarter to close the gap to 7-6, but Neville held on for a 12-8 lead at the end of the quarter.

The Tigers came on strong to open the second quarter with Nolan scoring three points via a technical foul on Grayson and Keith hitting a long push shot to make it 17-8. Cerniglia got a layup with the buzzer to give Neville a 26-16 halftime advantage.

Leading 35-20 after three quarters, Neville ran it to 41-25 midway in the final period and then sent in a new team. Grayson caught the subs with a wide open attack and cut the lead to 46-36 before Ethridge sank a layup for Neville and made it 48-36.

West Monroe rolled over Winnsboro by a 73-43 score in an earlier game. Charles Taylor led the Rebels with 23 points and Charles Dykes hit 18. Burt Boyle got 11 and Hines Davis 10 points for the losers.

Forest stopped Quitman, 54-45 to gain a semifinal berth. Larry Butler scored 29 points for the winners, while Raymond Mariche scored 12 points and Mike Vining 11. Arnold Ramsey scored 29 points for Quitman.

In girls' action West Monroe ran over Quitman by a 58-23 score, with Nancy Smith scoring 19 points for the winners and Jean Tidwell picking up 15 points for the losers. Chatham edged Neville, 39-33 to take a semifinal spot, with L. Simons scoring 21 points for Chatham and Carolyn Courson getting 14 for Neville.

Chatham and Winnsboro tie up in a girls' game to start off today's slate at 10 a.m., West Monroe plays Baskin in a girls' tilt at 11:15 a.m., and Ouachita meets Forest in a boys' semifinal clash at 1:45 o'clock. Neville and St. Matthew's meet in the other boys' semifinal game at 1:45 o'clock. The girls' consolation game will be played at 5:15 p.m. and the boys' at 6:30 o'clock. Girls' finals are set for 7:45 and the boys' championship is set for 9 o'clock.

But the Palmer matter was the stunner of the round.

The stocky, 31-year-old pro from Miami by way of Pennsylvania, whose $80,000-plus winnings last year set a record, came up to his last hole one under par.

The field of 150 was divided, half starting from the first tee, the other from the 10. Thus, Palmer, Casper and Bo Wininger finished on the par-5, 508-yard ninth.

Palmer's drive from the tee was good and straight down the hard fairway. But something happened.

Using a 3-wood, he sent two consecutive shots out of bounds to the right in the adjoining practice range. His next two shots flew to the left, over the temporary bleachers and onto a street that runs alongside the fairway.

The distressed Palmer finally reached the edge of the green in 10. It took two more to get the ball into the hole.

The gallery, however, gave him a warm welcome when he finally reached the putting surface, and again when he holed out.

Semifinals On Ouachita Jr. Meet Program

Boys and girls from Ouachita and Jefferson, Sterlington and Transylvania girls, and Jena and West Monroe boys gained the semifinals of the Ouachita Junior High Tournament yesterday.

In girls' games, Ouachita edged West Monroe, 17-15; Transylvania trounced Logtown, 31-13; Swartz fell to Jefferson, 30-27, and Sterlington slipped by Bastrop, 20-19.

Ouachita beat Bastrop, 17-10; West Monroe routed Woodlawn, 32-12; Jena whipped Lee, 21-15, and Jefferson toppled Logtown, 26-19, in boys games.

High scoring girls were Ouachita's Ragland (12 points), West Monroe's Stumps (13), Transylvania's Thompson (21) Logtown's Shipp (6), Swartz' Quinn (21), Jefferson's Leath (20), Bastrop's Rogers (9) and Sterlington's Swayze (12).

Top shooters among the boys were Ouachita's Rugg (12), Bastrop's Johnston (3), West Monroe's Alexander (18), Woodlawn's Owens (5), Jena's Cannon (13), Lee's Brooks (8), Jefferson's Haile (10) and Logtown's Young (8).

Semifinals begin at 10 this morning with the consolation games set for 5 and 6 and finals for 7 and 8.

Hutting Junior Tourney Moves Into Final Play

HUTTIG, ARK., (Special) — Two boys' teams and two girls' groups advanced in the Huttig Junior Basketball Tourney last night. Norphlet outlasted Union, 40-22 with Dumas picking up 11 points for the winners. Rhodes scored 17 points for Union. Host Huttig downed Jefferson City, 43-18 in a girls game with Margery Hendrix scoring 27 points for the winners and Williams adding 10 for Jefferson.

Mt. Holly knocked the Huttig boys out of the meet with a 35-29 setback. Caine got 6 points for the home team and Hanna got 25 for the winners.

Top Fan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 12-year-old baseball fan from Eau Claire, Wis., Friday was named the winner of the minor league's "It's Fun to Be a Fan" contest.

Dorothy Sirianni, who rarely misses a home game of the Eau Claire Braves in the Northern League, will receive a swimming pool which can be converted into an ice skating rink during the winter months.

Recreation Basketball

New Chapel Hill Baptist handed Fellowship Baptist their first defeat, 43-33 in the Church B League last night. Griggs hit 20 points for the winners and Grady Jones led Fellowship with 13 points. Bethel Baptist knocked off First Baptist of Monroe, 35-15, with Sanford scoring 16 points for the winners and Caskey hitting 10 for the losers.

Temple Baptist managed a 41-18 win over Southside Baptist. Warlick scored 19 points for Temple and Collins scored 8 for Southside.

In the Church A League Southside Methodist blasted Parkview Baptist, 55-27. Thompson hit 21 points for the winners and Reeves chalked up 11 for Parkview. St. Joseph stopped Central Baptist, 44-27 behind the 13 point production of Hardy. Hendrix picked up 13 points for Central. College Place Baptist won by forfeit over West Monroe First Baptist.

Five games were played in the Lee Junior High Girls League. The Indians beat the Panthers, 14-10. Reed got 14 markers for the winners and Burgess scored 8 for the Panthers. Brice scored four points as the Pelicans beat the Lions, 4-2. Montrozos got 2 points for the losers.

Ullman and Shavers scored 6 points each as the Sputniks downed the Bearcats, 12-1. Mussleman scored all two of the losers points. The Tigers downed the Eagles, 8-4, with Halmark getting 4 points for the victors and Baldo and Daniels each scoring 2 points for the Eagles. The Pirates managed an 18-16 sudden death win over the Scouts with Branch leading the way with 12 points. White got six points in a losing cause for the Scouts.

FRIDAY'S NBA RESULTS

Johnson Puts In 35 Points For Indians

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

Lanny Johnson snapped out of a four-game slump with a 35-point barrage and Northeast's hot Indians dumped Arkansas State, 76-66, Friday night in the college gym.

Johnson, who hadn't scored over 11 points since Dec. 16, pushed in buckets from all angles as Northeast gained revenge on a club that beat them 21 points in Arkansas earlier this season.

The victory was the 7th of the season for Lenny Fant's Indians while Arkansas State, rated one of the nation's better small college clubs, fell to 6-3 for the campaign.

Arkansas State was more accurate from the field, canning 48 per cent of its shots, but excellent rebounding by Northeast, led by the big bear of the boards, Robert Cook, permitted the visitors to get off only 54 shots, 15 less than the local Indians tried.

Northeast canned 32 of its 69 shots for 46 per cent while pulling down 29 rebounds to Arkansas State's 29. Cook got 13 of the Tribe rebounds.

Johnson led a corps of Northeast outside shooters that included Stuart Toms (12 points) and Milton Linder (10), Big Dave Harkins also got 10 points.

The Northeast Tribe did not make a field goal from anywhere nearer the goal than the foul line until Harkins tripped in a fielder with 12:29 left in the second half.

Northeast's 10-point spread at the finish was the biggest lead the Indians enjoyed in the game. The Tribe achieved the 10-point margin earlier in the contest, when Johnson made a three-point play with 7:03 gone, but the Arkansas pulled within four points of Northeast near the end before Linder, Harkins and Johnson shoved the lead back up to 10 just before the buzzer.

Northeast led throughout most of the contest, witnessed by a near-capacity crowd. The Indians took over the top spot for good when Linder bucketed one from the field with 14:12 left in the first half, 13-12. Johnson followed with another fielder about a minute later.

Warren Moore connected for the Arkansas with 12:55 left to narrow the Tribe lead to a point but Johnson hit again with 11:42 left to make it 17-14. Billy Jones pulled State within a point again at 11:20 but Toms sank a fielder and Johnson followed with two more and the visitors were never so close again.

Tall John Gatling got 18 points to pace the State attack while Jones contributed 17.

Arkansas State's towel - waving coach, John Rauth, drew the wrath of the crowd often and cost his team a point when referee Aleric Smith blew the ball dead just before a successful State free throw to lecture the visitors' mentor on yelling from the bench. The State bench drew a technical foul a few minutes later.

Next action for Northeast comes Jan. 10 when the Indians play powerful Memphis State at Memphis. Next home game for the Indians is a Gulf States Conference encounter against McNeese here Jan. 12.

Cage Tourney At Oak Grove In Last Day

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — Three teams moved up in the boys' division of the Oak Grove basketball tournament last night. Lake Providence downed Oak Ridge, 52-35, with Jim Stampley hitting 13 points for the winners and Nolan contributing 19 for Oak Ridge.

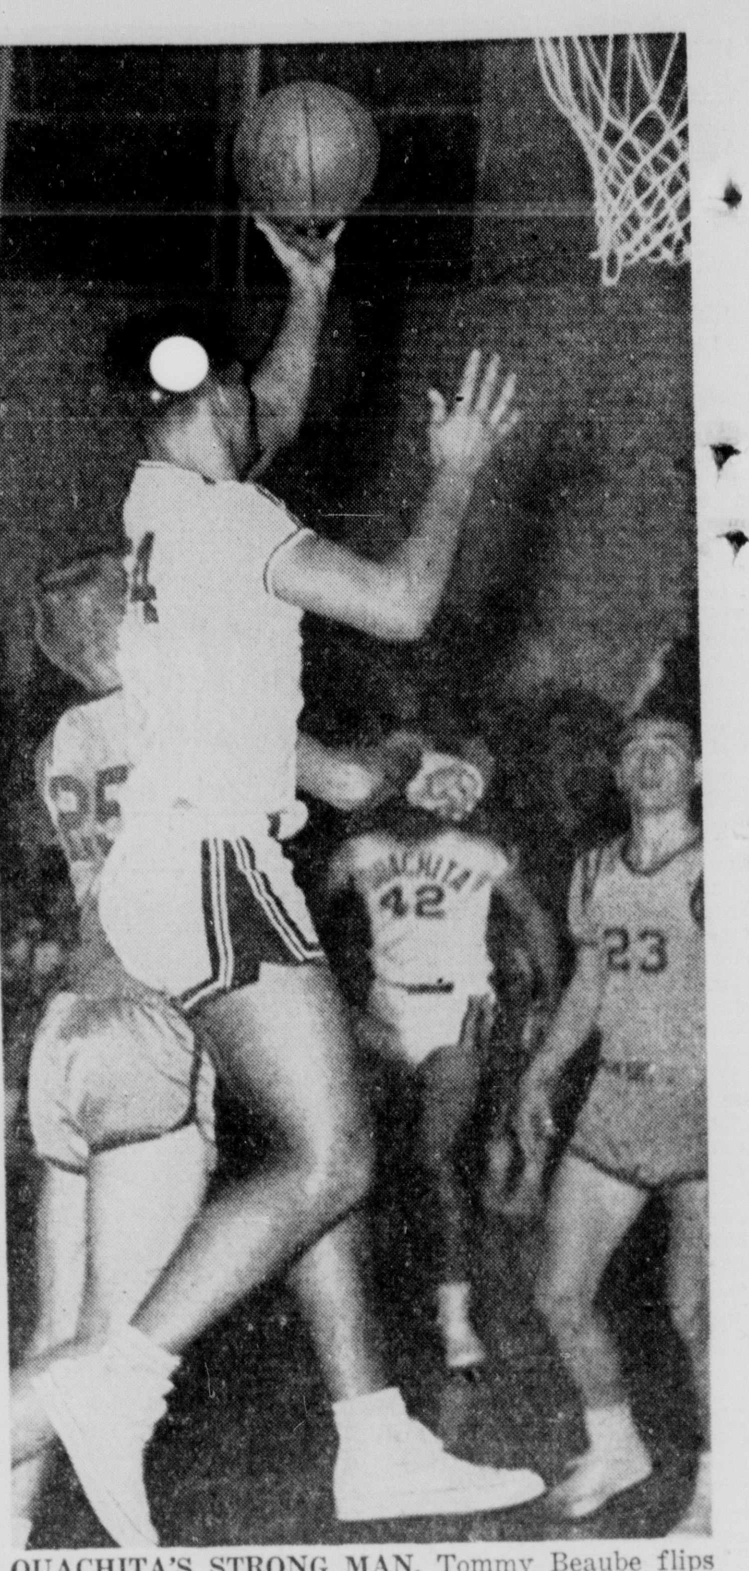
Epps plastered Tallulah, 67-37 behind the 25 points of Wayne Cleveeland, while Phil Weaver and Don Bennett picked up 14 each for the Trojans.

Kilbourne gained a semifinal berth in boys' play with a 54-39 decision over Mer Rouge. Hollis Hill, Randy Capers and Rodney Sanders all scored 12 points for Kilbourne and Buddy Blackwell led Mer Rouge with 21 points.

In a girls game Kilbourne upset Mer Rouge's Bonita Tourney champs by a 48-28 score. Donna Edwards led Kilbourne with 32 points and Susan Montgomery with 24 points.

Action picks up today with Lake Providence meeting Kilbourne in a girls' game at 10 a.m. and Oak Grove facing Pioneer in a girls' game at 11:30 o'clock.

At 1 o'clock Kilbourne and Lake Providence square off in a boys' semifinal game and at 2:30 Epps and host Oak Grove battle in the other boys' semifinal.



OUACHITA'S STRONG MAN, Tommy Beaube flips in a layup that helped sink West Monroe's Rebels, 76-51 last night and move the Lions into the semifinals of their own tournament. Beaube led the winners with 26 points. West Monroe's Charles Taylor and Charles Dykes (23) watch the play.

Rickey To Take Over New Team

NEW YORK (UPI) — Branch Rickey, baseball's 78 - year - old "mahatma," will come out of retirement to take over as president of the New York club in the expanded National League, it was learned Friday by United Press International.

The appointment of Rickey, who already has gained lasting fame for introducing the farm system and the Negro to organized baseball, will be made shortly by the New York club which doesn't begin play until 1962.

Rickey has been in retirement since the proposed Continental major league, of which he was the president, was disbanded last year. He formerly served as general manager of the St. Louis Cards, Brooklyn Dodgers, and Pittsburgh Pirates.

The current head of the New York club is Donald M. Grant, a Wall Street broker. Rickey will take over as president and Grant will be named vice president or to some other executive post with the club. Charles Hurth, former president of the Southern Association who was named the club's general manager when it held a franchise in the Continental League, will remain in that post.

In New York, Grant said, "it is no secret that when and if we have completed our other business arrangements with the National League and are ready to organize our baseball team we will want to secure the service of some well-known expert in the field of organizing teams. We have not completed negotiations with anyone as yet."

Rickey's appointment to the presidency will add prestige to the club. As general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Rickey introduced baseball's farm system. With the Brooklyn Dodgers, he introduced the Negro to baseball and at Pittsburgh he laid the foundation for the Pirates' present world-champion team.

The Continental League never played one game as baseball's third major league, but Rickey's persistence paved the way to expansion by the two major leagues—the American this year and the National in 1962. Three of the proposed CL franchises — Minneapolis-St. Paul, New York and Houston—have been voted into the expanded majors. The Twin Cities were awarded the Washington Senators franchise with a new club being set up in Washington to join Los Angeles in the American and Houston and New York are members of the National.

Rickey has spent a total of 58 years in professional baseball, starting his major league career as a catcher with Cincinnati in 1904 and playing with the St. Louis Browns and New York Yankees later on. During his long and colorful career, he managed both the Browns and Cardinals and took over the Dodgers in 1942. He moved to Pittsburgh as general manager in 1950 and was chairman of the board of directors when he left to head the CL in 1959.

Both Block Teams Gain Semifinals

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — Both local teams, Harrisonburg and Sicily Island boys and Monterey and Newellton girls gained semifinals berths yesterday in the Block Invitational Tournament.

Block and Enterprise girls meet in the semifinals at 10:00 today while Monterey and Newellton clash at 12:30. Block faces Monterey at 11:15 and Harrisonburg tackles Sicily Island at 1:45 in the boys semifinals. Finals are set for 7 and 8:15.

Sicily Island boys won two games yesterday, dropping Central of Larto, 41-34, and Ferriday, 63-50. Albert Krause led the scoring in both games with 10 and 22 points. Wiley had 12 for Central and Fernette 15 for Ferriday.

Newellton girls also won twice, downing Sicily Island, 38-24, and Ogden, 37-31. Betty Vines had 18 in the first game for Newellton and shared honors with Hankins, both with 14, in the second. Wells got 13 for the Islanders and Alford 16 for Ogden.

Newellton boys downed Ogden, 45-21, as Sonny Kifer scored 14 points. Wood hit 9 for Ogden. Monterey girls got 14 points from Trisler and edged Harrisonburg, 29-27. Randall got 16 for the losers.

Block girls tripped Vidalia, 45-32, as McMillan scored 21 points. Ivy had 14 for Vidalia. Truman Boothe led Harrisonburg boys to a 59-35 rout of Newellton. Kifer hit 12 for Newellton.

Billy Brooks' 30 points sparked Block boys to a 69-34 conquest of Vidalia, which was led by Bruce's 13 points.

THOSE CRAZY BOUNCES

Each conference team has played only one league game but the two top favorites, Northwestern and Southwestern, have bitten the dust, both at the hands of teams that were expected to finish in the lower regions.

The return of Stan Kernan has evidently given McNeese the boost several GSC coaches thought it would when they tabbed the Cowboys a title contender before the season. The ease with which the Pokes handled Southeastern (48-25) Wednesday gave us the impression Southeastern was to be the GSC patsy — until the Lions upended Lamar Tech, 71-68, in three overtimes Thursday evening.

It's pretty dangerous right now (it's dangerous anytime) to come to any conclusions about the Gulf States cage chase but here are a few that seem apparent at the moment:

NORTHEAST is about 100 per cent improved. They've improved their record 100 per cent anyway, now (Friday afternoon) having six victories, twice as many as last year.

Stuart Toms is just about as good a backcourter as there is and when Lanny Johnson gets hot again, the Tribe is going to have as deadly a pair of outside shots as anybody in the league. Dave Harkins' improvement has been remarkable and Robert Cook still won't take many shots but he pulls the ball off the board pretty regularly.

Milton Linder is showing some of the form that made him an all-stater at Fort Necessity and the top Tribe reserves, Jerry Snelling and G. D. Thompson are better than average.

NORTHWESTERN isn't the power it was last year. It very well might be before the season is over but something's missing now. Any team that returns four starters and gets a newcomer like Gayle Hatch shouldn't have lost five games of 12.

Don't waste any sympathy on LOUISIANA TECH. Anybody that can overtake Southwestern with its top stars on the bench is going to do all right. Tech doesn't have as young a club as Northeast but youngsters like Max Lewis and Joe Abendroth are going to plague Bulldog foes for a long time. This year's Tech-Northeast games should be dandies.

SOUTHWESTERN is not going to keep shooting 50 per cent all season but USL and McNEESE, off their records so far, appear to be the best teams in the conference at present.

SOUTHEASTERN hadn't done much until beating Lamar but those who saw the Cardinals in the Northeast Tournament can testify that anybody that beats them can't be discounted.

The bowl games usually brew up an argument over the mythical national championship of college football and this year's classics muddled things up a little more than usual.

Minnesota, No. 1 in both wire service polls, looked sharp in the second half of the Rose Bowl. The second half, however, was 17 points too late. Washington also looked great but for only a half.

But it's good to see the Football Writers Association name the Rebels the country's No. 1 team. Mississippi has been a frequent challenger for the national crown in the past several years and its good to see it finally make the winner's circle, about the only honor the Rebs had failed to receive until this year.

We have a feeling next year at this time, LSU is going to be one of the championship claiments. If you're a betting man, it's a good longshot.

SHORT SHOTS

CHARLIE BARNES, Northeast's fine end, has quit the Tribe basketball squad and will probably sign a pro grid pact soon.

Drafted by Buffalo of the American Football League and Washington of the National, big Charles was leaning toward Montreal of the Canadian circuit for awhile but many stay in the States after all. Montreal reportedly offered Barnes a $10,000 contract plus a bonus.

STANLEY MERCER, the one-armed boy who starred as a pitcher and hitter for Mangham High's baseball team a season or two ago, is a married man now. Stanley is married to the former Cynthia Kenton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Kenton of Hebert. Mrs. Kenton is this newspaper's correspondent at Hebert and a good one.

The best of luck to Stanley and his wife.

DON STYRON is ranked 7th in the world in the 120-yard and 110-meter hurdles in the December issue of Track and Field News. The former Northeast hurdler is also rated 8th among 400-meter hurdlers.

Two Grambling stars are included in the rankings. Sprinter Stone Johnson is rated 5th in the 200 meters and high jumper Charles Lewis 9th in his specialty.

DONNIE DAYE, Ferriday's gift to the LSU fullback carps is scheduled to be the speaker at the forthcoming Vidalia High School grid banquet. Donnie and several other LSU stars played in last week's Blue-Gray game.

IN SENIOR BOWL

50 College Stars To Make Pro Debut

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Fifty all-star collegians make their pro debuts in the annual Senior Bowl football game Saturday with the accent on stout lines and able passers.

The South, coached by Web Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts, is a 5-point favorite over Coach Jim Lee Howell's Northerners. The weather outlook is for mostly cloudy skies with temperatures near 60.

A crowd approaching 40,000 is forecast for the nationally telecast game (NBC, 2:30 p.m., CST).

Both Ewbank and Howell, retiring coach of the New York Giants, said they have good solid squads. Ewbank said he feels his team is considerably stronger than his rebel array of last year, which lost to Howell's Northerners 26-7.

But the Colt coach isn't happy about the favorite's role.

"They're just as big as we are and their personnel is certainly as good as ours," he said. "I can't see why they keep making the South the favorite."

The North has a slight weight advantage, averaging 220 in the line, to 218 for the Southerners, and 209 in the backfield, to 205.

With one exception, Washington back Don McKeta both squads were pronounced in excellent condition. McKeta, who suffered an ankle injury in the Huskies, 'rose Bowl victory, still was limping, but is expected to get into the game, probably on defense.

Quarterback Dick Norman of Stanford and Minnesota fullback Roger Hagberg are expected to provide the main offensive punch for the North.

Their counterpoints for the South are Norman Snead, the Wake Forest quarterback, and Ed Dyas, Auburn fullback who set a modern NCAA record of 13 field goals this season.

E. J. Holub, the 225-pounder from Texas Tech, will play offensive center for the South and man the middle linebacker post on defense. Carl Kammerer, a 6-3, 242-pound tackle from College of Pacific, is the North's middle linebacker.

Norman was elected North offensive captain and Kammerer the defensive captain. Holub will act as South captain on offense, with Bo Strange of Louisiana taking over on defense.

The game will be played under pro rules, including unlimited substitution and one-point conversions.

Miami Hopes For Franchise Ride On Game

MIAMI (AP) — The Cleveland Browns and Detroit Lions meet in the National Football League's first Runner-Up Bowl Saturday and Miami's hopes for a franchise in the pro circuit could rest on the attendance figures.

Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, said he would consider the nationally telecast game (CBS, 2 p.m., EST) a success if it draws a crowd of 40,000 at the Orange Bowl. Officials of the Orange Bow. optimistically predict 50,000.

The Browns, who finished second to NFL champion Philadelphia in the Eastern Conference, and the Lions, runners-up to Green Bay in the West, will be playing for a winning share of $600 a man. The losers get $400 each, with a tie calling for $500 each.

The players' pension fund will be the main beneficiary, however, with 65 per cent of the net proceeds ticketed for the pool.

Bills Sign Wolfe

UNDER INVESTIGATION

North Carolina Next For NCAA?

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Is North Carolina next?

A year ago the Big Red of Oklahoma was placed on indefinite probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The Sooners still are there. Indiana and Kansas since have joined the list, which also includes Auburn, Montana State College and Arizona State University.

It is known the North Carolina Tar Heels have been under investigation for basketball recruiting practices. Coach Frank McGuire has gained reknown with his teams loaded with northern imports.

The powerful NCAA Council meets here Saturday and Sunday, and by Monday night it should know whether any more colleges have been found guilty of violating the NCAA code.

Southern California and Tulsa are scheduled to be restored to good graces during the NCAA's annual convention which opens officially Monday after a weekend of preliminary meetings.

If North Carolina is found innocent, there will be no announcement. But if found guilty, the sixth-ranked Tar Heels may be denied an opportunity to compete for the NCAA championship.

McGuire's unbeaten 1957 team won 32 games, including the NCAA title, 54-53 over Kansas in triple overtime.

Echoes of that battle were heard last October when the NCAA found Kansas guilty because 1957-58 All-America Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain received a car in violation of the NCAA code. Kansas also got in hot water for football recruiting, as did Indiana.

Oklahoma's difficulty, too, was football recruiting, but the Sooners are a special case. While the other schools have probations with definite time limits, Oklahoma's indefinite tag gives the Sooners a special doghouse.

As long as they are in it, they can't compete in post-season football games or appear on the lucrative NCAA football telecasts.

And the way things stand, they can't get out unless the accountant who kept the books for the recruiting fund opens the books—or unless the NCAA changes its mind next week and either frees Oklahoma or sets a time limit on the probation.

The accountant, Arthur L. Wood, has refused to open up. Oklahoma is in the middle.

The NCAA people say they don't know the extent of the Sooners' guilt and can't determine it without the figures on the recruiting fund. Continuation of the indefinite probation seems unlikely, however.

Cuban Okay For Players Is Expected

HAVANA (AP)—There is confidence here that arrangements will be made to permit nearly 200 Cubans to play baseball in the United States during the coming season despite the diplomatic rupture between the two countries.

The nature of the arrangements, and who will undertake them, remain a mystery. Nobody would talk for the record, but optimism was general among Cuban baseball brass, who are interested in maintaining sports relations with their northern neighbor.

Spokesmen at the foreign ministry said they do not know if the department will intervene. All Cuban players receive a special visa to play in the United States. These must be renewed yearly.

Apprehension swept through the Cuban baseball fraternity, especially among the major leaguers, when diplomatic relations were broken off between the two countries Tuesday. There are 14 established major leaguers in this country now and at least five more are expected to make the grade in 1961.

They contingent is headed by Minnie Minoso, veteran Chicago White Sox outfielder, and Camilio Pascual, ace pitcher of the Minnesota Twins.

There is bitterness here, however, over Commissioner Ford Frick's edict late last fall that U.S. born major leaguers could not play in the Cuban Winter League this year because of the political situation.

Attendance at the winter games has been small with the result that salaries have been cut to almost nothing.

Rosters Set For Annual NBA Classic

Twelve players were added, six to each team, by the coaches. The starting fives were chosen by sports writers and sportscasters last week.

The players named earlier:

LA Chargers May Move If--

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Barron Hilton said Friday he will transfer his Los Angeles franchise in the American Football League to San Diego this year if the city improves Balboa Stadium and provides an advance ticket sales guarantee.

After inspecting the stadium with his general manager and head coach, Sid Gillman, Hilton said the seating capacity can be increased to 30,000 if a crash wall and fence, erected for auto racing are eliminated. Total cost of the additional seats, plus the construction of dressing rooms, was estimated at $500,000.

Mayor Charles Dail said he "will do everything within the power of the city to perform the necessary improvements."

Pilot Gordon Can't Discuss A's Prospects

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Joe Gordon, who can't seem to keep from working for Frank Lane, told Kansas City baseball fans Friday he will have to wait a while before he can discuss the A's prospects in the American League race.

"With Lane around, you never know who is on your club," cracked Joe.

Gordon, the field manager, and Lane, freshly appointed general manager by new owner Charles Finley, were honored guests at a luncheon.

Gordon who was hired, fired, rehired and traded to Detroit by Lane during a three-year donnybrook in Cleveland, said he almost fell out of his chair when he heard Lane had followed him to Kansas City.

"Frank and I have lots of fun kidding," said Joe. "You noticed he didn't use any flowery words when he introduced me. I won't get many compliments from him. But don't think Frank and I don't get along."

Lane promised the Athletics will see some changes.

"We can't guarantee any certain place in the standings, but we will improve the club," Lane said. Last year the A's finished last.

Lane, who trades players almost as fast as wisecracks, said Gordon will show more fire than his immediate predecessors with the A's, Harry Craft and Bob Elliott.

"He'll fight for his players if he thinks they aren't getting a fair shake. He will bounce out on the field a lot of times this summer, maybe even too many times," Lane prophecied.

And the A's, says Lane, are not a woeful outfit.

"The outfield is very strong and we have three-fourths of an infield. Ray Herbert and Buc Daley give us a pair of outstanding pitchers. Only in the catching department are we really hurting."

He said Bill Howser may be the answer to the problem at shortstop. Lane called the rookie from Shreveport the finest shortstop in the minors last season.

"Howser is no stranger to me," said Lane. "The Cleveland club tried to get him, but the A's outbid us. That sounds strange doesn't it?"

It does, but so do a lot of things that have been happening baseball-wise in Kansas City in recent weeks.

Luderus Dies

THREE LAKES, Wis. (AP)—Fred Luderus, former major league first baseman died at his home of an apparent heart attack Thursday night. He was 75.

He played in the majors from 1906 to 1920, beginning with the Chicago Cubs. He spent the last 11 years of his career with the Philadelphia Phillies, appearing in what was then a record 523 consecutive games. His lifetime batting average was .277.

Luderus later managed minor league clubs at Toledo, Kansas City and Oklahoma City.

Ex-Champion Even Money In 10-Rounder

NEW YORK (AP) — Carmen Basilio, former welterweight and middleweight champion, reaches the cross roads of his ring career Saturday night in a 10-rounder with Gaspar Ortega at Madison Square Garden.

"This fight will determine whether I go on further," said the 33-year-old scrapper from Chittenango, N.Y.

An early 7-5 favorite, Basilio now is rated no better than even money against the tall, aggressive, 25-year-old Mexican. The former champ will outweigh Ortega about 155 to 149.

This is the first start for Basilio since he was stopped for the second straight time in a title bout by Gene Fullmer, the NBA middleweight champion. Fullmer halted the upstate New Yorker in the 12th round at Salt Lake City last June 29.

In that debacle, Basilio definitely showed the wear and tear of his 12 years of pro fighting. The battle-scarred ex-champ's reflexes were dull, and he was unable to click with his once-devastating combinations to the body.

Ortega, a free-swinger who rarely gives an opponent a chance to rest, said he will put the pressure on Basilio from the opening bell.

The 5-10½ Mexican was a busy fighter in 1960. He had 10 for a 7-3 record and is 58-20-2 over-all. Ortega lost his last two fights, in a close decision to Federico Thompson and by another decision to Kid Rayo Nov. 29. He had outpointed Rayo the month before.

Basilio's record is 54-15-7, including 27 knockouts. Ortega has 22 kayos to his credit.

If the fight goes the limit, scoring will be by the rounds system. The bout will be televised nationally (ABC, 10 p.m. EST).

FROSH TUTOR, RECRUITER

Griffith Replaces Butts As Georgia Grid Coach

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Johnny Griffith, who only 12 years ago was playing for the University of Georgia, Friday replaced his former coach and boss, Wally Butts, at the helm of the Bulldogs.

Griffith, 36-year-old freshman coach and chief recruiter, moved up to the post Butts vacated Dec. 23 when he announced he was giving up as head football coach after 22 years to serve as athletic director.

The appointment, announced at noon by university president O. C. Aderhold, climaxed a meteoric rise for Griffith. A 1949 Georgia graduate, he returned to AG Hill here in 1954 as freshman assistant; left for a year to serve as backfield coach at Furman University; then returned again in 1956 as a varsity assistant.

The appointment also ended weeks of wild speculation. The university's screening committee, headed by Aderhold and advised by Buts, interviewed more than a dozen candidates — and at least five of these were said by one "source" or another to be a shoo-in for the job.

These sort of reports revolved heaviest around Florida line coach Gene Ellenson. Ellenson was the first man the screening committee talked to — and the last. Just Thursday, he spent more than an hour with the committee and afterwards radiated confidence in regard to his chances. He had even gone so far earlier as to speak of changes he would make in the Georgia coaching staff.

Another candidate considered a front-runner was former college and professional great Charlie Trippi, a teammate of Griffith's and his present colleague as backfield coach of the Bulldogs.

Griffith's only head coaching experience was at little South Georgia College. He held that job from 1950 to 1953 and all four years his teams won the state junior college championship.

The new Georgia football coach has strong support from alumni groups which have worked with him closely in his capacity as chief recruiter. He also has been highly regarded for the daring and enthusiasm shown by his freshman teams.

"This is the happiest moment of my life," Griffith told newsmen after the announcement of his appointment was made. He sat quietly with the board members while Aderhold broke the news. "It is a big jump for me," he added. "I'm going very slowly and carefully about that job."

Griffith had no comment about any staff changes he might make. However, he said, "I will have to hire one new man at least because I am leaving a vacancy myself."

Goyne Elected To Head Ashley Bowling Group

CROSSETT, Ark. (Special) — Bill Goyne has been named president of the newly-formed Ashley County Bowling Association at a meeting of interested people with Bob Pratt, manager of the new Good-Ark Lanes being finished in Crossett. Joe Jones has been named secretary, A. F. Harrison and Robert Fisher directors.

An official constitution and set of by-laws was adopted by the group at their meeting this week, in accordance with suggestions set out by the American Bowling Congress. Assisting the group at their organizational meeting were three members of the El Dorado bowling association: Ed Cook, secretary; Buddy Knowled, president, and Other Smith, director.

According to Pratt the Good-Ark Lanes will officially open Feb. 1, and it is hoped league play can be organized and started as soon as possible after that date. He stated that the Good-Ark lanes will be the most modern in this area and will feature the latest automatic equipment. He said the pin-setters are scheduled to arrive January 17 for installation and that as soon as the finishing touches are made it is planned to hold an "open house" so all interested persons can visit the new bowling center.

THOSE CRAZY BOUNCES

Each conference team has played only one league game but the two top favorites, Northwestern and Southwestern, have bitten the dust, both at the hands of teams that were expected to finish in the lower regions.

The return of Stan Kernan has evidently given McNeese the boost several GSC coaches thought it would when they tabbed the Cowboys a title contender before the season. The ease with which the Pokes handled Southeastern (48-25) Wednesday gave us the impression Southeastern was to be the GSC patsy — until the Lions upended Lamar Tech, 71-68, in three overtimes Thursday evening.

It's pretty dangerous right now (it's dangerous anytime) to come to any conclusions about the Gulf States cage chase but here are a few that seem apparent at the moment:

NORTHEAST is about 100 per cent improved. They've improved their record 100 per cent anyway, now (Friday afternoon) having six victories, twice as many as last year.

Stuart Toms is just about as good a backcourter as there is and when Lanny Johnson gets hot again, the Tribe is going to have as deadly a pair of outside shots as anybody in the league. Dave Harkins' improvement has been remarkable and Robert Cook still won't take many shots but he pulls the ball off the board pretty regularly.

Milton Linder is showing some of the form that made him an all-stater at Fort Necessity and the top Tribe reserves, Jerry Snelling and G. D. Thompson are better than average.

NORTHWESTERN isn't the power it was last year. It very well might be before the season is over but something's missing now. Any team that returns four starters and gets a newcomer like Gayle Hatch shouldn't have lost five games of 12.

Don't waste any sympathy on LOUISIANA TECH. Anybody that can overtake Southwestern with its top stars on the bench is going to do all right. Tech doesn't have as young a club as Northeast but youngsters like Max Lewis and Joe Abendroth are going to plague Bulldog foes for a long time. This year's Tech-Northeast games should be dandies.

SOUTHWESTERN is not going to keep shooting 50 per cent all season but USL and McNEESE, off their records so far, appear to be the best teams in the conference at present.

SOUTHEASTERN hadn't done much until beating Lamar but those who saw the Cardinals in the Northeast Tournament can testify that anybody that beats them can't be discounted.

WHO'S NO. 1?

The bowl games usually brew up an argument over the mythical national championship of college football and this year's classics muddled things up a little more than usual.

Minnesota, No. 1 in both wire service polls, looked sharp in the second half of the Rose Bowl. The second half, however, was 17 points too late. Washington also looked great but for only a half.

But it's good to see the Football Writers Association name the Rebels the country's No. 1 team. Mississippi has been a frequent challenger for the national crown in the past several years and its good to see it finally make the winner's circle, about the only honor the Rebs had failed to receive until this year.

We have a feeling next year at this time, LSU is going to be one of the championship claiments. If you're a betting man, it's a good longshot.

SHORT SHOTS

CHARLIE BARNES, Northeast's fine end, has quit the Tribe basketball squad and will probably sign a pro grid pact soon.

Drafted by Buffalo of the American Football League and Washington of the National, big Charles was leaning toward Montreal of the Canadian circuit for awhile but many stay in the States after all. Montreal reportedly offered Barnes a $10,000 contract plus a bonus.

STANLEY MERCER, the one-armed boy who starred as a pitcher and hitter for Mangham High's baseball team a season or two ago, is a married man now. Stanley is married to the former Cynthia Kenton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Kenton of Hebert. Mrs. Kenton is this newspaper's correspondent at Hebert and a good one.

The best of luck to Stanley and his wife.

DON STYRON is ranked 7th in the world in the 120-yard and 110-meter hurdles in the December issue of Track and Field News. The former Northeast hurdler is also rated 8th among 400-meter hurdlers.

Two Grambling stars are included in the rankings. Sprinter Stone Johnson is rated 5th in the 200 meters and high jumper Charles Lewis 9th in his specialty.

DONNIE DAYE, Ferriday's gift to the LSU fullback carps is scheduled to be the speaker at the forthcoming Vidalia High School grid banquet. Donnie and several other LSU stars played in last week's Blue-Gray game.

IN SENIOR BOWL

50 College Stars To Make Pro Debut

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Fifty all-star collegians make their pro debuts in the annual Senior Bowl football game Saturday with the accent on stout lines and able passers.

The South, coached by Web Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts, is a 5-point favorite over Coach Jim Lee Howell's Northerners. The weather outlook is for mostly cloudy skies with temperatures near 60.

A crowd approaching 40,000 is forecast for the nationally telecast game (NBC, 2:30 p.m., CST).

Both Ewbank and Howell, retiring coach of the New York Giants, said they have good solid squads. Ewbank said he feels his team is considerably stronger than his rebel array of last year, which lost to Howell's Northerners 26-7.

But the Colt coach isn't happy about the favorite's role.

"They're just as big as we are and their personnel is certainly as good as ours," he said. "I can't see why they keep making the South the favorite."

The North has a slight weight advantage, averaging 220 in the line, to 218 for the Southerners, and 209 in the backfield, to 205.

With one exception, Washington back Don McKeta both squads were pronounced in excellent condition. McKeta, who suffered an ankle injury in the Huskies, 'rose Bowl victory, still was limping, but is expected to get into the game, probably on defense.

Quarterback Dick Norman of Stanford and Minnesota fullback Roger Hagberg are expected to provide the main offensive punch for the North.

Their counterpoints for the South are Norman Snead, the Wake Forest quarterback, and Ed Dyas, Auburn fullback who set a modern NCAA record of 13 field goals this season.

E. J. Holub, the 225-pounder from Texas Tech, will play offensive center for the South and man the middle linebacker post on defense. Carl Kammerer, a 6-3, 242-pound tackle from College of Pacific, is the North's middle linebacker.

Norman was elected North offensive captain and Kammerer the defensive captain. Holub will act as South captain on offense, with Bo Strange of Louisiana taking over on defense.

The game will be played under pro rules, including unlimited substitution and one-point conversions.

Miami Hopes For Franchise Ride On Game

MIAMI (AP) — The Cleveland Browns and Detroit Lions meet in the National Football League's first Runner-Up Bowl Saturday and Miami's hopes for a franchise in the pro circuit could rest on the attendance figures.

Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, said he would consider the nationally telecast game (CBS, 2 p.m., EST) a success if it draws a crowd of 40,000 at the Orange Bowl. Officials of the Orange Bow. optimistically predict 50,000.

The Browns, who finished second to NFL champion Philadelphia in the Eastern Conference, and the Lions, runners-up to Green Bay in the West, will be playing for a winning share of $600 a man. The losers get $400 each, with a tie calling for $500 each.

The players' pension fund will be the main beneficiary, however, with 65 per cent of the net proceeds ticketed for the pool.

Bills Sign Wolfe

UNDER INVESTIGATION

North Carolina Next For NCAA?

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Is North Carolina next?

A year ago the Big Red of Oklahoma was placed on indefinite probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The Sooners still are there. Indiana and Kansas since have joined the list, which also includes Auburn, Montana State College and Arizona State University.

It is known the North Carolina Tar Heels have been under investigation for basketball recruiting practices. Coach Frank McGuire has gained reknown with his teams loaded with northern imports.

The powerful NCAA Council meets here Saturday and Sunday, and by Monday night it should know whether any more colleges have been found guilty of violating the NCAA code.

Southern California and Tulsa are scheduled to be restored to good graces during the NCAA's annual convention which opens officially Monday after a weekend of preliminary meetings.

If North Carolina is found innocent, there will be no announcement. But if found guilty, the sixth-ranked Tar Heels may be denied an opportunity to compete for the NCAA championship.

McGuire's unbeaten 1957 team won 32 games, including the NCAA title, 54-53 over Kansas in triple overtime.

Echoes of that battle were heard last October when the NCAA found Kansas guilty because 1957-58 All-America Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain received a car in violation of the NCAA code. Kansas also got in hot water for football recruiting, as did Indiana.

Oklahoma's difficulty, too, was football recruiting, but the Sooners are a special case. While the other schools have probations with definite time limits, Oklahoma's indefinite tag gives the Sooners a special doghouse.

As long as they are in it, they can't compete in post-season football games or appear on the lucrative NCAA football telecasts.

And the way things stand, they can't get out unless the accountant who kept the books for the recruiting fund opens the books—or unless the NCAA changes its mind next week and either frees Oklahoma or sets a time limit on the probation.

The accountant, Arthur L. Wood, has refused to open up. Oklahoma is in the middle.

The NCAA people say they don't know the extent of the Sooners' guilt and can't determine it without the figures on the recruiting fund. Continuation of the indefinite probation seems unlikely, however.

Cuban Okay For Players Is Expected

HAVANA (AP)—There is confidence here that arrangements will be made to permit nearly 200 Cubans to play baseball in the United States during the coming season despite the diplomatic rupture between the two countries.

The nature of the arrangements, and who will undertake them, remain a mystery. Nobody would talk for the record, but optimism was general among Cuban baseball brass, who are interested in maintaining sports relations with their northern neighbor.

Spokesmen at the foreign ministry said they do not know if the department will intervene. All Cuban players receive a special visa to play in the United States. These must be renewed yearly.

Apprehension swept through the Cuban baseball fraternity, especially among the major leaguers, when diplomatic relations were broken off between the two countries Tuesday. There are 14 established major leaguers in this country now and at least five more are expected to make the grade in 1961.

They contingent is headed by Minnie Minoso, veteran Chicago White Sox outfielder, and Camilio Pascual, ace pitcher of the Minnesota Twins.

There is bitterness here, however, over Commissioner Ford Frick's edict late last fall that U.S. born major leaguers could not play in the Cuban Winter League this year because of the political situation.

Attendance at the winter games has been small with the result that salaries have been cut to almost nothing.

Rosters Set For Annual NBA Classic

Twelve players were added, six to each team, by the coaches. The starting fives were chosen by sports writers and sportscasters last week.

The players named earlier:

LA Chargers May Move If--

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Barron Hilton said Friday he will transfer his Los Angeles franchise in the American Football League to San Diego this year if the city improves Balboa Stadium and provides an advance ticket sales guarantee.

After inspecting the stadium with his general manager and head coach, Sid Gillman, Hilton said the seating capacity can be increased to 30,000 if a crash wall and fence, erected for auto racing are eliminated. Total cost of the additional seats, plus the construction of dressing rooms, was estimated at $500,000.

Mayor Charles Dail said he "will do everything within the power of the city to perform the necessary improvements."

Pilot Gordon Can't Discuss A's Prospects

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Joe Gordon, who can't seem to keep from working for Frank Lane, told Kansas City baseball fans Friday he will have to wait a while before he can discuss the A's prospects in the American League race.

"With Lane around, you never know who is on your club," cracked Joe.

Gordon, the field manager, and Lane, freshly appointed general manager by new owner Charles Finley, were honored guests at a luncheon.

Gordon who was hired, fired, rehired and traded to Detroit by Lane during a three-year donnybrook in Cleveland, said he almost fell out of his chair when he heard Lane had followed him to Kansas City.

Beauty Authority Makes Predictions For 1961

Once again the time rolls around to tear the veil off tomorrow, a year - end practice of all prophets. Unlike the be - turbanned palm - readers who specialize in telling you if there's a dark man in your future, the predictions of an authority on beauty, whose sources are a whole world of beauty - capitals in which his firm operates, come not from being clairvoyant but from being aware of trends. Giving substance to shadows of impending events, he comes up with more than sporting bets when he predicts:

I. THAT 1961 WILL SEE A RESURGENCE OF YOUTH: You don't need a crystal ball to forecast this. All you need is to look at the youth of our new President, of his official family, of the First Lady, of a child in the White House hardly older than the bouncing baby we call the New Year!.

How will you react to this spirit of rejuvenation? Like every other woman: by leaving no cup-of - youth cream uncapped; no age - defying make - up trick untried; no grey hair uncovered, no daily dozen cut in half; no food calorie that isn't weighed in terms of vigor and sveltness.

II. THAT THE NEW LOOK OF THE YEAR WILL BE "THE JACUELINE KENNEDY LOOK": The Number One Lady's brand of chic will be the No. 1 goal of every woman in the land from 16 to 60. The potent influence of this charming and spirited style leader is seen all along the way from a blown - up hair - do, topped in back by a little velvet pillbox, to an artless pull-over mode of dressing in simple Balenciaga - Givenchy - Norman Norell clothes. Look for the new First Lady's love of Gauguin - bright clothes colors - coats that range from Tahitian rose to anemone purple, slacks and tops that combine an explosive orange with a more explosive pink - to rout the drabness of winter greys and trench - coat beiges. Watch Jackie Kennedy's love of fresh sunny lipstick shades make 1960's lips look dated and overly pale.

III. THAT 1961 WILL BE A YEAR OF GREAT GLOBAL GLAMOUR: With our U. N. welcome mat out to diplomats' wives from all over the world, and with royalty popping into the White House, like you pop into the house next door, there will be the most valuable exchange of international beauty secrets since Martha Washington ogled a pair of Parisian pantaloons peeping from a visiting hoop - skirt.

From the way royal diadems are tucked into the curls of visiting Swedish princesses to the trick a Ghanaian "first lady" uses to wrap elegance into her wrap - around, American women will come by many a useful device for enhancing native elegance.

IV. THAT 1961 AMERICAN BRIDES WILL LOOK LIKE SPANISH DONNAS —From the Balenciaga - designed wedding gown to the dazzling headdress of King Baudouin's bride, every fairy - princess aspect of Dona Fabiola's Spanish beauty will influence American girls marching down the aisles in 1961. The velvety - eyed beauty of this Spanish bride will inspire many an American girl to reach daringly into black eye shadow for her bridal makeup, and apply the traditionally subtle blues and greens in greater expanses and amounts.

V. THAT 1961 WILL SEE A REVIVAL OF LEGENDARY COME-HITHER: If you like to swish about your castle in long velvet-at - home gowns, to wear a decollete plunge down - to - here, to plait strings of pearls into your hair (your own or what - have-you?), to give your hands a pampered look, and to wear huge crested perfume - rings on your index finger, then you can thank "Camelot", new Broadway hit, for a revival of these man-catchers that haven't been surpassed since Sir Lancelot was caught. Guinevere is also the girl to watch in 1961, if you love pink. This Broadway queen who brought it across the moat to King Arthur's court will be responsible for a big U. S. revival of every shade of pink from salmon to cerise.

VI. THAT 1961 WILL SEE EVEN GRANDMA WEARING EYE MAKE - UP: The fashion that encourages a woman to define her eyes so that the dimmest orbs look brighter will make even an addict of grandma. Grandma will reach for soft shade in eye shadow to harmonize with eye and costume color, for eye-liners in natural colors that spell more flattery as automatically as she reaches for a powder puff.

VII. THAT 1961 WILL PUT BEAUTY AND FASHION ON THE GOLD STANDARD: Because gold is in the news, because it catches and holds a woman's imagination like a magnet holds steel filings, beauty and fashion designers are not likely to overlook its potent appeal. What make it easy to put fashions on the gold standard are the untarnishable threads from which cloth is woven. What makes it easy for beauty to follow fashion, no matter how brightly the gold thread of fabrics gleams, are the brightly gleaming golden eye liners, eye shadows, and mascaras, plus the golden lipsticks which frost all other lip colors with a golden iridescence. Then, there is the new complete make - up innovation in liquid form which soft - lights the face and is a wonderfully flattering background for the gold you wear on your face and on your figure. Easily applied from a tube, it comes in new unique soft beige shades which make the beauty and fashion gold - standard of 1961 more valuable to a woman than Fort Knox.

Neil Odenwald Speaks To Madison GC

Neil Odenwald of Baton Rouge, landscape specialist of the Agriculture Extension Service, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Madison Parish Garden Club on Tuesday afternoon, January 3, at the home of Mrs. R. S. Gayle. His topic was "How to Prune Shrubs."

Mrs. Gayle presided at the business session. Following the program the hostesses, Mrs. A. J. Boswell, Mrs. W. A. Smith, and Mrs. Gayle served refreshments from a table centered with a floral arrangement of mixed flowers in tones of purple and pink, featuring pussy willow sprays.

Those in attendance were Mrs. S. B. Bettis, Mrs. W. B. Eisely, Mrs. E. H. Fisher, Mrs. Neal T. Holt, Mrs. G. M. Fuller, Mrs. R. W. Gandy, Mrs. A. B. Kelly, Miss Amy Holmes, Mrs. Mildred Kern, Mrs. S. J. Lombardo, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Mrs. H. S. Weaver, Mrs. Elizabeth Westmoreland, Mrs. Boswell, Mrs. Gayle and Mr. Odenwald.

DEAR ABBY

You Can Ask Her But Curiosity Can Kill Cat

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am a snoopy person, but I see canned dog food in my sister-in-law's cupboards and they don't have a dog. She feeds my brother lots of hamburger, chili, stews and meatloafs and I am wondering if maybe she isn't using some of this canned horsemeat in her cooking.

My brother hasn't' looked well lately, so if she is using that stuff on him, could it do him any harm? —JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: While dog food was not meant for human consumption, many have eaten it (accidentally) and suffered no ill effects. The next time you spy dog food at your sister-in-law's, ask her who the lucky dog is.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and can't let any boys come to my house because there's' no place for them to sit. You see, my father has been in poor health for a long time and now he is home all the time. He sits in the living room watching TV from the time he gets up until he goes to bed. That's Daddy's only pastime.

We don't have a dining room or den. Mamma sews in the kitchen at night and uses the table to cut patterns.

I don't want to start slipping around to meet boys on street corners like some girls I know. What should I do? Sign me, —DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: Perhaps your mother could cut her patterns in the bedroom one night a week? Or your family could save up and buy a portable TV for Daddy's bedroom. It's very important for a girl your age to entertain her friends at home. Your parents will cooperate when they understand your problem.

DEAR ABBY: I have a slight hearing defect. At times I am unable to hear the telephone at the first ring. My fellow employees treat me like a deaf person. They shout when they talk to me. And when they come up behind me they tap me on the shoulder, instead of calling me by name.

This is very unnecessary and is becoming most annoying. I like these people otherwise. How can I let them know how I feel? —CAN HEAR

DEAR CAN: Confide in the person with whom you are friendliest at your place of work. Tell her (or him) that you would appreciate it if the word were passed around that your hearing is only slightly defective. By the way, have you visited a specialist in this field lately? You would be wise to try to solve your problem at its source.

Vows Spoken By Couple In Jonesboro

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Vail of Jonesboro was the scene on December 23, of the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy, to Harvey Rasbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel E. Rasbury of North Hodge.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Terrel T. Lowe, pastor of the Hodge Methodist Church, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Vail home. The tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Robert Hines of Springhill, sister of the bride.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will reside in North Hodge.

You Can Ask Her But Curiosity Can Kill Cat

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am a snoopy person, but I see canned dog food in my sister-in-law's cupboards and they don't have a dog. She feeds my brother lots of hamburger, chili, stews and meatloafs and I am wondering if maybe she isn't using some of this canned horsemeat in her cooking.

My brother hasn't' looked well lately, so if she is using that stuff on him, could it do him any harm? —JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: While dog food was not meant for human consumption, many have eaten it (accidentally) and suffered no ill effects. The next time you spy dog food at your sister-in-law's, ask her who the lucky dog is.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and can't let any boys come to my house because there's' no place for them to sit. You see, my father has been in poor health for a long time and now he is home all the time. He sits in the living room watching TV from the time he gets up until he goes to bed. That's Daddy's only pastime.

We don't have a dining room or den. Mamma sews in the kitchen at night and uses the table to cut patterns.

I don't want to start slipping around to meet boys on street corners like some girls I know. What should I do? Sign me, —DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: Perhaps your mother could cut her patterns in the bedroom one night a week? Or your family could save up and buy a portable TV for Daddy's bedroom. It's very important for a girl your age to entertain her friends at home. Your parents will cooperate when they understand your problem.

DEAR ABBY: I have a slight hearing defect. At times I am unable to hear the telephone at the first ring. My fellow employees treat me like a deaf person. They shout when they talk to me. And when they come up behind me they tap me on the shoulder, instead of calling me by name.

This is very unnecessary and is becoming most annoying. I like these people otherwise. How can I let them know how I feel? —CAN HEAR

DEAR CAN: Confide in the person with whom you are friendliest at your place of work. Tell her (or him) that you would appreciate it if the word were passed around that your hearing is only slightly defective. By the way, have you visited a specialist in this field lately? You would be wise to try to solve your problem at its source.

Vows Spoken By Couple In Jonesboro

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Vail of Jonesboro was the scene on December 23, of the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy, to Harvey Rasbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel E. Rasbury of North Hodge.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Terrel T. Lowe, pastor of the Hodge Methodist Church, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Vail home. The tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Robert Hines of Springhill, sister of the bride.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will reside in North Hodge.

Twelve Rules For Raising Children

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Readers: A year ago I printed in this space Twelve Rules For Raising Children. Many readers asked for reprints and suggested that I run it again. I promised I would—in a year. The year has passed and here it is:

1. Remember that a child is a gift from God, the richest of all blessings. Do not attempt to mold him in the image of yourself, your father, your brother or your neighbor. Each child is an individual and should be permitted to be himself.

2. Don't crush a child's spirit when he fails. And never compare him with others who have outshone him.

3. Remember that anger and hostility are natural emotions. Help your child to find socially acceptable outlets for these normal feelings or they may be turned inward and erupt in the form of physical or mental illness.

4. Discipline your child with firmness and reason. Don't let "your" anger throw you off balance. If he knows you are fair you will not lose his respect or his love. And make sure the punishment fits the crime. Even the youngest child has a keen sense of justice.

5. Remember that each child needs "two" parents. Present a united front. Never join with your child against your mate. This can create in your child (as well as in yourself) emotional conflicts. It gives rise to destructive feelings of guilt, confusion and insecurity.

6. Do not hand your child everything his little heart desires. Permit him to know the thrill of earning and the joy of deserving. Grant him the greatest of all satisfactions — the pleasure that comes with personal achievement.

7. Do not set yourself up as the epitome of perfection. This is a difficult role to play 24 hours a day. You will find it easier to communicate with your child if you let him know that Mom and Dad can err, too.

8. Don't make threats in anger or impossible promises when you are in a generous mood. Threaten or promise only that which you can live up to. To a child, a parent's word means everything. The child who has lost faith in his parents has difficulty believing in anything.

9. Do not smother your child with superficial manifestations of "love." The purest and healthiest love expresses itself in day-in, day-out training which breeds self-confidence and independence.

10. Teach your child there is dignity in hard work, whether it is performed with calloused hands that shovel coal or skilled fingers that manipulate surgical instruments. Let him know a useful life is a blessed one and a life of ease and pleasure-seeking is empty and meaningless.

11. Do not try to protect your child against every small blow and disappointment. Adversity strengthens character and makes us compassionate. Trouble is the great equalizer. Let him learn it.

12. Teach your child to love God and to love his fellow man. Don't "send" your child to a place of worship—"take" him there. Children learn from example. Telling him something is not teaching him. If you give your child a deep and abiding faith in God it can be his strength and his light when all else fails. —ANN LANDERS

What Mother Must Do When Child Won't Eat

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Any mother knows the importance of food and when the child does not eat what she has prepared she is aggravated and worried. She wants to take positive action to see that he does.

If fussing, wheedling, rewards or punishments ever helped the child to eat more generously, no one would deny the mother their use. But they reflect an unpleasant light upon food. They make it something to repudiate instead of to accept.

The food isn't desired by the child, it is urged upon him by the parent. It makes for a disagreeable, disciplinary climate at the table which is exactly the opposite of what is to be desired.

WHAT TO DO

What "shall" a mother do when a child won't eat? If this has been going on for a long time, then give the child the privilege of a physical examination to rule out any conditions which might be depriving him of his appetite.

If there is nothing physically amiss, then let the mother tell herself that what she is doing must be causing the situation.

Maybe she is expecting the child to eat more than children of his age can consume. After the ninth month — or thereabouts — the child's appetite and thus his intake of food diminish. No longer is he growing at such a prodigious rate and so he actually doesn't need as much food as during the first year of life.

Serve him a tablespoon of each of the various foods. If he wants more, give it to him. Cut the slice of bread in quarters; it seems easier to eat. Put foods on his plate which he can eat with his fingers. When the child is small wielding a spoon becomes tiresome long before he has finished what he has on his plate.

Beat a tablespoon or so of dry solids into his fluid milk and then he may not "have" to drink such large quantities of milk in order to get his protein requirements.

VITAMIN B

Don't overlook the influence of vitamin B on the diet. Brewer's yeast powder, whole wheat germ, liver, these are all high in vitamin B and are a real spur to the appetite. You are giving, of course, some vitamin product containing D, C, and A?

But, accept the fact that the less said about what a child eats, or how much, the freer he is to act in a natural way. It is the parent who scolds, complains, bewails, who comes a cropper. By these actions she gives her child the power to make her miserable, by his refusal to eat. It isn't in his best interest to be aware of, or to use such power.

If you would like to have our 25-cent booklet "All About Feeding — from six months to two years," send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Homemakers Ask And Betty Pepis Answers

Q. — My L - shaped living-dining room has pale beige walls, carpet, and draperies. What colors would you suggest for the sofa, two chairs, throw pillows and other accessories? I cannot seem to decide.

A. — What is your favorite color? You could use any color in a bright or deep shade here. The neutral beige gives you complete freedom. Since the sofa is a large area, keep it rather light in color, use bright color and pattern on the chairs, and repeat the chair's color for sofa pillows. Accent with white and a contrasting third color. You might use yellow to give a bright sunny look to the room. For instance, light yellow tweed sofa, bright print of chrome yellow and white on chairs, chrome yellow pillows, a few deep blue pillows, lamps, ashtrays and the like of blue Bristol glass and white milkglass.

Q. — I have just purchased a turquoise sofa, dark brown lounge chair and toast lady's chair. What would you suggest for wallpaper, rug, draperies and accessories? I have five windows. Furniture is mahogany.

A. —Use a floral striped paper in tone - on - tone light turquoise, use a deeper shade of the same color for draperies. These should be in a solid color fabric. Repeat the turquoise of the sofa for a rug. Toast would be second color choice here. You should add some brilliant color plus white in your accessories. Burgundy or cranberry red, lemon yellow, or bright sky blue would be good.

Q. — Our living room walls are papered in a rose beige printed paper. The rug is a light rose beige. The curtains are cream colored Cape Cod style. One window is filled with my collection of colored glass in many different colors. What color would you advise for a sofa and two chairs? Would these have to be solid colors? Or could I use a print or tweed?

A. — Since you have your glass collection as an important part of the room, I would advise playing down the colors elsewhere and letting the brilliant colors of the glass hold the spotlight. Use a pale rose beige or a cream for the sofa. Since you have an Early American mood in the room, you might use a heavy homespun or tweed fabric, but avoid a print. The chairs might be in the same color or pick up one of the colors in the glassware, perhaps a blue or red.

Q. — My bedroom is painted blue gray, floor is black and white checkerboard tile, and furniture is Early American in dark maple. What color would you suggest for curtains and spread?

A. — Set a traditional provincial theme which will be in keeping with your Early American furniture. A red and white documentary print could be used for curtains and spread, with pillows and some accessories in solid red to match the print colors.

State Business Reported Down

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Business researchers said today Louisiana business activity in November declined 4.5 pre cent.

This was the lowest level for the state's general business index since August, 1948, the college of commerce researchers at Louisiana State University said.

Of the six items in the general business index, only crude petroleum show a gain, 4.7 per cent, in November compared with a year ago.

Decreases of 12.1 per cent were reported in department store sales, 9.2 per cent in petroleum manufacturing sales, 6.3 per cent in freight carloadings, 5.4 per cent in electric power consumption and .8 per cent in employment.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

What Mother Must Do When Child Won't Eat

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Any mother knows the importance of food and when the child does not eat what she has prepared she is aggravated and worried. She wants to take positive action to see that he does.

If fussing, wheedling, rewards or punishments ever helped the child to eat more generously, no one would deny the mother their use. But they reflect an unpleasant light upon food. They make it something to repudiate instead of to accept.

The food isn't desired by the child, it is urged upon him by the parent. It makes for a disagreeable, disciplinary climate at the table which is exactly the opposite of what is to be desired.

WHAT TO DO

What "shall" a mother do when a child won't eat? If this has been going on for a long time, then give the child the privilege of a physical examination to rule out any conditions which might be depriving him of his appetite.

If there is nothing physically amiss, then let the mother tell herself that what she is doing must be causing the situation.

Maybe she is expecting the child to eat more than children of his age can consume. After the ninth month — or thereabouts — the child's appetite and thus his intake of food diminish. No longer is he growing at such a prodigious rate and so he actually doesn't need as much food as during the first year of life.

Serve him a tablespoon of each of the various foods. If he wants more, give it to him. Cut the slice of bread in quarters; it seems easier to eat. Put foods on his plate which he can eat with his fingers. When the child is small wielding a spoon becomes tiresome long before he has finished what he has on his plate.

Beat a tablespoon or so of dry solids into his fluid milk and then he may not "have" to drink such large quantities of milk in order to get his protein requirements.

VITAMIN B

Don't overlook the influence of vitamin B on the diet. Brewer's yeast powder, whole wheat germ, liver, these are all high in vitamin B and are a real spur to the appetite. You are giving, of course, some vitamin product containing D, C, and A?

But, accept the fact that the less said about what a child eats, or how much, the freer he is to act in a natural way. It is the parent who scolds, complains, bewails, who comes a cropper. By these actions she gives her child the power to make her miserable, by his refusal to eat. It isn't in his best interest to be aware of, or to use such power.

Homemakers Ask And Betty Pepis Answers

Q. — My L - shaped living-dining room has pale beige walls, carpet, and draperies. What colors would you suggest for the sofa, two chairs, throw pillows and other accessories? I cannot seem to decide.

A. — What is your favorite color? You could use any color in a bright or deep shade here. The neutral beige gives you complete freedom. Since the sofa is a large area, keep it rather light in color, use bright color and pattern on the chairs, and repeat the chair's color for sofa pillows. Accent with white and a contrasting third color. You might use yellow to give a bright sunny look to the room. For instance, light yellow tweed sofa, bright print of chrome yellow and white on chairs, chrome yellow pillows, a few deep blue pillows, lamps, ashtrays and the like of blue Bristol glass and white milkglass.

Q. — I have just purchased a turquoise sofa, dark brown lounge chair and toast lady's chair. What would you suggest for wallpaper, rug, draperies and accessories? I have five windows. Furniture is mahogany.

A. —Use a floral striped paper in tone - on - tone light turquoise, use a deeper shade of the same color for draperies. These should be in a solid color fabric. Repeat the turquoise of the sofa for a rug. Toast would be second color choice here. You should add some brilliant color plus white in your accessories. Burgundy or cranberry red, lemon yellow, or bright sky blue would be good.

Q. — Our living room walls are papered in a rose beige printed paper. The rug is a light rose beige. The curtains are cream colored Cape Cod style. One window is filled with my collection of colored glass in many different colors. What color would you advise for a sofa and two chairs? Would these have to be solid colors? Or could I use a print or tweed?

A. — Since you have your glass collection as an important part of the room, I would advise playing down the colors elsewhere and letting the brilliant colors of the glass hold the spotlight. Use a pale rose beige or a cream for the sofa. Since you have an Early American mood in the room, you might use a heavy homespun or tweed fabric, but avoid a print. The chairs might be in the same color or pick up one of the colors in the glassware, perhaps a blue or red.

Q. — My bedroom is painted blue gray, floor is black and white checkerboard tile, and furniture is Early American in dark maple. What color would you suggest for curtains and spread?

A. — Set a traditional provincial theme which will be in keeping with your Early American furniture. A red and white documentary print could be used for curtains and spread, with pillows and some accessories in solid red to match the print colors.

State Business Reported Down

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Business researchers said today Louisiana business activity in November declined 4.5 pre cent.

This was the lowest level for the state's general business index since August, 1948, the college of commerce researchers at Louisiana State University said.

Of the six items in the general business index, only crude petroleum show a gain, 4.7 per cent, in November compared with a year ago.

Decreases of 12.1 per cent were reported in department store sales, 9.2 per cent in petroleum manufacturing sales, 6.3 per cent in freight carloadings, 5.4 per cent in electric power consumption and .8 per cent in employment.

COMMISSION SAYS

State Will Pay Lafourche Taxes

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission says it will pay the $2,247.53 back taxes owed on Lafourche Swamp.

The tax is expected to be paid on or after January 24, date of the next commission meeting, according to District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter.

Thursday, the Ouachita Parish sheriff's department seized more than 12,000 acres of the land for the 1960 taxes.

The acreage is part of a 15,000 acre tract purchased last week by the state commission for $440,000.

Lassiter said Friday that he had been notified by Sen. Jamar Adcock that Gov. Jimmie H. Davis had told the commission to pay the taxes.

Ouachita Farms Corp., which sold the land to the state, had a provision in the bill of sale that the state pay the 1960 taxes.

However, since the state cannot be taxed, and since the taxes had not been paid, the parish seized the property Thursday, a few hours before the deed of sale was recorded in the parish clerk of court's office.

If the tax had not been paid, the parish intended to follow normal procedure and sell the land for taxes.

Nebraskan Asks Aid In Search For Lost Youth

The man, Emery L. Fender of 115 East Eighth St., North Platte, Neb., is searching for his son, Thomas Emery Fender, who was last seen Dec. 7 and heard from Dec. 22.

Fender reports that the boy was placed on a bus at Denver, Colorado Dec. 6 headed for Boys Town, Nebraska by his mother, Mrs. Charlotte A. Fender of 400 Newland St., Wheatridge, Colo.

The black - haired youth was seen as he got off the bus at Sutherland, Neb. at 2:30 a.m. Dec. 7 and was also seen about 20 miles east of Sutherland in the Union Pacific Railroad freight yards at North Platte, Neb. at 6 p.m. the same date. He was reported inquiring about freight trains to Omaha, Neb. or Kansas City, Mo.

A letter, postmarked Rome, Ga., was received Dec. 22 from the teenager stating that he intended to spend the winter in Florida or some southern state. He is believed to be hitch - hiking on the highway or riding freight trains.

The youth is described as looking 16, though he is only 14; is 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs 135 pounds, has black hair, brown eyes and a medium complexion. He has a small scar on his right upper lip and has two front teeth chipped.

Persons knowing anything about his whereabouts are asked to contact the father at his address or the mother at her address.

Superintendent Re-Elected For Franklin Term

WINNSBORO (Special) M. D. Peel, Superintendent of Franklin Parish Schools, was reelected for a four - year term at the first 1961 meeting of the parish school board Friday morning.

Peel expressed his appreciation to the school board for their cooperation and said that he felt that his 30 months experience would provide a firm foundation for work during the next four years.

Franklin Parish Schools are the biggest business in the parish, according to parish records. The budget for the 1960-61 school year is $2.5 million. A total of 527 are employed by the system, and 7220 children are enrolled in the schools.

Former Teacher In Franklin Dies; Rites Set

WINNSBORO (Special) — Mrs. Joseph B. Cordill Sr., Franklin parish high school teacher for many years and a resident of Crowville since 1908, died Friday on her 74th birthday.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday in the chapel of Mulhearn Funeral Home. The Rev. John Mulkeen, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, will officiate.

Interment will be in the Masonic cemetery at Crowville.

Born on Jan. 6, 1887 in Thibodeux, Mrs. Cordill taught at Crowville High School for many years.

Survivors include two sons, Charles C. Cordill, Winnsboro and Joseph B. Cordill Jr., Shreveport; one daughter, Mrs. S. A. Shaheen, Phoenix, Ariz.; and three grandchildren.

Wine Tax Hike Killed In House

When Chairman Risley Triche, Assumption Parish, a Davis floor leader, asked the Ways and Means committee if there was any objection to an unfavorable report, not a member said a word.

Rep. Lewis had offered a substitute bill eliminating liquor and beer, and just raising still wines from 21 cents to 75 cents per gallon, and wines of 14 per cent of alcoholic content or under, from .11 cents to 65 cents per gallon.

A 77-POUND CATFISH, possibly the biggest ever handled in the local market, was displayed here today by Albert Bayles, of Bayles Fish Market in West Monroe. Bayles said the fish was the biggest he had ever handled in his better than 20 years in the business. He identified the species as a blue channel catfish, caught in the Arkansas River. LEARN OF CENTER

Jurors Purchase Another Gradall

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury bought another new $33,000 gradall, learned that cost of the rehabilitation center for prisoners is estimated at $276,162 and gave conditional acceptance to the Treasure Island bridge Friday.

Jurors approved the bid of Contractors Equipment Inc. of $33,762.73 for the gradall, took bids on several other pieces of equipment under advisement and appointed a committee to study the bids Monday.

H. H. Land Jr., architect, informed members of estimated cost of the rehabilitation center. Building cost is estimated at $183,000 while estimates on equipment, fixtures, architect's fee, bond attorney's fee, fencing and land make up the total.

If jurors approve the project, it will be placed before the parish residents for a vote.

The Louisiana Department of Public Works, Ouachita highway department and the project superintendent must approve Treasure Island bridge before the jury accepts it as a public thoroughfare, according to a motion unnimously passed by the jurors.

A. P. Andrews, assistant district engineer with the public works department, appeared at the session.

He said that his department approved the bridge construction to allow sufficient flow of water in Bayou DeSiard, but that culverts were not installed as expected.

Andrews said he will OK the structure after abutments are lowered and other items are taken care of.

After an appearance by Monroe school board president Van D. Odom, jurors voted to contribute $500 to the fund to help send the Neville High School band to Washington, D.C. for the presidential inauguration.

Approximately $5,000 is needed, with about half already received.

Eight dump trucks: Brown-Rivers - Scogins, $23,253.60; Scott Track and Tractor Company, $24,543.92; Ryan Chevrolet Company, $19,296.80.

Hydraulic dump trailer, with 10 yard capacity: Dnuham Manufacturing Co., $3,186.26; Clement-Braswell of Minden, La., $3,373.49; and Dealers Truck Equipment Co. of Shreveport, $3,392.52.

Two tractor mowers: Scott Truck and Trailer, $4,348.82; West Monroe Tractor Co., $4,404.36; and Ouachita Tractor Company, $4,744.57.

Motor grader: Louisiana Machinery Co., $17,000; La - Ark., Equipment Co., $16,327.07; Southern Equipment, $16,985.99; and Contractors Equipment Company, $14,229.40.

THE ALMANAC

Today is Saturday, Jan. 7, the seventh day of the year with 358 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1800, 13th U.S. Presidnt Millard Fillmore was born.

In 1918, Nikolai Lenin, Communist leader of Soviet Russia, abolished the Constituent Assembly and established a so-called dictatorship of the Proletariat.

A thought for today: Austrian writer Franz Kafka said "There are two cardinal sins from which all the others spring; impatience and laziness."

Former Ruston Mayor Dies; Rites Slated

RUSTON (Special) — H. T. Richardson, who served as Ruston's mayor for three terms, died of a heart attack at his home at 9 a.m. Friday.

Funeral services will be at Spears Kimbell chapel at 2 p.m. Saturday with Rev. J. W. Lipscomb officiating. Burial will be in Wilder Cemetery.

Mr. Richardson, the son of James W. and Elizabeth Stocks Richardson, Lincoln parish pioneers, was mayor of Ruston from 1942 through May 1953, when he resigned his mayoral office. His administration was marked by economy.

At his death he was serving as deacon and treasurer for Ruston Presbyterian Church. He had held the posts for several years.

He had been employed at the old Citizen's Bank and Trust in Ruston and the Ruston State Bank. He was also associated with W. H. Cook & Company and Wyatt Lumber Company.

Mr. Richardson has been retired since he left the mayor's post in 1953.

Survivors include his widow, the former Virginia Henderson; one son, Frederick Richardson of Tucson, Arix.; two sisters, Mrs. S. E. Tarbuton and Mrs. Nettie Green, both of Ruston; one brother, E. E. Richardson of Shreveport, two grandchildren, Diane and Rush Richardson of Tucson, and a number of nieces and nephews.

FRANK S. PETTIT

Ex-Policeman Succumbs; Rites Today

Frank S. Pettit, retired officer of the Monroe police department who served for 43 years, died yesterday at the home of his daughter on John Drive. He was 80.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. today in the chapel of Hixson Brothers Funeral with the Rev. George W. Pomeroy, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Monroe, officiating.

Born in Bastrop in 1881, Mr. Pettit had been a resident of Monroe since 1900.

He joined the Monroe police department in the summer of 1909, moving through the ranks from patrolman to captain. He retired on August 2, 1957.

He is survived by his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Thomas W. Holden, and Mrs. R. L. Jackson, both of Monroe; one son, Frank H. Pettit Jr., also of Monroe; one brother, Fred Pettit, Monroe; one sister, Mrs. Annie Mae Gattis, Oak Ridge, Tenn.; eight grandchildren and eight great - grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Bailey Grant, William Causey, Moise Peters, Warren Breard, Hugh Tolbert and Albert Thibedeaux.

Peace Warrant

A. J. Martin, 44, of Jackson, was booked on a peace warrant Friday at the Monroe police station. Booked at 8:50 a.m., Martin's bond was set at $500.

Battery Warrant

Monroe police Friday reported Jeremiah Johnson, 24, Negro, of 3405 Owl St., Monroe, has been booked on a warrant sworn out by Katherine Otis, Negro, of Monroe. The warrant is for simple battery.

Mrs. Cordill died in the early morning hours at a local clinic after a brief illness.

Born on Jan. 6, 1887 in Thibodeux, Mrs. Cordill taught at Crowville High School for many years.

Survivors include two sons, Charles C. Cordill, Winnsboro and Joseph B. Cordill Jr., Shreveport; one daughter, Mrs. S. A. Shaheen, Phoenix, Ariz.; and three grandchildren.

Wine Tax Hike Killed In House

When Chairman Risley Triche, Assumption Parish, a Davis floor leader, asked the Ways and Means committee if there was any objection to an unfavorable report, not a member said a word.

Rep. Lewis had offered a substitute bill eliminating liquor and beer, and just raising still wines from 21 cents to 75 cents per gallon, and wines of 14 per cent of alcoholic content or under, from .11 cents to 65 cents per gallon.

A 77-POUND CATFISH, possibly the biggest ever handled in the local market, was displayed here today by Albert Bayles, of Bayles Fish Market in West Monroe. Bayles said the fish was the biggest he had ever handled in his better than 20 years in the business. He identified the species as a blue channel catfish, caught in the Arkansas River. LEARN OF CENTER

Jurors Purchase Another Gradall

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury bought another new $33,000 gradall, learned that cost of the rehabilitation center for prisoners is estimated at $276,162 and gave conditional acceptance to the Treasure Island bridge Friday.

Jurors approved the bid of Contractors Equipment Inc. of $33,762.73 for the gradall, took bids on several other pieces of equipment under advisement and appointed a committee to study the bids Monday.

H. H. Land Jr., architect, informed members of estimated cost of the rehabilitation center. Building cost is estimated at $183,000 while estimates on equipment, fixtures, architect's fee, bond attorney's fee, fencing and land make up the total.

If jurors approve the project, it will be placed before the parish residents for a vote.

The Louisiana Department of Public Works, Ouachita highway department and the project superintendent must approve Treasure Island bridge before the jury accepts it as a public thoroughfare, according to a motion unnimously passed by the jurors.

A. P. Andrews, assistant district engineer with the public works department, appeared at the session.

He said that his department approved the bridge construction to allow sufficient flow of water in Bayou DeSiard, but that culverts were not installed as expected.

Andrews said he will OK the structure after abutments are lowered and other items are taken care of.

After an appearance by Monroe school board president Van D. Odom, jurors voted to contribute $500 to the fund to help send the Neville High School band to Washington, D.C. for the presidential inauguration.

Approximately $5,000 is needed, with about half already received.

THE ALMANAC

Today is Saturday, Jan. 7, the seventh day of the year with 358 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1800, 13th U.S. Presidnt Millard Fillmore was born.

In 1830, commercial railroad service got under way in the United States. A horse-drawn carriage rolled out of Baltimore on the first stretch of track completed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

In 1918, Nikolai Lenin, Communist leader of Soviet Russia, abolished the Constituent Assembly and established a so-called dictatorship of the Proletariat.

A thought for today: Austrian writer Franz Kafka said "There are two cardinal sins from which all the others spring; impatience and laziness."

Former Ruston Mayor Dies; Rites Slated

RUSTON (Special) — H. T. Richardson, who served as Ruston's mayor for three terms, died of a heart attack at his home at 9 a.m. Friday.

Funeral services will be at Spears Kimbell chapel at 2 p.m. Saturday with Rev. J. W. Lipscomb officiating. Burial will be in Wilder Cemetery.

Mr. Richardson, the son of James W. and Elizabeth Stocks Richardson, Lincoln parish pioneers, was mayor of Ruston from 1942 through May 1953, when he resigned his mayoral office. His administration was marked by economy.

At his death he was serving as deacon and treasurer for Ruston Presbyterian Church. He had held the posts for several years.

A graduate of Ruston High school and Louisiana Tech, he was a popular student and outstanding athlete.

He had been employed at the old Citizen's Bank and Trust in Ruston and the Ruston State Bank. He was also associated with W. H. Cook & Company and Wyatt Lumber Company.

Mr. Richardson has been retired since he left the mayor's post in 1953.

Survivors include his widow, the former Virginia Henderson; one son, Frederick Richardson of Tucson, Arix.; two sisters, Mrs. S. E. Tarbuton and Mrs. Nettie Green, both of Ruston; one brother, E. E. Richardson of Shreveport, two grandchildren, Diane and Rush Richardson of Tucson, and a number of nieces and nephews.

FRANK S. PETTIT

Ex-Policeman Succumbs; Rites Today

Frank S. Pettit, retired officer of the Monroe police department who served for 49 years, died yesterday at the home of his daughter on John Drive. He was 80.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. today in the chapel of Hixson Brothers Funeral with the Rev. George W. Pomeroy, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Monroe, officiating.

Interment, under the direction of Hixson's, will be in the Riverview cemetery.

Born in Bastrop in 1881, Mr. Pettit had been a resident of Monroe since 1900.

He joined the Monroe police department in the summer of 1909, moving through the ranks from patrolman to captain. He retired on August 2, 1957.

He is survived by his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Thomas W. Holden, and Mrs. R. L. Jackson, both of Monroe; one son, Frank H. Pettit Jr., also of Monroe; one brother, Fred Pettit, Monroe; one sister, Mrs. Annie Mae Gattis, Oak Ridge, Tenn.; eight grandchildren and eight great - grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Bailey Grant, William Causey, Moise Peters, Warren Breard, Hugh Tolbert and Albert Thibedeaux.

Peace Warrant

A. J. Martin, 44, of Jackson, was booked on a peace warrant Friday at the Monroe police station. Booked at 8:50 a.m., Martin's bond was set at $500.

Battery Warrant

Monroe police Friday reported Jeremiah Johnson, 24, Negro, of 3405 Owl St., Monroe, has been booked on a warrant sworn out by Katherine Otis, Negro, of Monroe. The warrant is for simple battery.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

In early dealings the market eased as light hedging and liquidation met only limited trade and local buying. Toward the close nearby months rallied on short covering. The balance of the market lagged on the upturn.

Most traders were on sidelines awaiting fresh developments in the spot cotton situation and farm legislation.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP)—Butcher hog prices were mostly 25 cents a hundredweight lower as the biggest Friday supply in four weeks went on sale.

The offerings of 6,500 head were 2,500 more than expected and except for a small lot which sold at $18.50, the mixed No. 1-2 and 1-3 grades moved at $17.75-18.25. Weights upward from 220 lbs cleared at $16.00 - 17.75. Sows topped at $15.50.

The slaughter steer market was strong on a small supply of mixed choice and prime grade which sold at $28.25-29.50. No sales of heifers or bulls were reported. A few good and choice vealers were $21-25

A meager supply of choice and prime wooled slaughter lambs sold at $17.50-18.50, some good and choice and $16 and up. Ewes were $5.00-6.00.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

PAY STOCK DIVIDENDS

NEW YORK (UPI)—A record 560 corporations paid stock dividends in 1960 compared with 502 in 1959. Standard & Poor's Corp. reported Friday.

The gain extended the upward trend of recent years that was temporarily broken in 1958, the statistical agency said.

AUTO OUTPUT DROPS

Production cutbacks and holiday shutdowns trimmed auto output in the U.S. to an estimated 70,900 units this week, down more than 92,000 from the corresponding week a year ago, Ward's Automotive Reports said. The reporting agency said the first week of 1961 signalled the start of a "grim" month of production.

REPORT AMERICAN SPENDING

American Express estimated that a record $2.5 billion was spent overseas last year by 1.7 million Americans. This would compare with $2.3 billion spent by 1.5 million Americans in 1958.

RETAIL SALES CLIMB

Retail sales in the nation last week climbed fractionally above the level of the 1960 weeks as gains in apparel and new car volume offset declines in major appliances, figures of Dun & Bradstreet showed. Total dollar volume of trade in the week ended Jan. 4 ranged from 1 per cent lower to 3 per cent higher than a year ago.

POTATOES

CHICAGO (AP)—(USDA)—Potatoes: Idaho russets 5.10; Minnesota North Dakota Red River Valley round reds 2.50-2.70.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures swung over their broadest price range in more than two years Friday and finished with gains running to more than five cents a bushel despite a late steep slide.

At times old crop contracts were up about eight cents a bushel in spots. All deliveries along with the by-products, soybean oil and soybean meal, traded at their highest levels of the season. Heavy profit cashing near the close trimmed the advances all along the line.

The grains also were fairly active at prices firm to strong. Among those March wheat was the leader and at a season high on a runup of 1¾ cents a bushel

Wheat finished ⅝-1¾ cents a bushel higher, March $2.12¼; corn ⅜-¾ higher, March $1.11⅞-12; oats ⅜-⅞ higher, March 67¼-⅜; rye ⅞-1 cent higher, March $1.19; soybeans ½-5½ cents higher, January $2.39½-40.

Negro Leader, Kennedy Talk On Civil Rights

NEW YORK (AP)—A Negro leader conferred with President-elect John F. Kennedy Friday and said afterward he is satisfied the incoming chief executive will support all the Democratic platform pledges on civil rights.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said this includes a pledge to change the Senate rules to make it easier to shut off filibusters against civil rights legislation.

Wilkins spent almost an hour with Kennedy.

"I just wanted to talk about plans for civil rights," Wilkins told newsmen.

"I am satisfied that he understands the importance and the place of civil rights, and that his administration will support all the pledges of the platform."

Wilkins also was questioned about the opposition of Sens. Willis Robertson, D-a., and John Sparkman, D-Ala., to Kennedy's appointment of a Negro civil rights leader, Robert F. Weaver of New York, as chief of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Wilkins alluded to the fact they are Southern Democrats and said their opposition to Weaver was to be expected.

Stocks Turn Irregular In Late Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — The final hour proved once again Friday the deciding factor on Wall Street as late buyers turned a lower stock market irregular at the close.

Oils, gold shares, rails and a raft of specials served as a upside prop while most steels, motors and other recent favorities gave up small amounts.

The Dow-Jones industrial average lost 1.03 at 621.64, but this was largely because Proctor & Gamble dropped 2¾. The overall list looked a lot better with advances outnumbering declines by 547 to 473 out of a total of 1,256 issues traded.

In addition, volume shrank to 3,620,000 shares from 4,130,000 Thursday although increasing sharply during the final hour when prices were rising. New highs ran to 32 while Midland Enterprises registered the only new low of the day.

The Rail average gained 0.51 to 135.65 with New Haven up ½ at 3½ and Atlantic Coast Line and B&O ahead almost a point. Texas & Pacific, not in the average, rose a whopping 8½ points to 80½. Utility stocks rose 0.23 to 100.83. Peoples Gas added 1⅜.

Steels were helped up from their lows by news that output in the Youngstown district next week would rise a bit. Youngstown managed to gain ¾ but National Steel lost 2½. Motors lost fractions following reports of production cutbacks. Most oils were up all day but received an additional buying spurt near the final bell with gains running to 2 points in Texas Gulf Producing and Plymouth.

Gold shares firmed around a point on reports of more gold flowing out of the country and the nation's stocks of the metal touching the lowest point since January, 1940.

Former Franklin Teacher Dies

WINNSBORO (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. Joseph B. Cordill Sr., 74, of Crowville, will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday at Mulhearn Funeral Home chapel, Winnsboro.

Mrs. Cordill, a former school teacher in Franklin Parish schools, died early Friday morning in a Winnsboro sanitarium, after a short illness.

Survivors include two sons, Charles C. Cordill, Winnsboro; Joseph B. Cordill Jr., Shreveport one daughter, Mrs. S. A. Shaheen, Phoenix, Ariz.; and three grandchildren.

Russell Critical On Handling Of Electoral Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., complained in the Senate Friday that votes of the Electoral College were being handled "in a wholly unconstitutional manner."

He said the Constitution requires that sealed ballots from all the states go directly to the vice president, as presiding officer of the Senate, and had learned with surprise that these ballots were being handled by the General Services Administration, the government's big housekeeping agency.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican floor leader, broke in to say that the National Archives, which handles and stores most important government papers, was under GSA.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon told Russell that each state had sent two certified copies of its electoral vote to GSA which sent one copy on to the Senate.

Russell said that process should be reversed — that the Senate should first get the official sealed certificates and then turn them over to GSA.

Russell read to the Senate the parts of the Constitution concerned with the electoral vote, and said: "I am an old-fashioned person who happens to believe in the Constitution."

Roa Declares He Is Sure U.S. To Invade Cuba

NEW YORK (AP)—Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa declared Friday he is "sure" that the United States is about to invade Cuba.

Roa made the remark as he hurried toward a plane to take him back to Havana after attending United Nations meetings here.

"In all honesty, do you really believe the United States is about to invade Cuba?" a reporter asked.

"Yes, I am sure," Roa replied. "I always tell the truth, and we have proof."

Roa turned away to board his plane and a television reporter, with microphone in hand, repeated the question.

"I am sure," Roa said.

Thailand Leader Voices Concern On Laos Crisis

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thailand's Prime Minister Sarit Thanarat expressed concern Friday over what he called Western uncertainty in the Laos crisis. He declared the situation soon could get "completely out of hand."

His criticism seemed aimed at the council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization which met briefly at its Bangkok headquarters for the third time to discuss the Laos situation, then issued no statement.

Sarit, who returned to this capital from a seaside resort where he had been recuperating from influenza, expressed his concern at a news conference.

He said that continued indecision of the West over Laos may allow Thailand's neighbor to slip off into a position where it cannot be saved.

However, Sarit later told the Thai people the situation in Laos is "serious but not critical."

The feeling of tense urgency which pervaded in SEATO headquarters here all week appeared to be dissipating.

Some sources said this was apparently due to growing realization that SEATO will not be asked to supply military forces to halt Communist advances in Laos — at least until some other methods have been tried.

Traffic Judge Suit Is Filed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Bernard J. Fonseca, Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' appointee as judge of traffic court here, filed suit in state court Friday asking George M McCulloch Jr. to vacate the post.

McCulloch, named to the job by Mayor deLesseps Morrison, took his place on the bench Tuesday to replace Judge Howard J. Taylor, elevated to civil district court.

Judge Paul E. Chasez set Wednesday for a hearing on the suit after conference with the two attorneys.

Davis named Fonseca Sunday and Judge Oliver P. Schulingkamp administered him the oath of office. The State Senate confirmed the nomination Wednesday and Schulingkamp administered a second oath Thursday.

Morrison appointed McCulloch Sunday and he received the oath from Judge W. Blair Lancaster the same day. When both men appeared at traffic court Tuesday, Judge Paul Garofalo, on behalf of the municipal court judges, held McCulloch was entitled to the post.

Taylor's term has four years to run. The dispute arose because of vagueness in the state constitution over filling vacancies of more than one year.

8 Pounds Worth Of Turnip Stew

Mrs. Jill Rowell, secretary at a supply company on Louisville Ave., yesterday reported that she had come into possession of an eight - pound turnip which was rasied on a farm near Dunn.

She said she planned to make a stew out of it.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

In early dealings the market eased as light hedging and liquidation met only limited trade and local buying. Toward the close nearby months rallied on short covering. The balance of the market lagged on the upturn.

Most traders were on sidelines awaiting fresh developments in the spot cotton situation and farm legislation.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP)—Butcher hog prices were mostly 25 cents a hundredweight lower as the biggest Friday supply in four weeks went on sale.

The offerings of 6,500 head were 2,500 more than expected and except for a small lot which sold at $18.50, the mixed No. 1-2 and 1-3 grades moved at $17.75-18.25. Weights upward from 220 lbs cleared at $16.00 - 17.75. Sows topped at $15.50.

The slaughter steer market was strong on a small supply of mixed choice and prime grade which sold at $28.25-29.50. No sales of heifers or bulls were reported. A few good and choice vealers were $21-25

A meager supply of choice and prime wooled slaughter lambs sold at $17.50-18.50, some good and choice and $16 and up. Ewes were $5.00-6.00.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

PAY STOCK DIVIDENDS

NEW YORK (UPI)—A record 560 corporations paid stock dividends in 1960 compared with 502 in 1959, Standard & Poor's Corp. reported Friday.

The gain extended the upward trend of recent years that was temporarily broken in 1958, the statistical agency said.

AUTO OUTPUT DROPS

Production cutbacks and holiday shutdowns trimmed auto output in the U.S. to an estimated 70,900 units this week, down more than 92,000 from the corresponding week a year ago, Ward's Automotive Reports said. The reporting agency said the first week of 1961 signalled the start of a "grim" month of production.

REPORT AMERICAN SPENDING

American Express estimated that a record $2.5 billion was spent overseas last year by 1.7 million Americans. This would compare with $2.3 billion spent by 1.5 million Americans in 1958.

RETAIL SALES CLIMB

Retail sales in the nation last week climbed fractionally above the level of the 1960 weeks as gains in apparel and new car volume offset declines in major appliances, figures of Dun & Bradstreet showed. Total dollar volume of trade in the week ended Jan. 4 ranged from 1 per cent lower to 3 per cent higher than a year ago.

POTATOES

CHICAGO (AP)—(USDA)—Potatoes: Idaho russets 5.10; Minnesota North Dakota Red River Valley round reds 2.50-2.70.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures swung over their broadest price range in more than two years Friday and finished with gains running to more than five cents a bushel despite a late steep slide.

At times old crop contracts were up about eight cents a bushel in spots. All deliveries along with the by-products, soybean oil and soybean meal, traded at their highest levels of the season. Heavy profit cashing near the close trimmed the advances all along the line.

The grains also were fairly active at prices firm to strong. Among those March wheat was the leader and at a season high on a runup of 1¾ cents a bushel

Wheat finished ⅝-1¾ cents a bushel higher, March $2.12¼; corn ⅜-¾ higher, March $1.11⅞-12; oats ⅝-⅞ higher, March 67¼-⅜; rye ⅞-1 cent higher, March $1.19; soybeans ½-5½ cents higher, January $2.39½-40.

Negro Leader, Kennedy Talk On Civil Rights

NEW YORK (AP)—A Negro leader conferred with President-elect John F. Kennedy Friday and said afterward he is satisfied the incoming chief executive will support all the Democratic platform pledges on civil rights.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said this includes a pledge to change the Senate rules to make it easier to shut off filibusters against civil rights legislation.

Wilkins spent almost an hour with Kennedy.

"I just wanted to talk about plans for civil rights," Wilkins told newsmen.

"I am satisfied that he understands the importance and the place of civil rights, and that his administration will support all the pledges of the platform."

Wilkins also was questioned about the opposition of Sens. Willis Robertson, D-a., and John Sparkman, D-Ala., to Kennedy's appointment of a Negro civil rights leader, Robert F. Weaver of New York, as chief of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Wilkins alluded to the fact they are Southern Lemocrats and said their opposition to Weaver was to be expected.

Stocks Turn Irregular In Late Trading

Oils, gold shares, rails and a raft of specials served as a upside prop while most steels, motors and other recent favorities gave up small amounts.

The Dow-Jones industrial average lost 1.03 at 621.64, but this was largely because Proctor & Gamble dropped 2¾. The overall list looked a lot better with advances outnumbering declines by 547 to 473 out of a total of 1,256 issues traded.

In addition, volume shrank to 3,620,000 shares from 4,130,000 Thursday although increasing sharply during the final hour when prices were rising. New highs ran to 32 while Midland Enterprises registered the only new low of the day.

The Rail average gained 0.51 to 135.65 with New Haven up ½ at 3½ and Atlantic Coast Line and B&O ahead almost a point. Texas & Pacific, not in the average, rose a whopping 8½ points to 80½. Utility stocks rose 0.25 to 100.83. Peoples Gas added 1⅝.

Steels were helped up from their lows by news that output in the Youngstown district next week would rise a bit. Youngstown managed to gain ¾ but National Steel lost 2½. Motors lost fractions following reports of production cutbacks. Most oils were up all day but received an additional buying spurt near the final bell with gains running to 2 points in Texas Gulf Producing and Plymouth.

Gold shares firmed around a point on reports of more gold flowing out of the country and the nation's stocks of the metal touching the lowest point since January, 1940.

Outboard marine was the most actively traded stock with 139,200 shares and lost 1⅛.

Former Franklin Teacher Dies

WINNSBORO (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. Joseph B. Cordill Sr., 74, of Crowville, will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday at Mulhearn Funeral Home chapel, Winnsboro.

Mrs. Cordill, a former school teacher in Franklin Parish schools, died early Friday morning in a Winnsboro sanitarium, after a short illness.

Survivors include two sons, Charles C. Cordill, Winnsboro; Joseph B. Cordill Jr., Shreveport one daughter, Mrs. S. A. Shaheen, Phoenix, Ariz.; and three grandchildren.

Russell Critical On Handling Of Electoral Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., complained in the Senate Friday that votes of the Electoral College were being handled "in a wholly unconstitutional manner."

He said the Constitution requires that sealed ballots from all the states go directly to the vice president, as presiding officer of the Senate, and had learned with surprise that these ballots were being handled by the General Services Administration, the government's big housekeeping agency.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican floor leader, broke in to say that the National Archives, which handles and stores most important government papers, was under GSA.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon told Russell that each state had sent two certified copies of its electoral vote to GSA which sent one copy on to the Senate.

Russell said that process should be reversed — that the Senate should first get the official sealed certificates and then turn them over to GSA.

Russell read to the Senate the parts of the Constitution concerned with the electoral vote, and said: "I am an old-fashioned person who happens to believe in the Constitution."

Roa Declares He Is Sure U.S. To Invade Cuba

Roa made the remark as he hurried toward a plane to take him back to Havana after attending United Nations meetings here.

"In all honesty, do you really believe the United States is about to invade Cuba?" a reporter asked.

"Yes, I am sure," Roa replied. "I always tell the truth, and we have proof."

Roa turned away to board his plane and a television reporter, with microphone in hand, repeated the question.

"I am sure," Roa said.

Thailand Leader Voices Concern On Laos Crisis

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thailand's Prime Minister Sarit Thanarat expressed concern Friday over what he called Western uncertainty in the Laos crisis. He declared the situation soon could get "completely out of hand."

His criticism seemed aimed at the council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization which met briefly at its Bangkok headquarters for the third time to discuss the Laos situation, then issued no statement.

Sarit, who returned to this capital from a seaside resort where he had been recuperating from influenza, expressed his concern at a news conference.

He said that continued indecision of the West over Laos may allow Thailand's neighbor to slip off into a position where it cannot be saved.

However, Sarit later told the Thai people the situation in Laos is "serious but not critical."

The feeling of tense urgency which pervaded in SEATO headquarters here all week appeared to be dissipating.

Some sources said this was apparently due to growing realization that SEATO will not be asked to supply military forces to halt Communist advances in Laos — at least until some other methods have been tried.

Traffic Judge Suit Is Filed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Bernard J. Fonseca, Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' appointee as judge of traffic court here, filed suit in state court Friday asking George M McCulloch Jr. to vacate the post.

McCulloch, named to the job by Mayor deLesseps Morrison, took his place on the bench Tuesday to replace Judge Howard J. Taylor, elevated to civil district court.

Judge Paul E. Chasez set Wednesday for a hearing on the suit after conference with the two attorneys.

Davis named Fonseca Sunday and Judge Oliver P. Schulingkamp administered him the oath of office. The State Senate confirmed the nomination Wednesday and Schulingkamp administered a second oath Thursday.

Morrison appointed McCulloch Sunday and he received the oath from Judge W. Blair Lancaster the same day. When both men appeared at traffic court Tuesday, Judge Paul Garofalo, on behalf of the municipal court judges, held McCulloch was entitled to the post.

Taylor's term has four years to run. The dispute arose because of vagueness in the state constitution over filling vacancies of more than one year.

8 Pounds Worth Of Turnip Stew

Mrs. Jill Rowell, secretary at a supply company on Louisville Ave., yesterday reported that she had come into possession of an eight - pound turnip which was rasied on a farm near Dunn.

She said she planned to make a stew out of it.

Traffic Cases Heavy In City Court

Judge W. M. Harper fined a Negro girl a total of $75 in fines and sentenced her to 90 days compulsory jail sentence in Monroe municipal court yesterday.

The girl, Ruth T. Smith of 3901 Wiley St., was charged with not having a state driver's license, reckless driving and damage to property in the amount of approximately $950.

In other action, the Judge fined 11 persons for reckless driving, nine for overparking, five for public drunkeness and three on use of weapons charges.

Three men, involved in a fracas at a local private club, were fined $50 each and court costs for use of weapons (boots). They include Fred Allen Gates, Route Two, Farmerville; Bill Townsend. Route Four, West Monroe; and Boyce Kilcrease, Route Two, Farmerville.

A charge of theft of a phonograph valued at $39.95 netted a $350 fine for Jessie Mae Harris, Negro of 2401 Calypso St. A charge of theft by check in the amount of $10 against George B. Crawley of 2913 Lee Ave., brought a 60 day compulsory jail sentence for him.

A Negro, Peter Burrell of 1504 Wallace St. was fined $25 and costs for fighting. Another Negro, A. D. Staten of 203 North 19th St. paid $50 and costs for public drunkenness, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

Judge Harper fined Loretta Rogers, Negro of 1506½ Rear Washington St. $25 and costs for disturbing the peace.

Fined for public drunkenness were Sam Smith, Point; Albert Upshaw, Bastrop; Guy L. Russell, Mississippi; John C. Gordon, 2116 Texas Ave.; and Troy Case, no permanent address. They were fined $25 and court costs each.

The eleven persons fined for reckless driving include Kenneth G. Coker, 1412 South Tenth St.; Louis Turner, 2222 Short Washington St.; Charles McClelland, Winnsboro; Ray Harvy, Route Four; Marshall McDonald, Route One, West Monroe; Joellyn Thompson, 1500 Fairview Ave.; and Negroes John Gardner, 604 Goldman St.; Benjamin Lyons, 1707 Boots St.; Bishop Potts, 3814 Gayton St.; John Russell, 1001 North Sixth St., West Monroe; and Elliott L. Williams, 404 North 23rd St.

Two persons were fined for running stop signs. They were Lavalle Brewster, Negro of Bernice, and Donald R. Colson of 3908 Grammont St. Three fined for speeding were Roy K. Fisher, 1303 North Third St.; Joseph D. Johnson, 1408 Standifer St.; and James L. Peters, 2803 South Grand St.

In other action, Mattie Fisher of 4011 Lee Ave. was fined for turning where prohibited; Lenard Figgins, 101 South 19th St. was fined for running a red light; Leon Handy, 808 Atkinson St. was fined for going down a one way street the wrong way; and Negro Marlin Turner of 2900 Louberta St. was fined for following too close in traffic.

Fined for overparking were Raymound Howard, Sterlington Drive: Louise Castle, 907 South Seventh St.; T. B. Grayson, 2017 Francis Place; Francis Richardson, 302 Layton St.; Robert Wilkins, 611 Riggs St., West Monroe; and Marvin Barnes, 308 Hall St.

Traffic Cases Heavy In City Court

Judge W. M. Harper fined a Negro girl a total of $75 in fines and sentenced her to 90 days compulsory jail sentence in Monroe municipal court yesterday.

The girl, Ruth T. Smith of 3901 Wiley St., was charged with not having a state driver's license, reckless driving and damage to property in the amount of approximately $950.

In other action, the Judge fined 11 persons for reckless driving, nine for overparking, five for public drunkeness and three on use of weapons charges.

Three men, involved in a fracas at a local private club, were fined $50 each and court costs for use of weapons (boots). They include Fred Allen Gates, Route Two, Farmerville; Bill Townsend, Route Four, West Monroe; and Boyce Kilcrease, Route Two, Farmerville.

A charge of theft of a phonograph valued at $39.95 netted a $350 fine for Jessie Mae Harris, Negro of 2401 Calypso St. A charge of theft by check in the amount of $10 against George B. Crawley of 2913 Lee Ave., brought a 60 day compulsory jail sentence for him.

A Negro, Peter Burrell of 1504 Wallace St. was fined $25 and costs for fighting. Another Negro, A. D. Staten of 203 North 19th St. paid $50 and costs for public drunkenness, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

Andrew Robinson, Negro of 105 Morton St. was fined $25 and costs on a charge of public drunkeness and $75 and costs for indecent exposure.

Fined for public drunkenness were Sam Smith, Point; Albert Upshaw, Bastrop; Guy L. Russell, Mississippi; John C. Gordon, 2116 Texas Ave.; and Troy Case, no permanent address. They were fined $25 and court costs each.

The eleven persons fined for reckless driving include Kenneth G. Coker, 1412 South Tenth St.; Louis Turner, 2222 Short Washington St.; Charles McClelland, Winnsboro; Ray Harvy, Route Four; Marshall McDonald, Route One, West Monroe; Joellyn Thompson, 1500 Fairview Ave.; and Negroes John Gardner, 604 Goldman St.; Benjamin Lyons, 1707 Boots St.; Bishop Potts, 3814 Gayton St.; John Russell, 1001 North Sixth St., West Monroe; and Elliott L. Williams, 404 North 23rd St.

Two persons were fined for running stop signs. They were Lavalle Brewster, Negro of Bernice, and Donald R. Colson of 3908 Grammont St. Three fined for speeding were Roy K. Fisher, 1303 North Third St.; Joseph D. Johnson, 1408 Standifer St.; and James L. Peters, 2803 South Grand St.

In other action, Mattie Fisher of 4011 Lee Ave. was fined for turning where prohibited; Lenard Figgins, 101 South 19th St. was fined for running a red light; Leon Handy, 808 Atkinson St. was fined for going down a one way street the wrong way; and Negro Marlin Turner of 2900 Louberta St. was fined for following too close in traffic.

Fined for overparking were Raymound Howard, Sterlington Drive; Louise Castle, 907 South Seventh St.; T. B. Grayson, 2017 Francis Place; Francis Richardson, 302 Layton St.; Robert Wilkins, 611 Riggs St., West Monroe; and Marvin Barnes, 308 Hall St.
